GIANT LINER TITANIC SINKS AFTER STRIKING AN ICEBERG 1,800 LIVES LOST

PARTIAL LIST OF-THOSE SAVED FROM TITANIC

Wireless Messages From the Carpathia Give Names of a Few Survivors.

NAMES OF BUT FEW MEN APPEAR IN THE LIST

Among the Men Is Bruce Ismay—The List Is Made Up Almost Entirely of Women and Children--Archie Butt's Name Is Not Included in the List.

Boston, April 15.—A wireless message picked up late tonight relayed from the Olympic says that the Carpathia is on her way to New York with 866 passengers from the steamship Titanic aboard. They are mostly women and children, the message said, and it concluded:

"Grave fears are felt for the safety of the balance of the passengers and crew."

PARTIAL LIST OF PASSENGERS SAVED BY STEAMER CARPATHIA

Cape Race, Newfoundland, April 15.—Following is a partial list of the first cabin passengers who were rescued from the Titanic:

Mrs. Edward W. Appleton, Mrs. Rose Abbott, Miss G. M. Burns, Miss D. D. Cassebero, Mrs. William M. Clarke, Mrs. B. Chibinace, Miss E. G. Crossbie Miss H. E. Crossbie, Miss Jean Hippach, Mrs. Henry B. Harris (wireless version Mrs. L. Y. B. Harris), Hrs. Alex Halverson, Miss Margaret Hays, Mr. Bruce Ismay, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Kimberly, Mr. F. A. Kenyman, Miss Emile Kenchen, Miss G. F. Longley, Miss A. F. Leader, Miss Bertha Lavory, Mrs. Ernest Llves, Mrs. Susan P. Rogerson, Miss Emily B. Rogerson, Mrs. Arthur Rogerson, Master Allison and nurse, Miss K. T. Andrews, Miss Ninette Panfort, Miss E. W. Allen, Mr. and Mrs. D. Bishop, Miss Mary Clines, Mrs. Singrid Lindstrem, Mr. Gustav J. Lesueur, Miss Georgietta Amadill, Madame Melicard, Mrs. Tucker and maid, Mrs. J. B. Thayer, Mr. J. B. Thayer, Jr., Mr. H. Woolmer, Miss Anna Ward, Mr. Rich M. William, Mrs. J. Steward White, Miss Marie Young, Mrs. Thomas Potter, Jr., Mrs. Edna S. Roberts, Mr. H. Blank, Miss A. Basina, Mrs. James Baxter, Mr. George A. Bayton, Miss C. Bonnell, Mrs. J. M. Brown, Miss G. C. Bowen, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Beckwith, Countess of Rothes, Mr. C. R. Olmane, Mrs. Jacob P. —— (word missing).

The above list was received by wireless at Cape Race Station from the steamer Carpathia. In spelling and initials, it does not correspond with the list as cabled from London today.

Mistakes were due to the hurried wireless transmission and relays. In one instance, a Mrs. L. Y. B. Harris is named in the wireless list, but on the passenger list as announced here there was only a Mrs. Henry B. Harris, and there were a number of similar discrepancies.

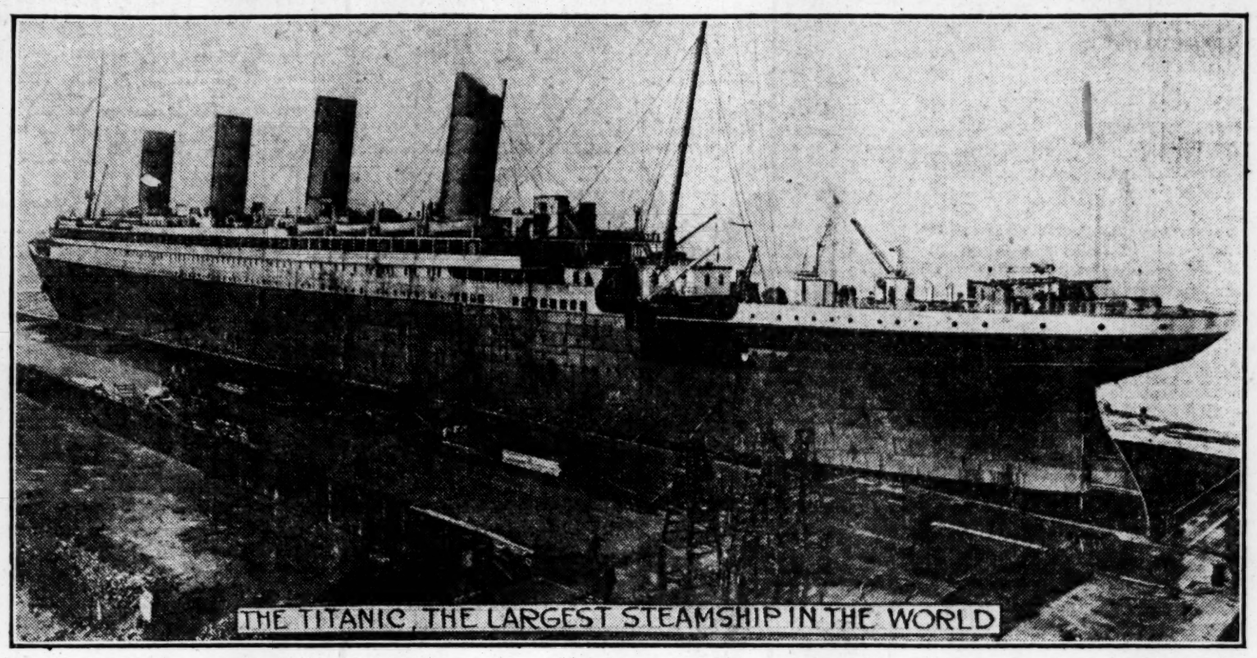

MORE NAMES OF SURVIVORS ARE REPORTED BY WIRELESS

Boston, April 15.—Among the names of survivors of the Titanic picked up by wireless from the steamer Carpathia here tonight were the following:

Mr. and Mrs. L. Henry, Mrs. W. A. Hooper, Mr. Mile, Mr. J. Flynn, Miss Alice Fortune, Mrs. Robert Douglas, Miss Hilda Slayter, Mrs. P. Smith, Mrs. Braham, Miss Lucille Carter, William Carter, Miss Roberts, Miss Cummins, Mrs. Florence Mare, Miss Alice Phillips, Mrs. Paula Mungo, Miss Rosie ——, Miss Mary ——, Mrs. Jane ——, Miss Bertha ——,

(Last four names were missed.)

ILL-FATED TITANIC AT THE BOTTOM OF THE SEA

THE TITANIC, THE LARGEST STEAMSHIP IN THE WORLD

The White Star Liner Titanic, the largest vessel afloat, collided Sunday night with an iceberg off the coast of Newfoundland while on her maiden voyage from Southampton, England, to New York, and sunk in a few hours. The Titanic was of 46,328 tons register, with a displacement of 66,000 tons. Her total length was 882 feet 6 inches, her breadth was 92 feet 6 inches, and she was 175 feet from the keel to the smokestacks. She had eleven decks, which is equal to what was called a skyscraper a few year ago. The vessel could carry 4,000 persons, including passengers and crew, and this in spite of the fact that the state rooms were unusually spacious, beds taking the place of bunks in most of the apartments. Two regal suites on the Titanic cost $4,350 each for the trip, the occupants having a private promenade deck on which they could have as much privacy as on the piazza of their own home. When the huge ship left Southampton April 10 she passed near the New York, of the American line, and the tremendous suction developed by the passage of the leviathan caused the seven hawsers holding the New York to snap and turn that vessel loose. She was pushed back into her dock without mishap. Simultaneously with the ill-fated first voyage of the Titanic comes the information that the North German Lloyd line has let a contract for a vessel that will eclipse the White Star Liner. The boat to be built will have a registered tonnage of 54,000 and will be more than 900 feet long. In the meantime the Hamburg-American line is building the Imperator, which will be 50,000 tons and will be in service within a few months. To show the tremendous advance made in the building of ocean greyhounds in recent yegrs it may be said that the Titanti was nearly four times as large as the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse, which ten years ago was one of the largest, finest and fastest boats in service.

GREAT WHITE STAR LINER WAS CRUSHED BY ICEBERG AND SOON WENT TO BOTTOM

The Titanic Crashed Into Iceberg at 10:45 Sunday Night and Went to Ocean Grave at 2:20 Monday Morning.

SCENE OF UTTER DESOLATION GREETED THE RESCUE STEAMERS THAT ANSWERED "C. Q. D." CALL

When These Vessels Reached the Place Where the Accident Occurred the Titanic Was Deep in Her Ocean Grave, and Only Bits of Wreckage Were to Be Seen. Nearly 700 of the Passengers, Mostly Women and Children, Had Taken to Boats and Were Picked Up. The Titanic Went to the Bottom Four Hours Before Any Vessel Reached the Place Where the Giant Ship Struck Iceberg.

COL. ROOSEVELT PARTY WRECKER

So He's Styled in Statement From Taft Headquarters.

Washington, April 15.—A statement in part as follows, was issued from the national Taft bureau today, after a visit to the white house of officials of the president's campaign headquarters:

"Former President Roosevelt, in his campaign for renomination for a third term in the white house, is conducting an organized propaganda to wreck the republican party. No word or deed has, up to this time, been too mendacious or too mean, either on his own part, or on the part of his understrappers, to accomplish the recognized end they have in view.

"Mr. Roosevelt himself has denounced by name the republican leaders of New York state, who now oppose him for a third term, regardless of the fact that he accepted, to the full, their support for governor, for vice president, and president of the United States.

"The deliberate, reckless and mendacious campaign of Theodore Roosevelt for the wrecking of the republican party is called to the attention of the country in order that the issues hereafter may not be misunderstood."

866 TITANIC PASSENGERS REPORTED ON CARPATHIA; THIS CUTS CASUALTY ROLL

New York, April 16.—While the fate of the majority of the 2,100 persons on board the mammoth White Star liner Titanic, which sank early Monday morning on the Newfoundland banks, after a collision with an iceberg, still remains in doubt, and it is feared more than 1,200 persons were lost, a note of good cheer came from the oceanways by wireless between 1 and 2 o'clock this morning.

866 Passengers Rescued.

It was in the shape of a wireless message from the White Star liner Olympic, one of the vessels hovering near the scene of the disaster, flashing the news that 866 of the Titanic's passengers, mostly women and children, were being brought to port by the Cunarder Carpathia. Other messages later brought confirmatory tidings.

First reports were that the Carpathia had saved but 675 persons. The new figures reduced the list of those for whose fate fear was felt by nearly 200, and, if as seems probable, practically all those saved were passengers, it would appear that all but approximately 450 of the vessel's passengers are accounted for. A partial list of the survivors received from the Carpathia included the names of many women of prominence who were on the steamer.

After the first desperate calls of the Titanic for help had been sent flying through space and brought steamers for hundreds of miles around speeding to the scene, what seems to have been an impenetrable wall of silence was raised between her and the anxious world. The giant liner, so far as last night's advices appear, went to her fate without so much as a whisper of what must have been the scenes of the terrible targedy enacted in her decks.

Not a Note of Hope.

Other than the news that 866 persons, mostly women and children, had been rescued from the liner's boats by the Cunarder Carpathia, several hours passed without a word as to the fate of the remainder of those on board at the time of the fateful crash. Along the entire Atlantic coast wireless instruments were tuned to catch from any source the slightest whisper of hope that possibly might come from one of the many steamships which rushed to the assistance of the srticken Titan of the seas. But from none of the ships reported to be at or near the scene of what, viewed in the light of probabilities, may be recorded as the world's greatest marine horror, came the slightest syllable of encouragement to the anxiously waiting world.

The Titanic herself lies buried two miles beneath the ocean's surface, midway between Sable Island and Cape Race. Her position when she struck the iceberg was given as latitude 41.36 north, longtitude 50.14 west.

It seems established that there were about 2,100 persons on the liner. This was the estimate of the line officials in New York, who gave the number of passengers as 1,320, the remainder of 860 making up the crew.

UNTOLD RICHES REPRESENTED ON THE TITANIC

Many of the Multi-Millionaires of America Were Passengers on the Steamer.

New York, April 15.—Untold wealth was represented among the passengers of the Titanic, there being on board at least six men each of whose fortunes might be reckoned in tens of millions of dollars. A rough estimate of the total wealth represented in the first-class passenger list would reach over a half billion dollars.

The wealthiest of the list was Colonel John Jacob Astor, head of the famous house whose name he bears, who is reputed to be worth $150,000,000. Mr. Astor was returning from a tour of Egypt with his bride, who was Miss Madeline Force, to whom he was married in Providence on September 9.

B. Guggenheim a Passenger.

Benjamin Guggenheim, probably next in financial importance, is the fifth of the seven sons of Meyer Guggenheim, who founded the American Smelting and Refining Company, the great mining corporation, and is a director of many corporations, including the International Pump Company, of which

Probably 1,800 Lives Were Lost

New York, April 15.—The text of the message from the steamship Olympic, reporting the sinking of the Titanic and the rescue of 675 survivors, which reached here late tonight, also expressed the opinion that 1,800 lives were lost.

"The loss likely totals 1,800 souls," the dispatch said in its concluding sentence.

The Olympic's dispatch follows:

"Carpathia reached Titanic position at daybreak. Found boats and wreckage only. Titanic sank about 2:20 a. m. in 41:16 north, 50:14 west. All her boats accounted for, containing about 675 souls saved, crew and passengers included. Nearly all saved women and children. Leyland liner Californian remained and searching exact position of disaster. Loss likely to total 1,800 souls."

New York, April 15.—More than 1,500 persons, it is feared, sank to death early Monday morning, when, within less than four hours after she crashed into an iceberg, the mammoth White Star Line steamship Titanic, bound from Liverpool to New York, on her maiden voyage, went to the bottom off the Newfoundland banks.

Of the approximately 2,200 persons on board the giant liner, some of them of world-wide prominence, only 675 are known to have been saved. The White Star Line offices in New York, while keeping up hope to the last, were free to admit that there had been "horrible loss of life."

DISASTER IS SAID TO BE GREATEST IN MARINE HISTORY OF WORLD

Accepting the early estimates of the fatality list as accurate, the disaster is the greatest in the marine history of the world. Nearest approaching it in magnitude were the disasters to the steamship Atlantic in 1873, when 574 lives were lost and La Bourgogne in 1898, with a fatality list of 571.

Should it prove that other liners, notably the Allan liners Parisian and Virginian, known to have been in the vicinity of the Titanic early yesterday, had picked up other of her passengers, the extent of the calamity would be greatly reduced. This hope still remains.

NEWS OF THE DISASTER SHOCKING OWING TO EARLY HOPEFUL REPORTS

News of the sinking of the liner and the terrible loss of life in consequence came early this evening with all the greater shock because hope had been buoyed up all day by reports that the steamship, although badly damaged, was not in a sinking condition and that all her passengers had been safely taken off. The messages were mostly unofficial, however, and none came direct from the liner, so a lurking fear remained of possible bad news to come.

Shortly after 7 o'clock tonight there came flashing over the wires from Cape Race, within 400 miles of which the liner had struck the iceberg, word that at 2:20 o'clock Monday morning, three hours and fifty-five minutes after receiving her death blow, the Titanic had sunk.

WHEN CARPATHIA REACHED SCENE TITANIC WAS AT THE BOTTOM

The news came from the steamship Carpathia, relayed by the White Star liner Olympic, and revealed that by the time the Carpathia, outward bound from New York and racing for the Titanic on a wireless call, reached the scene the doomed vessel had sunk.

Left on the surface, however, were life-boats from the Titanic and in them, as appears from the meager reports received up to

ARCHIE BUTT'S FATE IN DOUBT

Major Archibald Butt, aide to President Taft, was a passenger on the Titanic. Major Butt is a Georgian, with hundreds of friends who will greatly grieve if it develops that he went down with the steamer.

FRANTIC MEN AND WOMEN BESIEGE WHITE STAR OFFICES

New York, April 15.—News of the probable terrible loss of life in the sinking of the Titanic was limited in its circulation in the early evening, but by 9 o'clock it had brought a good crowd of persons to the White Star Line offices. Women were in tears, and men were frantic after their pica for assuring news was met with the frank admission that very little was known of the fate of passengers who were not in the first or second cabin.

By midnight Bowling Green, in front of the White Star Line offices, was the parking place of many automobiles of prominent residents of the city awaiting first-hand information. Wealth and society rubbed elbows with poverty in the crowd that besieged the steamship line officials, and both classes were in deep grief.

Women in Hysterics.

There were many instances of handsomely gowned women going into hysterics when the hopeful reports of the afternoon were blasted with the news that probably only 675 persons had been saved.

Vincent Astor, only son of Colonel John Jacob Astor, accompanied by A. J. Biddle, of Philadelphia, and Colonel Astor's secretary, were among the crowd at the offices, and left with tears in their eyes after a fifteen minutes' conference with Vice President Franklin. Relatives of other prominent passengers had similar conferences with Mr. Franklin and came away dejected.

Police reserves had to be called to several sections of the city tonight to control crowds gathered around newspaper bulletin boards for news of the Titanic.

Stunned Gay Broadway.

The disaster stunned the gay Broadway district, as perhaps no disaster ever had so completely before, for many of those who poured out of the theaters had friends on the steamer. The newspaper district was crowded till after midnight.

Prayers for the safety of the passengers aboard the Titanic were said today at the afternoon conference of the Men and Religion Forward Movement in this city. William T. Stead, the journalist and Rev. J. Seward Holden, of London, who were among the Titanic's passengers, were on their way here to make addresses before the conference.

GIANT WHITE STAR LINER WAS INSURED FOR $5,000,000

London, April 15.—The Titanic was insured at Lloyds for $5,000,000.

No definite information is obtainable as to the amount of valuables on board but it is generally understood that the vessel took diamonds of the estimated value of $5,000,000, consigned to dealers. She also took a large amount of bonds. A member of a prominent firm of underwriters said:

"Even if the Titanic reaches port her owners will have to calculate on a loss of at least $750,000, but if she becomes a total loss it will be an extremely serious matter.

"The vessel cost $10,000,000 to build. Her hull is valued for insurance purposes at $5,000,000. There are all sorts of miscellaneous matters to be taken into account for disbursements and for passage money and freights paid in advance, as well as for stores, baggage and other things."

C. F. VON HERRMANN, Section Director.

late hour, were some 675 survivors of the disaster. These, according to the advices, the Carpathia picked up and is now on her way with them to New York.

For the rest, the scene as the Carpathia came up was one of desolation. All that remained of the $10,000,000 floating palace, on which nearly 1,400 passengers had been voyaging luxuriously to this side of the Atlantic, were some bits of wreckage. The biggest ship in the world had gone down, snuffing out in her downward plunge, it appears, hundreds of human lives.

NEARLY ALL OF THOSE RESCUED SAID TO BE WOMEN AND CHILDREN

A significant line in the Cape Race dispatch was the announcement that of those saved by the Carpathia nearly all were women and children. Should it prove that no other vessel picked up any passengers of the sinking liner this might mean that few of the men on board have been saved, as the proportion of women and children among the passengers was large. The same facts would likewise spell the doom of practically the entire crew of about 860.

In the cabins were 230 women and children, but it is not known how many there were among the 740 third-class passengers.

In the first cabin there were 128 women and 15 children, and in the second cabin 79 women and 8 children.

FATE OF MANY NOTABLE PERSONS STILL INVOLVED IN MUCH DOUBT

Notable persons, travelers on the Titanic, whose fate was in doubt in the lack of advice as to the identity of the survivors, were Mr. and Mrs. John Jacob Astor, Major Archibald Butt, Charles M. Hays, president of the Grand Trunk Pacific of Canada, his wife and daughter; W. T. Snead, Benjamin Guggenheim, F. D. Millet, the artist, and J. G. Widener of Philadelphia, Mr. and Mrs. Isidor Straus, J. B. Thayer, vice president of the Pennsylvania railroad; J. Bruce Ismay, Henry B. Harris, the theatrical manager, and Mrs. Harris, and Colonel Washington Roebling, builder of the Brooklyn bridge.

ONE FAINT RAY OF HOPE APPEARS TO CHEER RELATIVES AND FRIENDS

A ray of hope appeared shortly before 11 o'clock tonight, in a message to New York from the operator at the Marconi wireless station at Sable Island, near the scene of the disaster. Answering an inquiry regarding the delivery of wireless messages to the passengers on the Titanic the operator reported that it was difficult to deliver them, "as the passengers are believed to be dispersed among several vessels."

Even this faint indication that other vessels than the Carpathia had picked up survivors of the Titanic was eagerly seized upon by thousands of relatives and friends of those who had started on her for this country.

SKETCH OF ARCHIE BUTT, WHO MAY HAVE PERISHED

Washington, April 15.—(Special.)—Major Archibald W. Butt, for whose safety grave fears are felt in connection with the Titanic disaster, is the military aid of the president. He is a Georgian by birth, connected with a prominent old colonial family, and is now in his forty-sixth year. He had been in Rome on a vacation trip, following a hard year's work. It was reported that he would be married upon his return to Miss Williams, of Washington, a sister-in-law of Joseph Leiter, to whom he was supposed to be engaged.

Major Butt was appointed captain and quartermaster in the volunteer corps in 1900, and was commissioned an officer in the regular army the following year. He made a most creditable record during the Philippine insurrection, and his appointment as aid to General Funston during the second Cuban occupation was made at the request of the latter.

President Roosevelet selected Captain Butt as his military aid about a year before leaving the white house, and became much attached to him. It will be recalled that Major Butt accompanied President Roosevelt on the horseback ride of 100 miles, completed in one day, to test the president's theory that army officers should be required to keep in such physical condition as to be able to make 30 miles a day for three days. Surgeon General Rixey, of the navy, was the third member of the party.

When President Taft entered the white house he retained Major Butt as his military aid, and sent him with a farewell letter to Mr. Roosevelt on the latter's departure for Africa in 1909.

Major Butt was one of the best-known figures in the life of Washington. He made all the introductions at white house receptions, and was the inseparable companion of President Taft during his hours of work and relaxation. He was immensely popular.

PRESIDENT TAFT ANXIOUS ABOUT MAJOR ARCHIE BUTT

Washington, April 15.—President Taft was in great anxiety tonight for news of his aide, Captain Archibald Butt, who was on the Titanic. The president had frequent inquiries made of the newspaper offices and the steamship agency.

New York, April 15.—The following message from President Taft was received by Vice President Franklin:

"Have you any information concerning Major Butt? If you will communicate at once, would greatly appreciate."

The answer was:

"Sorry to say, I have no definite information. As soon as received, will notify you."

LIFE INSURANCE COMPANIES

They Are Closely Observing Public Health Conditions

An examining physician for one of the prominent Life Insurance Companies, in an interview on the subject, made the astonishing statement that the reason why so many applicants for insurance are rejected is because kidney trouble is so common to the American people, and the large majority of applicants do not even suspect that they have the disease.

He states that judging from his own experience and reports from druggists who are constantly in direct touch with the public, there is one preparation that has probably been more successful in relieving and curing these diseases than any remedy known. The mild and healing influence of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its remarkable record of cures.

We find that Swamp-Root is strictly an herbal compound and we would advise our readers who feel in need of such a remedy to give it a trial. It is on sale at all drug stores in bottles of two sizes—fifty-cents and one-dollar.

However, if you wish first to test its wonderful merits, send to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle, absolutely free. When writing be sure and mention The Atlanta Daily Constitution.

NOTABLE MARINE TRAGEDIES RECALLED BY THE TITANIC

Among the important marine disasters recorded are:

1866, January 11—Steamer London on her way to Melbourne, foundered in the Bay of Biscay; 220 lives lost.

1867, October 29—Royal Mail steamers Rhone and Wye and about 50 other vessels driven ashore and wrecked at St. Thomas, West Indies, by a hurricane; about 1,000 lives lost.

1873, January 22—British steamer Northfleet sunk in collision off Dungeness; 300 lives lost.

1873, November 23—White Star Atlantic wrecked off Nova Scotia; 547 lives lost.

1874, December 26—Emigrant vessel Cespatrick took fire and sank off Auckland; 476 lives lost.

1878, March 24—British training ship Urydice, a frigate, foundered near the Isle of Wight; 300 lives lost.

1878, September 3—British iron steamer Princess Allice sank in collision in the Thames river; 700 lives lost.

1878, December 17—French steamer Byzantin sunk in collision with the British steamer Rinaldo in the Dardanelles; 210 lives lost.

1880, January 31—British training ship Atlanta left Bermuda with 290 men and was never heard from.

1887, January 29—Steamer Kapunda in collision with bark Ada Melore off coast of Brazil; 300 lives lost.

1887, November 15—British steamer Wah Young caught fire between Canton and Hongkong; 400 lives lost.

1890, February 17—British steamer Duburg wrecked in the China Sea; 400 lives lost.

1890, September 19—Turkish frigate Ertegrul foundered off Japan; 540 lives lost.

1891, March 17—Anchor liner Utopia in collision with British steamer Anson off Gibraltar and sunk; 574 lives lost.

1892, January 13—Steamer Namehow wrecked in China Sea; 414 lives lost.

1894, June 25—Steamer Norge wrecked on Rockfall Reef in the North Atlantic; 600 lives lost.

1895, January 30—German steamer Elbe sunk in collision with British steamer Crathie in North Sea; 335 lives lost.

1895, March 11—Spanish cruiser Reina Regenta foundered in the Atlantic at entrance to Mediterranean, 400 lives lost.

1898, July 4—French line steamer La Bourgogne in collision with British sailing vessel Cromartyshire; 571 lives lost.

1898, February 15—United States battleship Maine blown up in Havana harbor; 260 lives lost.

1904, June 15—General Slocum, excursion steamer, took fire going through Hell Gate, East river; more than 1,000 lives lost.

1906, January 21—Brazilian battleship Aquidaban sunk near Rio Janeiro by an explosion of the powder magazines; 212 lives lost.

1906, August 4—Italian emigrant ship Sirio struck a rock off Cape Palos; 35 lives lose.

1907, July 20—American steamers Columbia and San Pedro collided on the California coast; 100 lives lost.

1908, March 23—Japanese steamer Mutsu Maru sunk in collision near Hakodato; 300 lives lost.

1908, April 30—Japanese training cruiser Matsu Shima sunk off the Pescadores owing to an explosion; 200 lives lost.

1909, January 22—Collision between the Italian steamer Florida and the White Star liner Republic about 170 miles east of New York during a fog; a large number of lives were saved by the arrival of the steamer Baltic which received the wireless distress signal sent out by the Republic operator. The Republic sank while being towed; six lives lost.

1909, August 1—British steamer Waratah from Sydney via Port Natal for London last heard from leaving Port Natal on July 26; 300 lives lost.

1911, January 7—French battleship Liberte sunk by explosion in Toulon harbor; 233 lives lost.

LLOYDS THROWN INTO PANIC BY LOSS OF GIANT STEAMER

London, April 16.—A despatch from Liverpool says White Star officials have received information from the Olympic many of the passengers and crew of the Titanic were saved. This is the only news that has not come direct from New York as far as known here.

Most of the London newspapers went to press this morning believing the Titanic had been saved and writing under this impression, call attention to the absence of any dry dock on the American seaboard large enough to accommodate such a vessel and also to the coincidence of accidents happening to the sister ships Olympic and Titanic.

Exciting scenes were witnessed at Lloyds yesterday. Insurance losses in the last six months have been unparalleled in the history of Lloyds in liners of the biggest class. Since the Olympic collision both the Delhi and Oceana have been wrecked and now comes the disaster to the Titanic. When business opened there was a rush to reinsure. Fifty guineas per cent was charged and this rapidly rose to sixty, but later dropped to twenty-five on news that the Titanic was being towed to Halifax.

It is understood there was no specie aboard the liner, but large insurances had been written on diamonds and other valuables in her cargo.

FIRST-CLASS PASSENGER LIST CARRIES WELL-KNOWN NAMES

London, April 15.—The first-class passenger list of the steamship Titanic is as follows:

Miss E. W. Allen, H. J. Allison, wife, daughter, son, maid and nurse, Harry Anderson, Miss Cornelia I. Andrews, Thomas Andrews, Mrs. E. D. DEATH AND RUIN IN FLOOD'S WAKE

Tallulah, La., April 15.—The height of the flood waters of the Mississippi pouring with increasing force through the Dog Tail crevasse is already far in excess of any previous similar catastrophe this afternoon, and the people of the southern part of the district, in Tensas and Concordia parishes, must be prepared for the worst flood in the history of the Mississippi river.

Wind and Rain Storm Rages.

To add to the already terrible situation in Tallulah and the surrounding country, a wind and rain storm raged all morning, with a record rainfall of six inches in ten hours. The people are working frantically to save the remaining half of the town of Tallulah but early this afternoon the water continued to rise at the rate of two inches an hour.

The breach at Salem or Dog Tail levee was this afternoon reported to be more than a mile and a half wide, and the great bulk of the upper flood waters are rushing out over this valley.

Scenes here are almost indescribable. High water is everywhere as far as the eye can see, and is from 10 to 15 feet deep in North Tallulah. The inhabitants are in need of food supplies, other than those sent here from Vicksburg. Unless immediate relief is received the suffering of those without places to stay will be intense.

Negroes in Panic.

The white people of Tallulah are meeting the crisis with a calmness and determination to fight to the last. In direct contrast, the negroes are all excitement in their frantic efforts to save their small belongings from the on-rushing flood. Squealing pigs being led by their dusky owners from the advancing water and barking dogs excited by the unusual scene, combined with the excitement of the negroes, some of whom showed plainly their distress, while others continued their care-free ways, made the scenes enacted on the streets of Tallulah throughout last night one never to be forgotten.

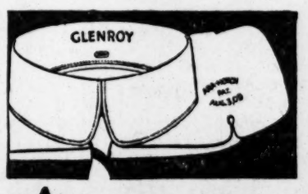

The first water from the Salem levee break near Alsatia showed up in the northern limits of Tallulah about 7 o'clock Sunday morning. By 10 o'clock last night the whole north side of the town was under from four to twelve feet of water, which was still rising. Water is now in nearly all of the business houses north of the Vicksburg, Shreveport and Pacific railroad.

Stores Were Flooded.

A levee built around a portion of the business district soon gave way and the stores inside were flooded. Though Sunday, no one witnessing the scene being enacted would think it that day. Business houses of all kinds were kept open during the Sabbath day, while men and women worked heroically placing goods on scaffolds and on shelves out of the water's reach.

Some of the homeless found refuge in the courthouse, which is now surrounded by water; others huddled together in the upper floors of the mills, schoolhouse, lodge halls and in railroad cars on the high embankment.

As far as the eye can reach, north, east and west, there is nothing but water, which at some places in the outskirts of the town is running through the windows of houses. A mile and a half north of here along the Iron Mountain railroad, the water is up to the cross-arms on the telegraph poles. It is believed that further out the poles are submerged, but no one has yet dared brave the swift waters from the crevasse as they are rushing towards this place.

"HORRIBLE LOSS OF LIFE," SAY WHITE STAR OFFICIALS

"We Can Replace the Money Loss," They Say, "But Not the Lives."

IT WAS THOUGHT TITANIC WAS UNSINKABLE VESSEL

White Star Officials Say They Based Early Statement of No Loss of Life on Their Belief in the Staunchness of the Giant Steamship.

New York, April 15.—Vice President Franklin, of the White Star line, at 8:40 o'clock tonight conceded that there had been "a horrible loss of life" in the Titanic disaster. He said that he had no information to disprove the dispatch from Cape Race to the effect that only 675 of the passengers and crew had been rescued.

He said that the monetary loss could not be estimated tonight, although he intimated that it would run into the millions. "We can replace the money," he added, "but not the lives. It is horrible."

Survivors on Three Steamers.

Mr. Franklin continued:

"As far as we know it has been rumored from Halifax that three steamers have passengers on board, namely, the Virginian, the Carpathia and Parisian. Now, we have heard from Captain Haddock that the Titanic sank at 2:20 this morning. We have also learned from him that the Carpathia had 675 survivors on board. It is very difficult to learn if the Virginian and the Parisian have any survivors on board. We have asked Captain Haddock and our agent at Halifax to ascertain if there are any passengers aboard the two steamships.

"We very much fear, however, that there has been a great loss of life, but it is impossible for us to give further particulars until we have heard from the Parisian and Virginian. We have no information that there are any passengers aboard these two steamships."

Mr. Franklin said there was a sufficient number of life boats to take all the passengers from the Titanic. He said that he had been confident today, when he made the statement that "the Titanic was unsinkable" that the steamship was safe and that there would be no loss of life. The first definite news came in the messages from Captain Haddock, he said, and was given out at once.

Text of Message Withheld.

Vice President Franklin positively refused to give out the full text of the message received from Captain Haddock, of the Olympia, reporting the sinking of the Titanic. This attitude led to the belief that the message intimated a loss of life, which the company desired to confirm before spreading alarm.

Mr. Franklin said Captain Haddock's message was very brief and "neglected to say that all the crew had been saved." It said the Carpathia had six or seven hundred of the Titanic passengers aboard, including all of the first cabin passengers, and that the vessel should reach New York Friday morning.

No information had been received from the Virginian or Parisian at the White Star line offices, although it was said "to be known" that many of the Titanic passengers were on these vessels.

Vice President Franklin said he had cancelled arrangements for the special trains which they had arranged to send to Halifax to bring the rescued passengers to this city by rail, as it was believed that the boats which had Titanic passengers aboard would steam direct for New York.

Survivors on Carpathia.

The message received from Captain Haddock as made public by Mr. Franklin reads:

"At 2:20 a. m. Titanic foundered. Carpathia proceeding to New York with passengers."

There was reason to believe, however, that the message was considerably longer than the above. One of Mr. Franklin's assistants in announcing earlier that the Titanic had gone down, said that the Carpathia was proceeding to New York with "survivors."

So far as could be ascertained at the White Star offices, it was not known there whether there were any passengers aboard the Virginian and Parisian.

News of the probable terrible loss of life in the sinking of the Titanic was limited in its circulation in the early evening, but by 9 o'clock it had brought a great crowd of persons to the White Star line offices near the foot of Broadway. Women were in tears, and men were frantic after their plea for assuring news was met with the frank admission that very little was known of the fate of passengers who were not in the first or second cabins.

All of the White Star officials and subordinates available were on duty at the offices, and planned to make a night of it under siege by reporters, relatives of passengers and others.

Alfred Vanderbilt Safe.

Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt received a cablegram late today from Alfred G. Vanderbilt, her son, saying that he had not sailed on the Titanic, and was safe in London. This announcement was made at the Vanderbilt home tonight.

The White Star line offices endeavored vainly from 8 o'clock up till 11 p. m. to get further word from the Olympic about the Titanic. Vice President Franklin said at 11 o'clock they were still hopeful of getting another message tonight. The company was also trying to get into wireless communication with the Carpathia, and filed a message asking that, if possible, the complete list of the names of the 675 survivors said to be on board the Carpathia be sent by wireless.

Such a list Vice President Franklin believes to be of the utmost importance as hope was waning among the White Star line officials tonight that others than these 675 persons have survived.

Reached Scene Too Late.

Mr. Franklin figured that notwithstanding his fervent hope to the contrary, the Allan line steamers Virginian and Parisian could hardly have reached the scene of disaster to have been of assistance.

The Virginian, reported first as catching the "S. O. S.," said she was not likely to be able to reach the Titanic before 10 a. m. today. That would have been nearly eight hours after the Titanic sank. It was equally doubtful that the Parisian could have reached the scene in time.

Mr. Franklin said that, from his knowledge of Captain Smith's gallantry and heroism on other occasions, the veteran navigator must have stuck to his bridge and gone down to his death.

The White Star line officers figured from their data that the Olympic was forty miles from the scene of the Titanic's sinking when she sent the news of it at 7 o'clock tonight. At that hour the Carpathia was estimated to be 1,080 miles east of Sandy Hook.

STUDIED RECORD OF UNDERWOOD

Hutcheson Learns Interesting Facts in Washington.

Underwood Has Favored Every Labor Bill Put Forward Since He Has Been in Congress. Enemies Unable to Find a Flaw in His Record.

Carl Hutcheson, secretary of the Fulton county Underwood club, is just back from Washington, where he has been in conference with Congressman William Schley Howard and other Underwood leaders at the capital, and while there learned some interesting facts regarding Mr. Underwood's career.

"One important thing I learned in Washington," said Mr. Hutcheson, "is that during his entire seventeen years in congress Mr. Underwood has been a consistent supporter of every measure offered that would inure to the good of the working man.

"The opposition sent four trained experts to Washington to investigate Mr. Underwood's record from A to Z, and they have been unable to place their hands upon one single item upon which they can attack him.

"Don't you know if they could find a single measure intended to benefit labor which he has opposed they would herald it all over the country? They have tried and failed, and the only thing they have been able to do at all is to charge Mr. Underwood with doing something with which he had nothing to do and over which he had no control.

Talked With Underwood.

"I held a lengthy conversation with Mr. Underwood, and I found him to be a man of force and one of native attractions. He draws you to him, and I understood after talking with him why he is a leader and why he is held in such high esteem by all who know him and know what he has done.

"Mr. Underwood's greatest ambition is to see a democratic president elected this year. He is not running himself; his friends are running him. He would not hesitate for a minute to get out of the way, if he believed it were essential and that he could secure democratic success by so doing.

"Another thing I have learned is that Mr. Underwood can carry New York and Governor Wilson cannot, and New York is necessary to democratic success.

"It will be of widespread interest to the national guard of the state to know that Mr. Underwood has always strongly favored the militia pay bill now pending in the house, and that he will do everything in his power to put it through."

Mr. Hutcheson has taken hold again at Fulton headquarters and says the organization in the county is now in splendid shape. He feels no question about a big victory in Fulton.

GREEKS OF ATLANTA CELEBRATE EMANCIPATION FROM TURKEY

The ninety-second anniversary of the emancipation of Greece from Turkish rule was celebrated by the Greeks of Atlanta in a very impressive way Sunday.

The religious service was held as usual at the Greek church, Central avenue and Garnett street, which was filled with Greek communicants. The service, conducted by Rev. J. Lambrides, rector, was very impressive.

The Hon. Demeter G. Vafiadi, consul of Greece in the Carolinas, arrived early in the morning from Savannah, and was also present at the religious service.

The exercises for the national independence day of Greece took a more substantial form when at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon all the Greek residents of Atlanta were in attendance at the hall of the "Panhellenic Union, at 113½ Whitehall street, where a most elaborate program had been arranged by the manager of the local branch, G. S. Gregory, and the committee. The hall was beautifully decorated with Greek and American flags and costly flowers.

After a solemn prayer by the rector, the orchestra played the national anthem of Greece, and then the Hon. Demeter G. Vafiadi, consul of Greece, was introduced by the Rev. Father Lambrides. Mr. Vafiadi made an impressive speech in Greek, and was heartily applauded.

S. Georgiades, a prominent Greek business man, followed, and made a powerful and patriotic address on the occasion. Many songs and other patriotic speeches were made, among them being one by Charles Poulos' little 5-year-old girl. The orchestra furnished throughout the afternoon some splendid music.

The whole affair was a splendid one. The members of the Greek community, the members of the Greek society, "Danais," responded heartily to the invitation extended to them by the members of the local branch of the Panhellenic Union, and this fact helped in giving to the celebration of the national independency a real Greek holiday.

The Greeks of Atlanta, through their efforts, their business ability and honesty have become a real factor in Atlanta's civil welfare, and are considered as true and loyal citizens by the best Americans of the city.

GRAND OPERA WEEK COMING; SINGERS TO BE HERE SUNDAY

Grand opera week is now but a few days off; Monday, April 22, will bring the opening night, when Verdi's magnificent opera, "Aida," with Caruso and Gadski in the leading roles, will be sung, it is now apparent, to just such another record audience as greeted the same cast when it was presented here two years ago.

But the interesting feature about the season this year, as disclosed by the single ticket sale which is still in progress and will be all the week, at the Cable Piano Company's and Phillips & Crew's, is that everyone of the seven operas to be presented in Atlanta is a favorite; and while many will see several or all of them, each one has its particular clientele, which has enthusiastically selected it is the particular one they wish to see.

The singers will begin to reach Atlanta Sunday. They will arrive in Atlanta in a special train of two sections, and by Monday practically everyone of them who is to have part in any of the operas will be here. Otto H. Kahn, chairman of the board of directors of the Metropolitan Opera Company, accompanied by a party of prominent New York business men, among them Robert Goelet, Frank B. Kosch, Paul D. Cravath, William Forbes Morgan, Jr., and Henry Rogers Winthrop will arrive in Atlanta Tuesday April 23, and remain during the week. Many entertainments have been planned in their honor.

UNDERWOOD'S FIRST WISH IS FOR HIS PARTY'S SUCCESS

Monroe, Ga., April 15.—(Special.)—Editor Ernest Camp, of The Walton Tribune, is in receipt of the following letter from Hon. Oscar W. Underwood, the south's candidate for the democratic nomination for the presidency:

"Washington, D. C., April 12, 1912.—My Dear Mr. Camp: I am in receipt today of your favor of the 10th instant, and write to thank you for your kindly words you say in reference to myself, and express my appreciation of your earnest support of my candidacy for the democratic nomination for president.

"As a loyal democrat my first wish is for our party's success. I hope the man may be nominated at Baltimore who can most safely be depended on to bring our party back into power, and with it the enactment into law of the great underlying principles that we believe in as loyal democrats. In my judgment, the foremost issue in the coming campaign must be, if we expect to win, an honest downward revision of the tariff, relieving the unjust burdens of taxation that have for so long rested on the masses of the people, and fairly adjusting the laws so that the great wealth of the country shall bear a fair proportion of the burdens of the government. Yours very truly,

(Signed) "O. W. UNDERWOOD."

WILSON SPEAKS AT AUDITORIUM

Candidate for President Arrives in Atlanta Shortly After Noon.

A meeting of Wilson supporters tonight at the Auditorium will be addressed by the New Jersey governor and several other speakers, who favor his candidacy for president, including Senator Hoke Smith.

A cordial invitation to the public has been extended by the managers of the meeting to come and hear the former college president's address. The boxes of the edifice will be reserved exclusively for ladies and their escorts.

Presiding over the meeting will be Judge George Hillyer, who is president of the Fulton County Woodrow Wilson Club. He will introduce to the audience J. R. Smith, who will speak on the national program of the governor's campaign and the present issues which have aroused such hope of success in the hearts of democracy. Following Mr. Smith will come Senator Smith, who, after a short speech, will introduce Governor Wilson.

Governor Wilson arrives in Georgia from South Carolina shortly after noon today. The first stop he makes will be at Gainesville, where his adherents have arranged an impromptu speaking from the platform of his car. It is probable that he will make other short talks at various stations.

MORROW BUYS GRIFFIN PAPER

Well-Known Jonesboro Editor Will Take Charge of News and Sun.

Griffin, Ga., April 15.—(Special.)—Hon. J. A. Morrow, of Jonesboro, today purchased an interest in The Griffin Daily and Weekly News and Sun, owned by Mrs. Joseph D. Boyd, and will on May 1 assume entire editorial and business control of these two old-established newspapers.

Mr. Morrow is at present editor and owner of The Jonesboro Enterprise and is recognized as one of the ablest and most forceful writers in Georgia. He is being congratulated by his many friends here that he is soon to become editor of The News and Sun and a resident of Griffin.

The News and Sun was owned and edited for over a quarter of a century by the late Colonel Douglas Glessner. At his death Hon. Joseph D. Boyd purchased the paper and edited it ably until his death in September. Robert L. Duke then became the editor and manager and was only recently succeeded by J. H. L. Baxter, who has for the past six weeks been in charge. Mr. Morrow will later announce his plans for the future conduct of The News and Sun.

AMERICUS PROFESSOR WILL GO TO WAYCROSS

Americus, Ga., April 15.—(Special.)—Superintendent Augustas G. Miller, for several years at the head of the Americus public schools, will tender his resignation immediately, having already accepted the superintendency of the Waycross schools. This action was a complete surprise in Americus, and is sincerely regretted. Superintendent Miller is one of the most efficient instructors in Georgia, and as superintendent of the Americus schools has placed them in the front rank of the state's educational institutions.

THE STORY OF A GREAT TOBACCO

Origin of One of the Biggest Successes in the History of Smoking

"IT'S DIFFERENT!"

How a Nation-Wide Popularity Began in One Man's Pipe

They tell an interesting story of the origin of one of the biggest successes in the history of tobacco manufacture.

When the founder of the R. A. Patterson Tobacco Company invented the tobacco process that has since borne his name, his aim was to so treat a tobacco that it not only would not "bite," that it not only would be harmless, but that it would be absolutely safeguarding in its effects on the mouth and throat The sliced plug and roll cut put out under the Patterson process soon achieved a wide popularity which it holds in the fullest degree, to this day, of representing clean, pure, honest tobacco at its best

One day the manager of the Patterson manufacturing department slipped into his pipe some of the Burley tobacco that had been granulated in the process of manufacture He liked this granulated form so well that for two years he made this his personal smoke But a good thing has to be passed along, and this man finally yielded to the temptation of finding out from his friends whether his taste was peculiar or whether he really had made a "find" The result was that before many months he was embarrassed by peremptory requests from many quarters for "more of that wonderful granulated Burley." "It's different," they said, "the most perfect pipe smoke we ever tried"

Then came an experiment with special bags of this "discovery" In a short time every available bag was gone.

It was in this way that the original granulated Burley began its career It was in this way that Tuxedo tobacco, now famous over the whole land in the green tin, began its astonishing success

So quick was this popularity that shipments were for years never better than a month behind the orders. While unable to fill orders it was impossible to risk advertising. It is only now, with greatly extended factory facilities, that the Patterson Company is venturing to tell the Tuxedo story—to carry forward with printer's ink the good work done by enthusiastic smokers—and by Tuxedo itself

We expected to advertise long ago—but the astonishing sales jumped ahead of us at the start and for a long time we couldn't catch up. Think of it! One of the best selling tobaccos in the world—without advertising. The tobacco did it! It's been doing all the talking—and doing it wonderfully well.

No! Not all the talking. Smokers have been saying some jolly things as they passed the news along.

Now our additional factories are ready and we can "see daylight" on filling orders. Now we are ready to "say the word"—and it's a good word—Tuxedo.

What that word now means to American smokers YOU can learn in the pleasantest way by trying a tin of the tobacco yourself. The answer's in the tin—a cheerful answer to the whole smoke question.

Why Is DECATUR Everywhere Known As "The Ideal Residence Town"?

Whenever you think of "The Ideal Residence Town"—Why do you always think of DECATUR?

BECAUSE—from the very first (Decatur was founded in 1823) the people of Decatur have constantly striven to make it a good place to live in, a good place in which to raise a family, by providing churches and schools and everything else that would attract the very best class of people to the town, and by discouraging such things as bar-rooms, near beer saloons, pool and billiard parlors and other questionable resorts of every kind and description, and there are positively no such places in the town.

TODAY—We have NOT a FACTORY in the town, though a number of our very best citizens are engaged in manufacturing pursuits in Atlanta, with which we are connected by two street car lines and the Georgia Railroad; on the other hand, we have the very best schools and churches and all modern conveniences, such as waterworks, sewers, macadam streets, tile sidewalks and electric lights.

DECATUR, as the COUNTY SEAT of DeKalb County, has always been an important business center, and today, on account of its two strong banks and numerous business houses, it continues to be the business center of DeKalb County.

On account of our excellent PUBLIC SCHOOL SYSTEM and the location here of such well-known institutions as the Donald Fraser High School, Agnes Scott Academy and AGNES SCOTT COLLEGE, Decatur is probably best known as an EDUCATIONAL CENTER.

BUT on account of all these things—Its importance as the County Seat of DeKalb County—the unusually fine Educational Advantages—the absence of Factories—the character of its People—and their DETERMINATION from the beginning to make it an IDEAL PLACE OF RESIDENCE—Decatur has fairly won its reputation as "THE IDEAL RESIDENCE TOWN."

If you would like to hear more of Decatur and DeKalb County, write for Booklet.

VICE COMMISSION NAMED BY MAYOR

Thorough Investigation of the Social Evil Will Be Gone Into.

The vice commission which was named by the mayor and presented to council yesterday afternoon is as follows:

Aldermen John S. Candler and James R. Nutting, Councilmen William G. Humphrey, George H. Boynton and Orville H. Hall, citizens Joseph A. McCord, R. N. Fickett, Dr. E. G. Ballenger, Thomas J. Day and George I. Walker. The chairman of the commission is Mr. McCord.

The duty of the commission will be to make a full and thorough investigation of the "social evil" and to report to council what will be the best method to abolish all the houses of questionable character in the city. The report must be filed before next October.

The mayor stated that he took much time in selecting the commission, as he wished to secure well-known and conservative city officials and citizens to handle the matter which is to be investigated.

The commission will hold its first session on the call of the chairman, which will probably be some day next week.

The investigation will probably call for conferences with the police authorities and personal visits to the places that are regarded as social evils.

The outcome of the investigation and the report finally made to council will doubtless be waited for with considerable interest by a large number of citizens.

INSOMNIA PERMANENTLY RELIEVED WITHOUT THE USE OF DRUGS

By Nature's Own Remedy—Bowden Lithia Water. A Boon to the Sleepless.

How many nights have you tossed about in your bed trying to find sleep, your body worn out and tired, but your overwrought nerves would not relax, and sleep, the greatest of all panaceas, was withheld from you?

It is true strong drugs will put you to sleep at once, but think over the terrible after effects on your stomach and your entire system, and worst of all, these drugs oftentimes become a habit.

The wisdom of nature provides her own remedy for the sufferers with insomnia. Drink Bowden Lithia Water before retiring, drink it whenever you have a chance. The bromides contained in this water exert a soothing effect upon the sleepless which find speedy relief. As a nerve sedative, as well as for dyspepsia, indigestion, kidney and bladder trouble Bowden Lithia Water has no equal. We have hundreds of letters from people who were cured by its use, with medical testimonials from best known physicians.

Bowden Lithia Water, the greatest of all natural mineral waters, is bottled only at the Springs, Lithia Springs, Douglas Co., Ga. Sold by druggists everywhere.

If your druggist cannot supply you, order direct from the Springs; 12 large bottles for $2.50. Send remittance.

A CHALLENGE TO THE SOUTH'S MANHOOD.

The New York Herald, in a recent editorial, reproduced elsewhere in full, declares that "the chief development in the democratic situation is the sudden growth of the Underwood boom," and proceeds to this ringing challenge of the south's manhood:

"The Underwood situation is a peculiar one. The entire south wants him, but will not back him as a whole for the reason that, in their estimation, a candidate of the south—a candidate groomed and presented by the south—would stand no chance of being nominated, but would arouse the solid opposition of the north and east."

"Peculiar" is a tame term for sectional stultification. That is the offense with which a whole people stand indicted because of the timidity of a few leaders. Oscar Underwood is, inexorably, the logical standard-bearer of the democratic party. If he lived north of Mason and Dixon's line, not a whisper would be raised against his candidacy. His achievement as general of the democratic majority is acclaimed, nationally, as the most signal feat of leadership since the civil war. The unbiased Herald virtually concedes that he can carry New York.

In the face of such unsought and unpurchasable testimonials, a few southerners, driven by subservient fear of the dead specter of sectionalism, raise bars against the availability of Oscar Underwood, the biggest southern statesman in half a century and one of the biggest Americans produced by that period! This paradox is amazing. No wonder The Herald questions if it can be "true" that the south will not back Underwood because it is "afraid." As if refusing, in respect for our people, to accept evidence of such timidity, it puts this leading question:

"Rather should not the south fear the radicalism which others represent that are claiming the vote of this section—a section that has been blacklisted for more than half a century?"

Hammering in The Herald's challenge and confirming the disappearance of civil war prejudice is a strong editorial reproduced elsewhere on this page from Harper's Weekly.

And still there are some southerners who hug their political shackles. By inference, they proclaim the humiliating doctrine that the south, its children and its children's children, shall remain as political hewers of wood and drawers of water, in political serfdom for an indefinite season.

For if fifty years has not instilled into us manhood enough to grasp the outstretched hand of the north and the east, five hundred years will find us still as craven, still as self-effacing. Speaking for itself, The Constitution will not be accessory to a superstition that places the south in so shameful an attitude. Before the war, the south gave the nation its guiding statesmen. Fifty years after the war, its animosities obliterated, the nation extends the invitation to resume that role, without prejudice. Whether Underwood wins or loses at Baltimore, wins or loses before the country, we shall maintain to the last the one position compatible with sectional self-respect—

That the day is past for the south to avert its head when its statesmen aspire to the presidency—and that Oscar Underwood is the candidate with which the south can make its position most unmistakably manifest to the nation.

WHY HE CARRIED PENNSYLVANIA.

Our Washington correspondent, in another column, explains that Governor Wilson carried Pennsylvania, a hide-bound republican state, in the presidential primary, because the overwhelming protection sentiment of that state picked him as the democratic candidate least liable to disturb high protection. As he points out, protection is almost a religion in Pennsylvania. It is so nonpartisan an issue that it enwraps democrats as well as republicans, especially as it touches iron and steel, the commonwealth's leading industries.

While Governor Wilson, as our correspondent shows, has admitted that the tariff is to be the "central issue" in the campaign, the voters in Pennsylvania, as elsewhere, have come to identify him more conspicuously with the "ism" doctrine he has preached than with the tariff. They may not doubt his sincerity. But they know that whereas Underwood, Clark and Harmon had unequivocally made tariff revision their paramount issue, the utterances of the governor indicate he gives it subsidiary consideration. That is why, our correspondent states, he carried the primary.

The very cause that gave him Pennsylvania in the primary will lose it to him in a presidential election, should he be nominated. For the Pennsylvanians cling to the republican party as the party of protection. They will, overwhelmingly, support its candidate, irrespective of his personality. This simply confirms what The Constitution has consistently contended, and what the balloting thus far has demonstrated: That Wilson is strongest in states admittedly republican in advance, but that he makes no impression in states doubtful, or with democratic leanings—states the party must win to carry the election.

That is why he cannot be nominated and why, if nominated, he will bring assured defeat to the party.

CLARA BARTON.

The world—as well as posterity—owes a debt of gratitude to Clara Barton, who died recently at Glen Echo, Md. She was founder of the American Red Cross. But, in a vital sense, her executive and beneficent influence was manifest in the order as it is now internationally organized and active.

In the civil war and the Franco-Prussian war, the Spanish-American conflict and many of the floods and catastrophes that visited large woe upon the people of this and other nations, the Red Cross was instrumental in the work of relief and reconstruction. And the Red Cross, in the matter of sponsorship and direction, was Clara Barton.

Intelligent and reclaiming mercy were her leading attributes. Her monument is carved indelibly into the history of the nineteenth and twentieth centuries.

CONTRACT LET FOR NEW VALDOSTA INSTITUTION

Valdosta, Ga., April 15.—(Special.)—The trustees of the South Georgia Normal and Agricultural College, the new state institution to be built here, met today and let the contract for one of the dormitories to Holliday & Grouse, of Greensboro, N. C., for $44,350. Eleven bids from contractors in other cities were received and figures from a majority of them were very close to those of the lowest bidders. I. D. Moore & Co., of Tifton, were awarded the contract for the plumbing and heating. Both awards are made subject to confirmation at a full meeting of the board of trustees to be held in Atlanta on April 22. The plans for the dormitory were prepared by Architect W. M. A. Edwards, of Atlanta. They provide for one of the most handsome dormitory buildings in the south. It is of modern design and pleasing architecture.

The county commissioners of this county let contracts today for the heating and plumbing and electric lighting of the new jail, now being built here. George McGhan & Son, of Valdosta, were given the contract for the heating and plumbing at $4,350. C. W. Stuckey, of Valdosta, was awarded the contract for the electric wiring.

NEGROES NOT GUILTY OF PERJURY CHARGE

Columbus, Ga., April 15.—(Special.) There was an echo of the James Jefferson case in the courts this afternoon when A. B. King and Effie Krump, negroes, were arraigned, charged with perjury. They testified at the trial that Jefferson stamped Policeman Marchant in the face after he shot him, and it is not claimed that this incident did not occur. Jefferson's last words before he sank in unconsciousness were that he did not kick the officer in the face. The negroes were arraigned before Judge M. F. Hood, who, after hearing the testimony and argument, dismissed the case. The warrants against them were sworn out last Wednesday by the father of James Jefferson.

AUGUSTA MAN WANTS FREIGHT RATE PROBE

Augusta, Ga., April 15.—Attorney R. J. Southall, of this city, made sweeping charges against railroads and steamboat companies to the effect that they are conspiring to kill trade on the Savannah river steamers. Mr. Southall represented the Enterprise Manufacturing Company and the Riverside Mills, two cotton mills of this city, in a suit against the Augusta and Savannah Steamboat Company, the Ocean Steamship Company, the Boston and Maine and other New England railways, heard by Special Examiner Gibson, of the interstate commerce commission, here today. The fight is for reduced rates via the Savannah river to interior eastern points. It is alleged by Mr. Southall that the rate via river to Saundersdale, Mass., for example, is 54 cents per hundred, whereas the rate via the Central of Georgia to Savannah and then to Saundersdale is 43 cents per hundred pounds.

J. A. J. HENDERSON SAYS HE IS IN RACE TO STAY

Brunswick, Ga., April 15.—(Special.) While it has been known for some time that J. A. J. Henderson, of Ocilla, would make the race for congress from the Eleventh district to succeed William G. Brantley, of this city, who has announced his retirement, his formal announcement was not forthcoming until yesterday when he stated in several papers of this district that "his hat was in the ring" to stay. During the past fortnight Mr. Henderson has been going over the district feeling the pulse of many voters and received such encouragement that he finally decided to make the race. Up to the present time there are three candidates for the congressional honor in the Eleventh, Judge T. A. Parker, of the Waycross circuit; and Colonel Randall Walker, of Valdosta, having made their announcements several weeks ago. It is not expected that there will be any more entrants.

KING'S DAUGHTERS TO MEET AT MACON IN MAY

Brunswick, Ga., April 15.—(Special.) Miss Kate C. Hall, of this city, state president of the International Order of King's Daughters and Sons, has issued a call for the sixteenth annual convention of the order, which is to be held at the Vineville Presbyterian church, Macon, on May 1, 2 and 3. The meeting promises to be one of the most interesting ever held by the organization, and in her call for the convention, Miss Hall urges upon the members the importance of being present. As a special guest of the organization, Miss George H. Libby, first vice president of the international order, will be present and will deliver an address. It is expected the local chapter will send a large delegation.

ATLANTA GERMANS GO TO SAENGERFEST TODAY

Headed by Professor A. Paull, a party of German citizens leaves this morning at 11 o'clock over the Southern railway for Jacksonville, where they will attend the saengerfest to be given there Wednesday and Thursday.

The saengerfest, which was held last year in Atlanta, annually attracts hundreds of loyal Germans and many music lovers of other nationalities, who wish to hear the beautiful songs of Germany sung as only native born artists can sing them. Professor Paull is a well-known musician who will head the saengerfest, and he is accompanied by thirty well-known local Germans. They will travel in a special car.

SMALL CROWD HEARS SPEAKER FOR WILSON

Thomasville, Ga., April 15.—(Special.) With an audience that failed to fill the court room Hon. Hooper Alexander spoke here today in advocacy of Woodrow Wilson for the democratic presidential nomination. The speaking was at the noon recess of Thomas superior court and audience was composed chiefly of those in attendance upon it, some former friends of the speaker, a number of them avowedly for Underwood, and a good sprinkling of ladies.

The speaking had been advertised hoping to draw the country people, but very few were on hand and although the speaker seemed enthused with his theme it is safe to say that no votes were changed by him.

HAZLEHURST HAS CLOSE MUNICIPAL PRIMARY

Hazlehurst, Ga., April 15.—(Special.) One of the most exciting elections ever held in Hazlehurst was the municipal primary today, when the citizens' ticket carried the election by a large majority.

B. B. McDonald defeated W. F. Hinson for mayor by a majority of 53, and J. J. Frazier, J. H. Boone, J. N. Smith, W. W. Finley, H. D. Wilson, W. L. Beall and R. C. Williams were elected by about the same majority for city council.

A strong fight was made to defeat Williams and Beall by the old administration.

PHONED UNDERTAKER FOR CHAIRS, THEN FELL DEAD

Augusta, Ga., April 15.—Mrs. W. H. Brigham, wife of a prominent Augustan, fell dead this morning of heart failure. A singular coincidence about the death was that the deceased telephoned to the same undertaker who is now handling her body just five minutes before her death and asked him to lend her some chairs to be used at a church entertainment. Mrs. Brigham was a leading church worker and president of the Women's Auxiliary of the Boys' home, and the entertainment for which she wanted the chairs was to have been given for the benefit of the home.

CARL VINSON RETIRES IN FAVOR OF JUDGE ALLEN

Milledgeville, Ga., April 15.—(Special.)—Hon. Carl Vinson, speaker pro tem. of the present house of representatives, today announced his retirement from the race for speakership of the next general assembly. This withdrawal is in deference to the candidacy of Judge Allen, of Baldwin county, who will be next senator from the twentieth district, and who has entered the race for the presidency of that body. Mr. Vinson had many assurances of support, and his prospects of election were flattering, but the fact that Judge Allen is from the same county influenced Mr. Vinson to retire rather than embarrass Judge Allen's candidacy.

"SOUTH, NOT NORTH OR WEST, HOME OF SECTIONAL BOGIE"

---Harper's Weekly

The South and the Candidate.
(From Harpers' Weekly.)

More and more regret is being heard that Chairman Underwood should hail from so far south and thus seem ineligible. Had he come from the north it is believed he would have been irresistible.—Washington Letter to The Springfield Republican.

On the contrary, it is a matter of gratulation, not of regret, that the foremost statesman in the house of representatives hails from the south. It is even more satisfying that not only he but other men of southern birth are reckoned available candidates for the presidency. The thought of opposing a southern man because of his environment would never cross the mind of our enlightened Springfield contemporary. And yet we may not question the accuracy of the statement of its representative in Washington.

Such expressions as he quotes are heard in the federal capital, frequently in the south, rarely in the north, never practically in the west. They have no basis in fact as applied to availability. They are uttered carelessly from force of habit. The truth, as we declared last week, is that southern birth would be a source of strength, not of weakness, to a candidate. If evidence be required, witness the universal approbation of the apointment of a confederate veteran as chief justice of the supreme court.

The sectional bogy is dead as a doornail and has been for years. How then does it happen that some still take for granted that it still lives or at least has not yet been buried. The Atlanta Constitution strikes the core of the situation when it says:

A Humiliating Paradox.

The most humiliating paradox in American politics today is the shrinking attitude of some of our own people toward the presidential possibilities of southern men.

The civil war, the memories of which furnished the nursery for this indefensible sectional abasement, is fifty years at our back. Ninety per cent of the American voters who elect a president remember this war and its dividing rancor only as history. With outstretched hands, having given every proof of viewing Mason and Dixon's line as no more a political barrier than the Mississippi or the Rockies, the dominant generation at the north invites the south, its public men, by right of citizenship, and by right of demonstrated ability, into full fellowship in the nation's counsels.

What has been the answer of the south—at least, the answer that may be interpreted by the silence or the diffidence of hundreds of thousands of representative southerners?

Obsessed by the ghosts of half a century ago, guilty of an embarrassment and a self-consciousness that is nothing short of arrant sectional cowardice, there is a feeling among many southernors that the wraiths of the sixties still stand between the south and the white house—the south and that participation in the nation's voice, the nation's destiny, to which the nation is eager to admit us.

The consequence of this abnegation of common manhood could not be more forcefully portrayed than in the words of The Constitution's Washington correspondent in a dispatch discussing the presidential status. "If he," writes our correspondent, canvassing the possibilities of Oscar Underwood, the brilliant Alabamian, along with other southerners, "pays the penalty of being a southern man, it will be the south and not the north to exact it."

The last smoldering embers of sectional acrimony were stamped out by the Spanish-American war. The last barriers between north and south were crumbled before the achievements of Joe Wheeler, of Fitzhugh Lee, and of many of the younger generation on both sides.

In the face of these cumulative facts, there are some in the south who still question if, "on account of past offenses," it is "discreet" or "expedient" for a southern man to offer himself for presidential honors! We insult ourselves, we debase our manhood, we surrender the rights the north is so willing to concede us, when we permit our course, as a people, to be so interpreted. It is not in human nature to accord respect where self-respect is absent. How, then, can we expect the remainder of the nation to continue to respect us when we grovel in the dust of a bygone era and let go by default the rights inherent in American manhood?

These strong words are true. The south, not the north or west, is the home of the bogy. So long ago as 1904 it was our privilege to say to the people of Charleston:

Mainstay of Democracy.

Now is the time and you of the south are the men to act with promptness and wisdom. You are the mainstay, the living reality of Democracy. So many of us in the north come so near being republicans in practice and so many of us in the west come so near being populists in theory, that the leadership rightfully belongs to the only section of the party which has kept the faith without suffering contamination, and under whose direction in the past the people enjoyed their greatest growth, their widest prosperity. The time is fitting. The blight of half a centry is off the south. You have your manufactures, your mines, your agriculture, your railroads, your steamships, your schools, your happy homes, your Christian spirit—you have all that we have and more, because you have our respect and sympathy to a greater degree than we have yours. We ask you to take up the ark of the covenant and bear it to victory as of old. We seek now to follow, requiring only that forbearance which is the first attribute of brotherhood. Do not, we implore, insist that we must manifest no interest in your affairs or you in ours. Your problems are our problems, your hopes our hopes, your fears our fears, and ours are yours. I appeal to you not to put up warning hands and say, "Thus far but no farther," but with the whole-hearted, trustful, fraternal and generous spirit of chivalric natures stretch your arms away over the line and bid us welcome. We gladly concede your right to lead; we only ask that you bear the banner of Jefferson along the broad path of tolerance and enlightenment, of progress and Christianity, of belief in man and faith in God, out of the darkness of despair of the past into the sunlight of hope for the future.

Since those words were spoken the south has given ample demonstration of the capacity, no less than the patriotism of her sons, notably of late in the house of representatives. Otherwise their claims to preferment could not be upheld. The Lynchburg News states the case precisely:

"Give us a southern man for president"—this the earnest adjuration of the editor of Harper's Weekly, in a banquet speech before a southern audience the other night. Northern-born and northern-bred and of northern viewpoint and sympathy though Harvey be, the sincerity of his declaration is not to be doubted. For during a long period of time this forceful journalist has been demonstrating through the columns of Harper's Weekly that he can rise far above the mists and prejudices of sectionalism in considering matters of political relation. But in interpreting the above declaration it is but right to assume that Colonel Harvey's advocacy of a southern man for the highest office within the gift of the nation does not mean that he favors a southern candidate because being southern, but because the southern men now being considered for the democratic nomination represent perhaps the strongest elements of sane progressive leadership in the country. It so happens that the South offers men well equipped to preside over the destinies of the nation. One of these publicists will probably be nominated by the Baltimore convention; and, if nominated, elected. Thus Colonel Harvey's prayer will be answered; the south will come into her own again as a section of the United States from which the ban of national political ostracism has been removed, and true democratic government will once more be vouchsafed to the American people.

There breathes the spirit of true patriotism in righteous disdain of sectional bigotry. And what happens? Up rises the portly senator from Georgia in earnest endeavor to instil into southern minds a prejudice against Underwood because, forsooth, his grandfather was a whig senator before the war, thus proving conclusively, in the words of the sapient Claxton (Ga.) News, that Underwood himself "is really a full-fledged yankee who moved to Birmingham, Alabama, with the building of the great steel industries there, and which are owned by New York and the steel trust. The son of a yankee soldier, the citizen of that city of the south owned by yankees, can you call him a true type of the south? Indeed not."

The fact that Mr. Underwood's father was not a yankee soldier need not be considered. Nor is Underwood's own candidacy a point in issue. What does demand attention is Hoke Smith's contemptible attempt to stir into flame the embers of sectional passion which long since in the north crumbled into ashes. If ever a duty to their country, their region, and themselves confronted high and broad minded men of the south, one now awaits vigorous performance at their hands.

We refer the case of Hoke Smith to the editors of southern newspapers for such treatment as they may deem proper to visit upon one who betrays his own people.

NEW YORK HERALD ASKS IF THE SOUTH IS "AFRAID"

(From The New York Herald.)

The chief development in the democratic situation is the sudden growth of the Underwood boom.

States on which the Underwood managers already count are Florida with 12 delegates; Alabama, with 24; North Carolina, with 24, and Mississippi, with 20, a total of 80, and with a good chance of getting the 24 delegates from Virginia.

With the 28 from Georgia and the 16 from South Carolina and with but half of Tennessee's vote, Underwood would enter the convention with nearly 150 electoral votes from the south alone To which must be added the vote from New York state, where Underwood is a formidable candidate, and from other states where he is strong.

The Underwood situation is a peculiar one. The entire south wants him, but will not back him as a whole for the reason that in their estimation a candidate of the south—a candidate groomed and presented by the south—would stand no chance of being nominated, but would arouse the solid opposition of the north and east.

Is it true that the south, said to want him, "will not back him as a whole" because they are afraid?

Rather should not the south fear the radicalism which others represent that are claiming the vote of this section—a section that has been blacklisted for more than half a century?

IF YOU HAVE ROOMS TO RENT LET HARVEY JOHNSON KNOW

As grand opera week approaches, inquiries are beginning to come in regarding rooms and board, and Harvey Johnson, business manager of the festival, would thank those who have accommodations to offer to inform him of the fact.

It is requested that the information be sent to Mr. Johnson promptly and with exactness. Let it be stated how many rooms the party has, whether single rooms or double rooms, whether board will be furnished or not, the charge for the rooms with and without meals, and also the charge per day and by the week. If this information is given accurately, additional correspondence will be avoided and time will be saved.

The Festival Association hopes that a number of responses will be received, a slt is highly probable that numerous demands will be made for accommodations of the kind mentioned.

Mr. Johnson's office is 1007 Third National Bank building, and his telephone number is Ivy 4250.

Ten Days to Gather Evidence.—In the suit by the Western Union Telegraph Company against William A. Wright, comptroller general of the state of Georgia, which has been pending in the United States district court for some time, and in which the Western Union appeals from the valuation of its franchise by the comptroller, Judge Newman yesterday, upon motion of attorneys for the plaintiff company, granted the plaintiffs ten days within which to take testimony for submission to the court. The same order will apply to the defendant, Comptroller General Wright, and when the taking of testimony shall have been completed the case will be taken up again by Judge Newman.

HENRY CLAY PIERCE MUST PAY $177,000

New York, April 15.—"If Mr. Pierce does not think enough of $177,000 to appear in court or send some kind of an affidavit to open the judgment against him, then I don't care either, and he will be compelled to pay the money." So said Justice Erlanger in the supreme court today when counsel for Henry Clay Pierce, the oil magnate, asked the justice to open the case in which Mrs. Alice G. Rycroft obtained a judgment for $177,000 against Pierce on the ground that he had converted securities of hers to that amount.

Justice Erlanger was angered when told that Pierce had not even submitted an affidavit asking that the case be opened.

"One hundred and seventy-seven thousand dollars, your honor, is only a flea-bite to this man Pierce," said counsel for Mrs. Rycroft.

"Then, he'll have to pay," said the court. "Why, if I had a judgment against me for $177,000, I'd turn white overnight."

Both sides were told to submit affidavits.

BANK IS WRECKED BY BAD INVESTMENTS

Washington, April 15.—The capital stock and surplus of the Second National bank, of Cincinnati, Ohio, amounting to about $200,000, has been wiped out by losses, according to reports to the comptroller of the currency today. The action of the clearing house association in taking charge of the institution guaranteeing its deposits avoided suspension. An assessment will be levied on the stockholder to restore capital.

The bank's losses are said to be due to bad investments.

The total liabilities and assets, according to the last report to Washington, approximated $8,000,000. The individual deposits amounted to $4,100,000 and the United States deposits $200,000. The bank is believed to hold assets sufficient to meet liabilities when its capital is restored.

TELEPHONE RATES WILL BE PROBED

Alderman Maddox Calls for an Investigation of Southern Bell.

Thinks Present Charges Too High and Has Introduced a Resolution in Council Seeking to Have Railroad Commission Look Into Matter.

Another investigation by council is now under way. A resolution was introduced in council yesterday afternoon calling for an investigation of the rates charged by the Southern Bell Telephone Company and was referred to the electric light committee.

The resolution came from Alderman Maddox and he based it on what he claimed was "considerable complaint of citizens of Atlanta."

The investigation of rates for electric light and power has been settled by an agreement between the city and the Georgia Railway and Power Company; the investigation of street car fares was "lost in the shuffle;" the investigation of gas rates was held up by the aldermanic board and has now gone back to the ordinance committee as that committee has under consideration an ordinance merging the offices of meter and smoke inspectors into one.

The investigation of the official conduct of City Electrician R. C. Turner, which was demanded in a resolution offered by Alderman VanDyke, was turned down.

So the investigation of the telephone rates is now the only live investigation on foot.

The resolution calling for the telephone investigation is as follows:

Basis of the Telephone Investigation.

"Whereas, there has been considerable complaint made by various citizens of the city of Atlanta, who are customers and users of the services furnished by the Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company, as to the character, quality and sufficiency of said service; and,

"Whereas, there is room for belief that the charges made by said company for the services given are excessive; and,

"Whereas, an investigation into the facts of this matter by the railroad commission of Georgia can only result in benefits to the citizens of Atlanta, who are users of said telephone and telegraph service; therefore, be it

"Resolved by the mayor and general council, that the city attorney be, and he is hereby, directed to prepare a suitable petition, directed to the railroad commission of Georgia, complaining of the character and sufficiency of services afforded, and the price charged for such service.

"Resolved further, when said petition is so prepared, that same be submitted for this council for filing with said commission, and when so done, that the committee on electric lights, telephones and telegraph, together with the city attorney, shall press same vigorously.

"Resolved further, that the sum of $1,000 or so much thereof as may be necessary be appropriated for the purpose of defraying the expenses of making such investigation, as in the opinion of said city attorney and said committee, as he may deem necessary."

The Western Union have purchased 10,000 Underwood Typewriters.

WOODROW WILSON COMES TO GEORGIA

Accompanied by Senator Hoke Smith—First Speech in Gainesville.

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, April 15.—(Special.)—Governor Woodroow Wilson and Mrs. Wilson passed through Washington tonight en route to Georgia, where the governor will make several speeches in the effort to stem the tide toward Underwood.

He was joined here by Senator Hoke Smith who will take part in the meeting tomorrow night in Atlanta.

The first speech to be delivered in Georgia by Mr. Wilson will be at Gainesville tomorrow afternoon and from there he will go to Atlanta.

Senator Smith will probably go straight through without stopping at Gainesville.

Governor Wilson's car broke down within the shadow of the capitol tonight. It had to be switched off at Washington and another car substituted. The Governor and Mrs. Wilson had retired in their stateroom, but the Pullman porter awakened them with the announcement that the car had a flat wheel. When asked how he felt about the outlook, Mr. Wilson remarked, "I have just been dragged from sleep by the hair of my head and can't think of anything."

Senator Hoke Smith exchanged cordial greetings with the Governor and Mrs. Wilson and embarked with them en Southern No. 37 for Atlanta. Senator Smith expects to leave on Wednesday for Washington.

TWO MEN ARE SHOT AS RESULT OF FEUD

Muscogee, Okla., April 15.—Jack Davis shot and probably fatally wounded Jesse Maxwell and Leonard McCullough here today in the resumption of a feud between cattlemen and farmers that already has cost half a dozen lives. Davis is a wealthy cattleman. McCullough and Maxwell are farmers. In today's battle, which was fought in the heart of the town, rifles and pistols were used. Davis was arrested. The farmers are in a hospital.

AMERICAN TRAINMEN BARRED IN MEXICO

Laredo, Texas, April 15.—A lockout of American engineers and conductors on the national lines of Mexico will begin tomorrow, it was announced here today.

Ten Mexican locomotive engineers will reach here tonight ready to take the American runs into Mexico tomorrow.

There is some talk of a boycott against Mexican-bound freight, but such a plan, which might cause great suffering in Mexico, has not been put in shape to be executed.

MANY RELICS OF WAR FOR REUNION

Macon Will Have Many Trophies to Remind Vets of Stirring Days.

Macon, Ga., April 15.—(Special.)—Colonel Warren Edwards, of Milledgeville, yesterday brought to Macon one of the old "Joe Brown pikes" manufactured for the confederacy during the war. The pike is a rusty old weapon, and resembles very much the machete of the Cubans. They were made during the war by order of the war governor, Joseph M. Brown, father of the present governor, and were intended for close-quarters fighting. Thousands were made at the old penitentiary at Milledgeville, and also at the Griswold gin works, at Griswoldville, near Macon.

Hundred of old relics of the war period are being brought to light as the time for the confederate reunion here draws near, and the veterans will find plenty to interest them when they come to Macon in May.

The city of Macon had for years been preserving what it thought was several boxes of paper cartridges manufactured here at the old arsenal during the war. The boxes had been stored away in the old magazine on the city reserve, and the city had decided to present each veteran at the reunion with one of the cartridges as a souvenir. Saturday one of the boxes was taken to the city hall and opened, and Mayor Moore was greatly disappointed to find that instead of the boxes containing the paper cartridges they were filled with cannister shot for 12-inch guns. This kind of ammunition was used effectively during the war. It consists of a tin cannister filled with iron balls or shot, to which is attached a charge of powder in a flannel bag. Since the introduction of the gattling gun it is hardly probable that there will be any more cannister or grape ammunition in warfare.

40,000 Pounds of Meat.

Macon, Ga., April 15.—(Special.)—Contract for 40,000 pounds of meat for the commissary department of the veterans encampment at the coming reunion will be awarded this week.

The old army ration of meat was a pound and a half to the man, and on this basis it may be inferred that it is calculated to feed 8,000 men. This does not mean there will be only 8,000 veterans at the reunion. Thousands of them will be entertained by friends in private homes, and will not depend on the encampment commissary for their meals. But 40,000 pounds of meat is not a small amount by any other means, and when it is realized that other supplies must be purchased in proportion it can readily be seen that feeding the veterans is going to be no small undertaking.

Primary Committee Named.

Macon, Ga., April 15.—(Special.)—P. H. Gambrell, chairman of the Bibb county democratic executive committee, acting under authority bestowed upon him by the committee, has appointed a subcommittee of five to have charge of the primary in this county on May 1. The committee is composed of Mr. Gambrell, ex-officio chairman; D. P. Rodgers, Bryan B. Davis, Jesse C. Harris and R. L. McKenney. All candidates who desire to get their names on the ticket are required to pay their assessments to the treasurer, Curran R. Ellis, by noon Saturday, April 20. The subcommittee will meet this week to name the clerks and manager, select the polling places and arrange other details of the primary.

DAUGHTERS HEAR PRESIDENT TAFT

Taft Urges Daughters to Stand by Constitution and the Courts.

Washington, April 15.—President Taft told the Daughters of the American Revolution, whom he welcomed to their annual convention here today, that the annual time had come to "take down our copies of the constitution and of the history of the growth of our institutions, and to renew our vows to the principles embodied in our governmental structure."

"The time has come," he continued, "to insist that these principles shall not be departed from, but that they shall be maintained in their vitalizing force to continue our pursuit of happiness and the guaranties of our institutions for the maintenance of liberty regulated by law."

Mrs. Matthew T. Scott, president general of the Daughters, in her annual address, made a broad declaration that the Daughters should enter upon a wider field of work.

Other speeches at today's sessions were by Professor William Libbey, of Princeton university, secretary of the Sons of the Revolution, and Dr. Moses G. Parker, president general of the Sons of the American Revolution, who congratulated the Daughters upon their work, and Mrs. C. W. Fairbanks, a former president general of the society.

No president general of the organization is to be elected this year, although ten vice presidents general will be chosen.

Mrs. Scott will give a reception tonight to the visiting Daughters at Memorial hall, the home of the society.

SLAYERS OF POLICEMAN GRANTED CONTINUANCE

Mobile, Ala., April 15.—Judge Semmes, in the city court today, granted a motion of the attorneys for Mrs. Mary T. Godau and Mrs. Virginia Theresa Wasserlaben, charged with the murder of Policeman Fred Wasserlaben, husband of the latter, on December 30 last, for a continuance until later in the term, on the ground that they had not had sufficient time to prepare a petition for a mandamus to the supreme court to compel the lower court to grant a change of venue. Announcement was made that the petition for the mandamus would be filed on Tuesday.

MEYER BOYS AND TAYLOR INDICTED

Judge Felton Takes a Rap at Macon Police for Not Enforcing Law.

Macon, Ga., April 15.—(Special.)—The April criminal term of the superior court convened here today and a short time after the organization of the grand jury three true bills were returned.

Lep and Albert Meyer were both held on the charge of murder in connection with the shooting of Mary Moore, a woman of the restricted district, several weeks ago.

G. F. Tindall was indicted for the murder of C. H. Taylor.

Judge Felton in his charge to the grand jury made it plain that Sheriff J. R. Hicks should not be held responsible for the non-enforcement of the prohibiton law in the city of Macon and declared that it was entirely up to the police whether or not the law is enforced.

$788,000 WANTED FOR FLOOD RELIEF

Special Message Asking Appropriation Sent to Congress by Taft.

Washington, April 15.—President Taft today sent to congress a special message urging the immediate appropriation of amounts aggregating nearly $788,000 for use in controlling the floods of the Mississippi river and to aid flood sufferers.

The message asked for $300,000 in addition to the $350,000 already appropriated, to be used in strengthening the levees; $275,000 for expenses of the quartermaster general's department in furnishing shelter, forage for cattle and horses, transportation, etc., and $212,897 for rations already supplied or to be supplied to destitute persons.

The president based his request on estimates made by the secretary of war which accompanied the message.

"The crest of the flood," read the message, "is now reaching the lower portion of the Mississippi, where the country is flatter and where the danger to the levees is at least as great as above, and where the damage and loss to persons and property, if crevasses occur, will be far greater than on the upper river, necessitating even a greater amount of relief work than that already incurred.

"These estimates have been carefully made and are based on communications of officers of the army now upon the ground superintending the relief and engineering the work.

"I respectfully urge upon congress the importance of meeting this great emergency."

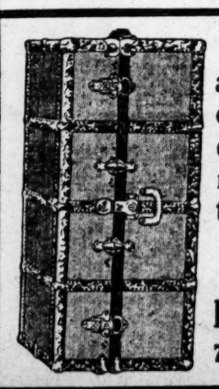

The rivers and harbors committee of the house today voted to favorably report a bill appropriating $300,000 for work on the Mississippi river and tributaries in addition to the $350,000 already appropriated.

NINETEEN PASSENGERS HURT IN TRAIN WRECK

Pueblo, Colo., April 15.—Nineteen passengers were injured, several of them seriously, when the Pueblo section of the Rocky Mountain limited, on the Rock Island was ditched this afternoon at Cuba, eleven miles north of here.

The accident was caused by a broken angle bar on a switch. The engine and mail car crossed over safely, but the day coach was overturned.

All the injured passengers were in the day coach. Only six of those on board the entire train escaped without injury.

Once you could tell the new arrival by the creases in his clothes. That was before the day of our 1912 Fiber Wardrobe Trunks. They are built to keep out wrinkles.

SPRING CHANGES TO SUMMER TIME

Transition in Seasons Requires Only Twenty-Four Hours.

The transition from spring to summer took but one twenty-four hours—between 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon and the same hour Monday—and from threatened spring showers the clouds during the same time ceased to threaten and instead opened up in a regular orthodox summer thunder storm.

Unlike thunder storms, however, the rain did not cease after a half hour of downfall, but instead continued into the night, and at 9 o'clock last night it seemed probable that the deficiency of 1.80 inches for April would be wiped out. Something like an inch of rain fall between 4 o'clock and 3 o'clock.

The streams throughout Georgia will again rise and bring woe to many farmers and their dependents if the prediction of the weather man proves true, for Forecaster von Herrmann said Monday that rain would propably fall throughout Tuesday. If such is the case the streams, which are already flush, will again overflow the damp bottoms and plowing, which has been done since the first of the month, will go for nought.

The heaviest downpour since some five inches of rain fell in twelve hours some time ago was that which came last night between 6 and 7 o'clock, just as the majority of business men were getting home from their offices. A large number of them got well soaked and the big Monday crowd was also sadly wetted.

FOR UNDERWOOD; NO SECOND CHOICE

Alabama Democrats Will Name Delegates to Baltimore Wednesday.

Montgomery, Ala., April 15.—Oscar W. Underwood will be indorsed by the state democratic convention, which meets here Wednesday, and twenty-four delegates will be named to the national convention with instructions to vote for the Alabamian for president, with no second choice.

These will be the main features of the convention, according to local and state politicians, who are beginning to gather for the annual meeting. Predictions are that the convention will be a harmonious one. Efforts will be made to inject factional differences into the meeting, but it is claimed that these will not effect the results.

The executive committee will hold its meeting Tuesday. It has but one county delegation contest to settle. Henry D. Clayton, congressman from the third district, will be named temporary chairman of the convention and H. S. D. Mallory, defeated candidate for governor in 1910, will be elected permanent chairman.

The main fight in the convention will be for places on the delegation to the national convention. Eighteen delegates will be from the nine districts, while six will be from the state-at-large.

Some effort will be made to unseat the executive committee, following its action early in the year to dominate the election of county delegations. The committee claims to be elected for four years, while the opposition says the convention can remove it with or without cause.

NOT ALL WILSON IN PENNSYLVANIA

Claimed Delegation Will Be Divided Between Four Candidates.

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, April 15.—(Special.)—Clark headquarters tonight refuse to concede taht Wilson has carried Pennsylvania and refer to a dispatch from Philadelphia quoting Colonel J. M. Guffey as saying that the delegation would be divided between Wilson, Clark, Harmon and Underwood.

Since it is admitted that Mr. Guffey will control the delegation, this is considered most significant.

It is also asserted that the Pennsylvania primary law of 1906 as amended in 1911 does not impose any instructions or obligation upon delegates elected in that state.

Section two of the law simply says delegates to state and national conventions, except delegates from the state-at-large, shall be selected in a primary.

The only requirement for a party ticket being put in the field is that one of its candidates must have received at least 2 per cent of the largest entire vote cast in the state for any candidate at the last general election.

The Wilson headquarters claim 74 of the 76 delegates from Pennsylvania.

After the Trusts.

Washington, Apirl 15.—Senator Pomerene today urged the senate to direct Attorney General Wickersham to bring criminal prosecutions against the officials of the Standard Oil and American Tobacco Company. He accused the attorney general of ignoring the Sherman anti-trust law, of paying no attention to supreme court findings and of suspending the operation of the criminal law.

MONDAY IN CONGRESS.

Edwards, lawyer; T. B. Mathershed, merchant; J. W. Brooks, blacksmith; R. H. Parker, sheriff; O. F. Goldin, R. F. D. carrier.

Underwood will, without a doubt, carry Haralson county by a very large majority.

CONVICT'S LIBERTY DELAYED 20 DAYS BY CARELESSNESS

Failure to properly handle a paper which meant freedom to a white man, reunion with his wife and a happy Christmas for his children, cost A. L. McGahey, of Porterdale, twenty days' extra service in the chaingang and his wife many sleepless nights and bitter tears. The story came to light yesterday through the efforts of A. Hardy Ulm, secretary to Governor Brown, to do the imprisoned man justice.

McGahey was sentenced to thirty months in the chaingang for selling whisky and gaming. This sentence was reduced by Governor Smith to one year, but McGahey was never released.

At Christmas time the lonely wife heard of a plan whereby she might purchase her husband's freedom for $75. Just what the saving of that $75 meant to her and the children no one knows. It went to "some lawyer," as she expressed it.

Nothing happened after she paid the money to "that lawyer." Things went hard with the McGahey family, the support of the two daughters, about 8 years old, fell on the mother, and how hard was the struggle is shown by the interest neighbors took in the case and the fact that they circulated a petition asking the pardon of the prisoner.

Finally vague rumors of the governor's action in some way reached her. She went to the prison commission, but they, of course, knew nothing of it. She determinedly walked into the governor's office, apologetic for the trouble she was causing, but oh so anxious about her husband.

Finally, after she had explained her intentions and sincerity because she thought they doubted her mission, a search by Secretary Ulm and Secretary Perry revealed the papers, carelessly thrust in a pigeon hole, and the woman and her children departed happy.

ROADS AND EMPLOYEES ARE IN CONFERENCE

Washington, April 15.—Conferences are in progress here today between committees representing the shop employees and officials of the Southern railway, Cincinnati, New Orleans and Texas, Alabama Great Southern, Mobile and Ohio and the Georgia Southern and Florida railways. In a statement issued at the Southern offices this afternoon, it is said that the conference deals with rules of service and is an annual consideration of those matters.

John Dalzell Beaten.

Pittsburg, April 15.—John Dalzell, congressman from the thirtieth Pennsylvania district, has been defeated for the congressional nomination by M. Clyde Kelly, a progressive. The result was definitely known late today when the official count was being made. With but two small country districts missing Dalzell received 9,418, Kelly 9,902. The vote from the missing districts is not sufficient to overcome Kelly's lead.

MISS LILLIAN ESTES NAMED SPONSOR FOR MACON CAMP

Macon, Ga., April 15.—(Special.)—Miss Lillian Estes, daughter of Colonel Claude Estes, has been named sponsor for the R. A. Smith camp of United Confederate veterans, of Macon, at the reunion to be held here in May. Miss Estes is one of the most popular young ladies in Macon and is well suited to the honor that has been bestowed upon her. She is of confederate ancestry on both sides of the family. Her grandfather, Judge John B. Estes, entered the war as captain of the Estes Guards at Jonesboro. Later, upon the organization of the Forty-fifth Georgia regiment, he was made lieutenant colonel. When Colonel Robert A. Smith, after whom the Macon camp is named, was shot down at the battle of Ellison's Mill, Lieutenant Estes took his place and fought through the rest of the battle as colonel of the regiment.

The maternal grandfather of Miss Estes was John E. Jones, assistant adjutant general in the staff of Major General G. W. Smith, and major of the Fourteenth battalion of the Georgia State Guards. He was a cousin of President Davis and his brother, Major George Jones, with Vice President Stephens and Dr. Manley, rode with him to the inauguration.

R. A. Smith camp has also named its delegates to the reunion. They are H. J. Napier, R. B. Hall, J. W. Preston, Sr., J. F. Hodges and A. H. Rice. Alternates: B. I. Driggers, George W. Mann, G. S. Westcott, W. H. Castellow and J. A. Jarrell.

The camp has invited Miss Grace Lumpkin, whose speech at Little Rock did much to bring the reunion to Macon, to speak at the public exercises welcoming the veterans to Macon in May. It is also planned to give a reception in honor of Miss Lumpkin and Miss Regina Rambo, of Marietta, who also did valuable work for Macon at Little Rock. Miss Lumpkin will be the official sponsor for the city government of Macon at the reunion.

Miss Bell's Success.

With the growing publicity which is being given the work of women everywhere, there are constant surprises in the quiet achievements of those who are close at home.

A notable instance is the success of Miss Annie May Bell, a south Georgia woman, whose school of music is an institution unique in this part of the country. She will present the faculty and advanced students of this school, the headquarters of which is located in Americus, in concert at Cable hall on Friday evening, April 19, at 8:30 o'clock, and a number of invitations have been issued in Atlanta.

The following story from Americus is interestingly descriptive of Miss Bell and her work:

"The Bell school, besides many other things, holds the unique position of being the representative Faelten school of the south. The head of this school is located in Americus, Ga., with branches in Albany, Montezuma and Cordele, with a faculty of seven teachers and an enrollment of 250 pupils.

"To behold her school as it stands today and to know that it is the result of the unaided efforts of one woman brings about a mixture of feeling in which that of amazement predominates; nevertheless for those who are acquainted with Miss Bell's unusual personality, her capacity for hard work and for inspiring this in others, above all, for the spontaneous giving out to others all that comes within her vision, the explanation is, after all, not far to seek.

"Like most musicians, she looks back on a long line of teachers. Her training began under graduates of the conservatories of New England and Cincinnati. Then she studied under Scharvenka and profited by a course under Mary Pinney. The normal course of the Faelton school, of Boston, was her next preparation, its principle of work to secure the simultaneous development of concentrated attention, positive knowledge, intelligent ear, reliable memory, fluency in sight reading and artistic pianoforte playing; in other words, general musical proficiency.

"When her work under Faelten was completed Miss Bell studied under Joseffy. Her next course was with the celebrated concert artist, Augusta Cottlow, under whom she studied both in New York and Berlin. Miss Cottlow was a pupil of Busoni's and Miss Bell considers herself as indebted to her for the practical analytical phase of the work. Harmony was studied under Homer Norris and Thomas Tapper, of New York.

"Besides the direct training provided by Miss Bell's school, it has been responsible for bringing to Americus some of the world's greatest artists in recital."

Bridal Dinner.

Dr. and Mrs. E. D. Crawford will entertain at dinner tonight in their apartment at the DeSoto in compliment to Miss Lelia Sims and Mr. H. H. White, whose marriage takes place the 24th.

Supper Party.

Miss Helen Jones gave a pretty supper party last night in compliment to Miss Emma Kate Amorous and her guest, Miss Isabel Wright, of New York. Messrs. Tyler Waller, Ben Lumpkin and Royston Cabaniss completed the party, and they were seated for supper at a prettily appointed table, its centerpiece of crabapple blossoms and white lilacs. All the color details were pink and white, and the charming young hostess wore a lingerie gown with a pink sash.

After supper there was a box party at the Forsyth.

To Mrs. Patterson.

The afternoon tea to be given Wednesday by Mrs. W. T. Newman will be a delightful affair in compliment to her daughter, Mrs. John L. Patterson, of North Carolina.

Assisting in entertaining will be Mrs. Walter Howard, Miss Frances Newman, Mrs. Don A. Pardee and the members of an art circle to which Mrs. Howard and Mrs. Newman belong—Mrs. L. C. Hopkins, Mrs. Hollins Randolph, Mrs. Julian Harris, Mrs. Frank Callaway, Mrs. Sam N. Evins, Mrs. S. T. Weyman, Mrs. Samuel Inman and others.

Theater Party.

Mr. Barrington King gave a theater party at the Forsyth last night, and his guests were Miss Alice May Rushton, Miss Annie Stone, Mrs. Joseph Patton, of Charlotte, N. C.; Messrs. Thomas Olmstead, Robert Rushton and Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Owens.

After Dinner Dance.

Among those who will entertain at the opera dinner dance at the Driving Club next Thursday night will be Dr. E. G. Ballinger, Mr. W. E. Bush, Mr. W. A. Speer, a party of young men and others.

Bowling Party.

Miss Genevieve Morris will give a bowling party this afternoon at the Driving Club in compliment to her attractive guest, Miss Bessie Conroy, of Orange, N. J.

At the Driving Club.

Among those entertaining at the informal Sunday night supper were Messrs. Berrien Smith, Frank B. Day, Mitchell King, W. E. Wood, David Kirkland, C. I. Winship, Robert Riley, Robert Alston, Thomas Lyon, Robert Ryan, J. B. Connally, Ben Lee Crew, Charles Sciple, Albert Howell, Jr.

Series of Parties.

Miss Helen Jones will entertain after the opera season at a series of bridge parties.

To Mr. and Mrs. Townley.

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Townley and Miss Nona Townley will be at home to their friends Wednesday from 4 to 6 o'clock and 8 to 10 in honor of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Townley.

To Miss Sims.

In compliment to Miss Lelia Sims, a bride-elect, Miss Mary Word will entertain on Friday afternoon.

Mrs. B. M. Boykin will entertain at bridge Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Howell Dodd will entertain on Monday afternoon.

Butterflies' Tea.

A pretty affair of this afternoon will be the tea given by the Butterflies, at the home of Mrs. J. E. Evins, on Juniper street, the guests to include only the Butterflies and their alternates.

Recital of Bell Piano School.

Miss Bell will present the faculty and advanced students of the Bell Piano school, of Americus, Ga., Friday evening, April 19, at 8:30 o'clock, in recital at Cable hall. Invitations have been issued.

Mrs. Foster Entertains Delegates.

The entire delegation leaving Atlanta Saturday at noon to attend the national convention, Daughters of the American Revolution, were entertained delightfully at dinner en route by Mrs. Shepard W. Foster, state regent of Georgia.

Woman Suffrage Meeting.

At a meeting of the Atlanta Civic League on Wednesday afternoon, Miss Alice Ormond, an Atlanta girl who is successfully engaged in journalistic work in New York city, will speak on "The Woman Suffrage Movement in the North."

The suffragists of New York city are adopting somewhat militant methods. "Votes for Women" meetings are held on the street corners. Wall street was recently invaded by a delegation of suffrage speakers, headed by Rev. Anna Howard Shaw, and the big suffrage parade along Fifth avenue is still fresh in the memory of those who are interested in this movement. Miss Ormond attended these meetings, met and observed all kinds and conditions of suffragists and suffragettes, and her address promises to be a treat to everyone interested in the vital issues of today. Mrs. A. Cunningham, one of our foremost educators, and at one time president of the Alabama Woman Suffrage Association, will speak on "The Non-militant Suffrage Movement." Alabama has within the last few days commenced an active state-wide campaign for the enfranchisement of the women of Alabama. The brilliant author, Mary Johnson, will stump the state for woman suffrage.

Mrs. M. L. McLendon, president of the Georgia Woman Suffrage Association, will speak on "Votes for the Women of Georgia." Mrs. McLendon has been writing and speaking for woman suffrage for twenty-two years. She wields a fearless and an effective pen, and in her speeches the sound, common sense of her arguments, her keen wit and good humor never fail to delight her audience.

This "votes for women" meeting of the Atlanta Civic League will be held in the assembly hall of Carnegie library at 3 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon, and a cordial invitation is extended to everyone interested.

Mrs. Broughton Entertained.

One of the most enjoyable affairs of the past week was the "surprise party" given to Mrs. Len G. Broughton at her home on Spring street by the Ladies' Aid Society of the Baptist Tabernacle. Sixty ladies were present to show their love and good will. Dr. and Mrs. Robert Stuart MacArthur were guests of honor, and thoroughly enjoyed the occasion. Delicious cake and ices were served by Mrs. W. L. Alcutt, Mrs. C. W. Hatcher, Mrs. Charles Bellingrath and Miss Bessie Holley. The punch bowl was presided over by Mrs. W. P. Thompson and Mrs. Meredith. A happy feature of the afternoon was the presentation of a "birthday" book to Mrs. Broughton from the ladies. In presenting the gift Mrs. George T. Peacock, president of the society, assured Mrs. Broughton of the love and loyalty of the Tabernacle ladies and of their sorrow at her going away. Mrs. Broughton was visibly affected as she expressed her appreciation. She will leave Atlanta at an early date to join her distinguished husband in London.

Tea for Visitors.

Mrs. Alex Bonnyman will entertain informally at tea this afternoon at the Georgian Terrace in compliment to her guests, Mrs. John Bonnyman and Miss Mary Garland, of Birmingham.

The guests will include the 1908 History class, of which Mrs. Bonnyman is a member, and a few other friends.

Surprise Party.

Mrs. H. D. Shaddeau gave a delightful surprise party the past week in honor of Mrs. W. L. Collison, of Toronto, Canada. A delicious luncheon was served. Among those present were Mr. George Bohner, Mrs. Collison, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Frank, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Weitnauer, Mr. and Mrs. Max Fichter, Mr. Howard Smith, Misses Bessie and Anna Gill, Miss Katherine Dismer, Mr. John Weitnauer, Mr. Will Fichter.

For Mrs. Jones.

Mrs. Garland Jones, who has been the guest of Mrs. Norman Sharp for several days, returned yesterday to her home in Newnan.

Mrs. Jones was the honor guest at a number of informal parties last week.

On Friday Mrs. Guy Mitchel entertained at lunch for Mrs. Jones. Saturday afternoon Mrs. William Hurd Hillyer entertained at the Driving Club, inviting a number of friends for tea to meet Mrs. Jones.

To Mrs. White.

Mrs. B. D. Sims will entertain at an afternoon reception on Tuesday, the 23d, in compliment to Mrs. D. A. White, of Boston, who arrives today to attend the wedding of her son, Mr. H. W. White, and Miss Lelia Sims, on the 24th.

Bazar and Restaurant.

A fine patronage started off with flying colors yesterday the bazar and restaurant, which the ladies of the Immaculate Conception church are conducting at Hillyer hall, corner Alabama and Broad streets.

Excellent luncheS and dinners will be served from 12 to 3 o'clock each day, dancing will be a feature at night, and card parties Thursday afternoon and night.

The parish table is very attractive and has many attractive articles. This booth is in charge of Miss Theresa Erskine, assisted by Mrs. J. D. Brady, Mrs. M. O. O'Donnell, Mrs. John Kuhn, Mrs. B. O'Conner, Miss Lizzie Burke and a number of others.

The Knights of Columbus are invited to dine at the bazar Wednesday. The dancing was much enjoyed last evening and will be continued each evening. An orchestra furnishes attractive music.

Atlanta Chapter, D. A. R., Celebrates Birthday.

The reception given yesterday afternoon by the Atlanta Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, in celebration of the twenty-first birthday of the chapter, was a beautiful and delightful affair, assembling the members of the Atlanta Chapter, Joseph Habersham and Piedmont Continental chapters and a number of visiting daughters of the organization who are in the city.

The chapter house was springlike, with decorations of wild azaleas and dogwood blossoms.

Mrs. Sim D. Jones, regent of the Atlanta chapter, was assisted in receiving the guests by the ex-regents of the chapter: Mrs. Harry Jackson, Mrs. Frank Orme, Mrs. Porter King, Mrs. W. G. Raoul, Mrs. John M. Slaton, Mrs. Francis Block, Mrs. I. Y. Sage, Mrs. Thomas Morgan, Mrs. W. D. Ellis, Mrs. A. McD. Wilson, Mrs. S. W. Foster, Mrs. Joseph Morgan.

Mrs. Wilmer Moore, chairman on entertainment, had to assist her Mesdames Frank Inman, Alexander King, John S. Cohen, Francis Black, Howard Bucknell, E. H. Barnes, Sam Inman, Orme Campbell, Robert Maddox, Warner Martin, and the following young women, who are also members of the chapter: Misses Frances Connolly, Elizabeth Morgan, Janie Thornton, Kathryn Gordon, Elizabeth Adair, Mary King, Catherine Walker, Passie Mae Ottley, Emily Cassier, Dorothy High, Isabel Kirk, Annie Sykes Rice, Lillian Logan, Lula Deane Jones, Harriet Calhoun, Carrie Hoyt Brown, Laura Cowles, Bessie Jones, Eugenia Morgan, Jennie D. Harris, Etta Putnam, Carolyn King, Nora Belle Rosser, Esther Smith, Louise Massey, Jessie McKee.

The following interesting program was given:

"My Country, 'Tis of Thee"—Audience.

Vocal Solos—Mrs. F. E. Kneip and Mr. B. F. Bethune.

Whistling—Miss Harrie Fumade.

Mrs. W. H. Kiser acted as accompanist.

Afterwards refreshments were served. The tea table had for a centerpiece a tall silver vase filled with lilacs, and the color details were in lilac.

A pretty feature of the table was the birthday cake, embossed and having twenty-one candles ablaze upon it. About the base of the cake were tiny flags.

Punch was served by a number of young girls, the table banked in woodland violets.

Jones-Blois.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Bothwell Jones, of Jacksonville, Fla., announce the engagement of their daughter, Ilah Fay Peacock, to Mr. William Frederick Blois.

The marriage will take place in June.

Hunnicutt-Dow.

Mr. Joseph M. Hunnicutt wishes to announce the marriage of his daughter, Nathalie Silvey, to the Reverend Dwight Howard Dow, D. D., of Denver, Colo., at the Church of the Incarnation, West End, yesterday morning at 7:30 o'clock. Mr. and Mrs. Dow left on a morning train for a short trip before going to their home in Denver.

To Electric Officials.

The board of directors of the Georgia Railway and Power Company will entertain at luncheon at 12:30 o'clock at the Piedmont Driving Club next Monday in compliment to Mr. Thomas N. McCarter, president of the American Electric Railway Association and the officers who will arrive early Monday morning for a brief visit in Atlanta on their tour of the south, the southwest and the Pacific slope for the inspection of electric railways and properties.

The association includes electric railway officials from Canada, United States and Mexico, and invited to meet them at the luncheon will be the officers of the Georgia Railway and Power Company, manufacturers and supply dealers in Atlanta, electric railway officers from Columbus, Augusta, Savannah, Macon, Gainesville, Brunswick, Rome, Athens, Jacksonville, Montgomery and Chattanooga.

In the afternoon from 5 to 7 o'clock there will be a reception at the Capitol City Club, which will include the same visiting men, local supply men and manufacturers' agents, the city council, county commissioners, railroad commissioners, statehouse officials, judges of the courts, city boards, president and directors of chamber of commerce, the mayors of Hapeville, College Park, East Point, Decatur Oakhurst, Kirkwood, Lake View, East Lake, Smyrna, Marietta.

Afternoon Tea.

Mrs. Robert Adger Smythe will entertain at tea Friday afternoon in compliment to her guest, Mrs. Frances Q. O'Neal, of Charleston.

Swift & Company's sales of Fresh Beef in Atlanta for week ending Saturday, April 13th, averaged 8.96 cents per pound.

MEETINGS.

The parent-teacher neighborhood club of the Lee Street school meets at the school Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. All mothers in the Lee Street school district and their neighbors, whether they have children or not, are earnestly urged to come.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen will hold their regular meeting Tuesday, April 16, at 2:30 o'clock, in the W. O. W. hall, No. 44½ East Hunter street.

Hickory Nut Cake

(Recipe by Mrs. Sara Tyson Rorer)

Four ounces Cottolene; two cups flour; four egg whites; one and one-half cups sugar; three-quarters cup water; one cup hickory nut kernels; one teaspoonful baking powder.

Beat Cottolene and sugar to a cream, add water and flour, stir until smooth; add half the well beaten whites; then the nuts; then the remainder of the whites and the baking powder. Pour into square flat pans, lined with greased paper to the depth of three inches and bake in moderate oven forty-five minutes.

Try this recipe and prove that Cottolene will make just as light and tasty cake as butter, and at considerably less expense for shortening.

For Freckled, Rough or Spotty Complexions

(From The Dermatologist)

The freckling, discoloring or roughening to which delicate skins are subject after exposure to wind or sun, often appearing in spring, may readily be gotten rid of. Mercolized wax, spread lightly over the face before retiring and removed in the morning with soap and water, completely peels off the disfigured skin. Get an ounce of the wax at any druggist's. There's no more effective way of banishing freckles or other cutaneous defects. Little skin particles come off each day, so the process doesn't even temporarily mar the complexion, and one soon acquires a brand new, spotless, girlishly beautiful face.

Wrinkles caused by weather, worry or illness are best treated by a simple solution of powdered saxolite, one ounce, dissolved in a half pint witch hazel. Bathing the face in this produces a truly marvelous transformation.

COVERED DISHES IN SILVER

Their very appearance suggests the substantial initiation of the newly-weds into housekeeping, and thus their appropriateness for wedding gifts.

Our showing is an interesting one; the best material, the newest finish and original patterns giving them exclusive advantage.

MADAME RACHELLE'S ADVICE TO BEAUTY SEEKERS

Susan H.—There is no royal road to fat reduction. Careful dieting is beneficial, and so is exercise. You should consult a physician as to the best forms.

Miss A. L. B.—The lemon juice and other treatments you mention are apt to be disappointing in stubborn cases of freckles. I would suggest that you try a new cream known as Wilson's Freckle Cream. This is for sale by good drug stores at 50c the jar or may be obtained direct from the Wilson Freckle Cream Co., Charleston, S. C. It is entirely harmless and is guaranteed. I have prescribed it frequently in the past year with gratifying results.

Wilson's Freckle Cream is sold by Courtney & Munn, Druggists, 29 Marietta Street.

DURUM WHEAT
A Most Valuable Food

The original Durum wheat was grown on the banks of the Black Sea, and because of its richness in gluten has always been used by the Italians for the making of macaroni. The U. S. Agricultural Department imported some of the best specimens of this Durum wheat and tested it out. When they found the right soil and climatic conditions they produced the finest Durum wheat in the world.

From this wheat, so rich in nourishing elements, Faust Macaroni is made. For this reason Faust Macaroni is the most nutritious food of all—and, best of all, it contains that nourishment in the most easily digested form. It is all food, good food without waste.

Faust Macaroni is a cheap food, too. A 5c package will make the principal part of a meal for a family of five—it will take the place of many times its value in meat.

Use more Faust Macaroni and cut your butcher bills in half—and be better fed, too. All good dealers sell Faust Macaroni—5c and 10c a package. Write for our free Book of Recipes.

GRAND OPERA NOTES.

By Isma Dooly.

One hundred and twenty of the prettiest girls in all Georgia, the senior class of that splendid institution, the State Normal and Industrial School of Milledgeville, Ga., wanted to come to one performance of the grand opera in Atlanta, but there was no place for them to rest their pretty heads. Every hotel and boarding house and place they might have been comfortable was taken. It might have been arranged even at this late day to have the students entertained in private homes, but the students preferred being under the same roof.

Prof. M. M. Parks, president of the college, was in the city yesterday and gives a glowing account of this year's prosperity in the school. It is probable that the senior class will still make their trip to Atlanta for a two days' visit, but it will have to be after the season of opera, where they can make merry under the same roof.

To Miss Geraldine Farrar.

Mr. and Mrs. John E. Murphy will entertain at dinner Tuesday evening, April 23, at the Piedmont Driving Club, in honor of Miss Geraldine Farrar. The party will include twelve, all of whom are Miss Farrar's friends, made on the occasion of her previous visit here. It will give them an opportunity to meet her in all her charm as the individual woman; for aside from her genius and art as the great singer and the actress, Miss Farrar is a charming personality. She has a wit, a grace and brilliancy in conversation which center about her interest and admiration. She will sing in the matinee performance of La Boheme Tuesday afternoon and the dinner will be that evening.

Get There Early.

Atlanta has become recognized now as a center in the south of that part of art which the opera represents and Atlanta must realize her responsibility and live up to it. She must arrive at the opera and be in her seat, well settled; wrap adjusted, program folded, lorgnette set and that all done when the curtain rises. People have had plenty of time to get ready for the opera; to have made their plans ahead; it is silly to have big dinners before hand that cause people to be late; people can eat dinners any time, but the opera only comes once a year, and all social functions should be after the performance, the dinner nights to be Tuesday and Thursday nights after the matinees, and the supper nights Monday, Wednesday, Friday and Saturday nights, after the performances.

Stay Till It Is Over.

Sometimes there is an excuse for people getting to opera late; the baby may cry at the last minute; the long distance telephone may ring; an automobile tire may go to the bad, but there is no excuse on earth for people not remaining in their seats until the last note of the orchestra is sounded in the last act.

When they leave before it is over, they not only miss the great climax themselves, but they disturb the people around, and the sound of the steps going out jar upon the notes of the orchestra brutally. Arriving at the doors which are closed they have to stand there blocking the view of the people who are real lovers of music, and who, not only have their view obstructed, but cannot hear distinctly on account of the shuffling and pushing of the ill-bred who have congregated at the door.

The management of the Music Festival Association will no doubt do everything to enforce the observance of order in the matter of the last act of the opera, but they may have trouble, for it seems one of the few weak points of the opera-goers.

Capital City Club Functions.

The Capital City Club will draw the supper parties after grand opera Monday and Friday night when official functions will be going on after the opera. On Monday night the Capital City Club entertains the artists, the officers and directors of the association after the performance; on Friday night the officers of the Music Festival Association will entertain the artists and the officers and directors of the club.

Each night during the opera the club will furnish after-opera suppers, and club members are urged to make their reservations as soon as possible.

On Thursday evening the Piedmont Driving Club will give a dinner dance, this dance to be the event to follow the matinee performance of Thursday. The Driving Club will be ready to serve supper after every evening performance of the opera.

Miss Crozier's Lectures.

The announcement that Miss L. Graham Crozier will give a course of lectures this week on the operas to be presented will be of interest to the many who may desire to study the drama and music of the opera before their presentation. Miss Crozier will be at the Piedmont hotel.

TRIED TO RUN ELEVATOR AND FELL TO DEATH

Louisville, Ky., April 15.—Charles Hocse, 31 years old, left a party on an upper floor of an apartment house early this morning to buy some cigarettes. When he returned to the building he found the elevator man had left. He told a companion he could run the elevator, which he erroneously supposed had been left on the first floor. He opened the door and fell to the bottom of the shaft, crushing his skull and dying on the way to a hospital.

Mistrial for Lewis.

St. Louis, April 15.—The jury in the trial of E. G. Lewis, charged in the United States district court with using the mails to defraud, reported to Judge Amiden this afternoon that it was unable to agree, and was discharged. It had been out seventy hours. The United States marshal said the jury stood nine to three for conviction.

BROADWAY ACTRESS CONQUERS WRINKLES

Green Rooms and the Boudoirs of Fashionable Society Women Hum With Gossip About Amazing New Wrinkle Remover.

Society women and actresses all over the United States are deeply interested in a marvelous new wrinkle remover which has but recently been introduced into the United States by the Princess Yoe Tokio Company, of Denver, Colo. The new process of eliminating wrinkles, crow's feet, seamed skins and blemishes of the complexion is said to have created a veritable sensation. Women who have experimented with the numerous nostrums on the market and disliked the process will be interested to know that the new treatment is said to do away with cupping, plasters, greasy creams, steaming, subcutaneous injections and all the old methods which have been used in the past.

One of the best known actresses in the United States, who is no longer in the first flush of youth, is said to have been the member of the profession to introduce the new discovery to stageland. She appeared one day on Broadway, goes the story, with a skin like a child's and all signs of the ravages of time completely obliterated. She was literally besieged by her friends and finally told the secret of having learned of the Princess Yoe Tokio. She is said to have written for particulars and her face tells of the success of the experiment. Every New York train going West that day is said to have had letters to Princess Yoe Tokio from theatrical people on it. Most of them, it is said, wrote under assumed names, but they all wrote and it is declared the Rialto never looked more youthful than it does this spring. The lead of the theatrical beauties was soon followed by Eastern society women and the success of the treatment is now the most discussed thing in fashionable circles.

Much mystery attaches to the personality of the Princess Yoe Tokio and to the treatment itself but its results speak loud enough for anyone who needs such remedies and so the Denver postoffice is said to be flooded with mail for the mysterious Oriental.

HIGH SCHOOL BIDS ASKED BY COUNCIL

Finance Committee Asked to Decide on Purchase of Dargan Park.

Bids will be asked for on the city's property now used for the Girls' High school, the Boys' High school and the Boys' Tech, as the city council yesterday afternoon adopted unanimously a resolution calling for such bids. The resolution was introduced by Alderman James E. Warren, ex-officio member of the board of education.

If the properties are sold a new boys' high school will be erected, with a tech building on a part of the stockade property, and a girls' high school at the corner of Woodward avenue and Washington street, where the girls' commercial high school is to be built.

Other matters that came before council were as follows:

A resolution to purchase Dargan park, at the corner of Dargan place and Lucile avenue, for $7,500, was referred to the finance committee. The property is to be used as a playground.

To Change Street Paving Law.

A resolution was adopted calling for a charter amendment to allow the city to decide upon the kind of pavement to be used on any street for which citizens sign a petition.

A resolution to annex Capital View by charter amendment was adopted.

A resolution by Alderman Spratling to appropriate $2,500 to build a nurses' dormitory at the Battle Hill sanitarium was referred to the finance committee.

An ordinance was adopted, council only voting, to grant a franchise to the Georgia Railway and Power Company to extend its Gordon street car line to Cascade avenue.

A resolution appropriating $1,500 to purchase an auto for the tax assessors was referred to the finance committee.

The street committee was authorized to advertise for a pavement for Marietta street, the same to be of asphalt macadam, with wood blocks between the car tracks.

For a New Underpass.

A resolution was adopted granting the Georgia railroad the right to build an underpass connecting Krog and Estoria streets, provided a charter amendment is secured allowing the city to close the Pearl street grade crossing, and provided, further, that the railroad company pays all the costs.

A resolution by Councilman Knight calling upon the board of county commissioners to finish the improvements on Georgia avenue before any other work is taken up on the south side, was referred to the street committee.

The following elections were held.

For member of the cemetery commission from the second ward, Sam P. Cronheim; for member of the bond commission from the ninth ward, J. M. Skinner.

RAINS CAUSE CAVE-IN; ONE ENGINE DELAYED

The unusually heavy rain of yesterday afternoon resulted in a cave-in just this side of Howell station, 3 miles from Atalnta, on the Southern railroad, which caused some vexatious delay and trouble last night. Dirt covered the tracks for some feet and derailed a switch engine, it was reported. No. 24, due at 9:20 o'clock, was blocked for thirty minutes, until the track could be cleared, which was rapidly done by men from the yards. The damage beyond this was not serious.

PEACE WITH STOMACHS MAKES PEACE AT HOME

"If men and nations first make peace with their stomachs, they will equip themselves to make peace in their homes, among themselves and cause a condition of peace to prevail universally," said Dr. L. L. Andrews, medical superintendent of the Atlanta sanatorium, last night in his address on "Food Combinations and Values," delivered in the old Baptist Tabernacle.

The lecture was illustrated by stereopticon views, prepared by the United States department of agriculture, and a large crowd was in attendance.

"The quality of the body, mind and soul of man is modified by the character of the food. Man is literally composed of the material he consumes. Someone has said, 'Let me feed a nation and I will take care of its wars, internal conditions and the physique. The advent of the dove of peace, national and international, would be mightily hastened were the same strenuous efforts we now see so ardently made to hasten her presence directed toward a reconciliation and to a compliance with the diet originally given to man.

"That a vegetarian diet is capable of developing the highest state of strength and endurance is amply tested in numerous illustrations in history and athletic contests."

PREACHER TELLS HOW TO MANAGE A WOMAN

Villa Rica, Ga., April 15.—(Special.)—Rev. Marvin Williams, of Douglasville, delivered a lecture at the High School Auditorium here tonight to a good crowd and all seemed well pleased with his instructions on "How to Manage a Woman." His jokes were clever and fit the subject. This was Mr. Williams' first appearance in Villa Rica for several years.

SEND IN MONEY FOR MORRIS FUND

Many People Have Neglected to Mail Promised Checks.

Many of the sympathetic persons who telephoned into The Constitution subscriptions for the widow and children of Aaron Morris, killed by a negro when he went to the rescue of a woman whom the negro attacked, have so far neglected to send those subscriptions into the office. It will be appreciated if they will at once mail checks or money order for the amount subscribed, so that the helpless widow and orphans may receive the fund which the public so generously subscribed through the columns of this paper.

GEN. TASKER BLISS MAY SUCCEED GRANT

Washington, April 15.—It was indicated today that Brigadier General Tasker H. Bliss may be promoted to a major general in succession to the late General Frederick D. Grant.

Major General Thomas Barry, superintendent of the military academy at West Point, will soon be detailed either to command the department of the east or the central division, whichever position does not go to Major General Carter, acting assistant chief of staff.

He Took His Own Life.

Nashville, April 15.—Flavius L. Wiggins, aged 50, and married, owner of a disinfectant company, killed himself here today, using a pistol. Recent ill health is supposed to have made him despondent. He came here from San Antonio five years ago.

$7 A WEEK GIRL HELPED TO LOOT NATIONAL BANK

Detroit, Mich., April 15.—Addie M. Hellen, a $7 per week stenographer, who, at the instance of her employer Palmer M. Dearing of the Cook Manufacturing Company, of Albion, Mich., forged many of the notes which led to the failure of the Albion National Bank several months ago, pleaded guilty to a charge of forgery in the federal court here today. She was sentenced by Judge Angell to one year in the Detroit House of Correction.

A Good Recipe for Parker House Rolls

2 cups scalded milk, 3 tablespoons Silver-Leaf Lard, 2 tablespoons sugar, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 yeast cake dissolved in ¼ cup lukewarm water. Flour.

Add lard, sugar and salt to milk when lukewarm; add dissolved yeast cake and 3 cups of flour. Beat, cover and let rise until light, cut down and add enough flour to knead. Let rise, knead and roll out. Shape with biscuit cutter. Make a crease across and brush over one half of each with melted lard, fold, let rise, bake in hot oven.

This is the favorite recipe of a famous cook, copied word for word from her book of recipes. You will note that she specifies the brand of lard—

Swift's Silver-Leaf Lard

You will find it reliable and good for all cooking. Use it and have tasty pastry.

Put up under government supervision in small, medium and large sized, tight covered, new tin pails.

LOSES FAT---WINS FORTUNE

The Amazing Story of How Marjorie Hamilton, Compelled to Reduce Her Weight or Lose Her Employment, Found a Drugless Treatment for Making Fat Vanish.

ACTRESSES AND SOCIETY WOMEN REJOICE OVER THEIR NEW SLENDER FIGURES

She Has Built NOT on the Tears of Disappointed Patrons, But on the Smiles and Joy of Those Who Came to Her Not in Vain.

MOST DISCUSSED BUSINESS WOMAN IN AMERICA TELLS SECRETS OF HER SUCCESS

BY ADA LEE.

I have just met and talked to a REAL woman. When instructed to interview Marjorie Hamilton, who has won fame and fortune by teaching fat people how to grow slim by her drugless treatment, I didn't know just what kind of a person I expected to meet; but I do know that, no matter what my expectations were, I was most agreeably disappointed.

I was ushered into her rooms and a slim, exquisite, girlish young creature, radiant with health and youthful beauty and with the most beautiful skin I have ever seen, came towards me with a genuine sure-fire smile beaming at me across her outstretched hand. I marveled to myself. Could this fresh, wholesome, buoyant slip of a girl be the most discussed beauty specialist in the world? Could this light-hearted picture of unspoiled young womanhood be the marvel of commercial acumen and enterprise whose success had startled business men by the originality and soundness of its methods? I was going to find out.

After we had passed safely over the shoals of conventionality, I put my first real question to her:

"How do you account for your great success, Miss Hamilton?" I asked.

Success Built on Smiles.

There was no hesitation in her answer, which shows that the secret is not the result of chance, but that it is the outcome of a firmly established business policy. "I owe my success to the fact that I have built, NOT ON THE TEARS OF DISAPPOINTED PATRONS, BUT ON THE SMILES AND JOY OF THOSE WHO CAME TO ME NOT IN VAIN. It is my proudest boast that the best advertising I get is not what I pay for to the newspapers and the magazines, but the free and unsolicited testimonials given by word of mouth to those who suffer from fat by those I have reduced to the slimness they desire. That is why I have succeeded where others have failed. I have really relieved people of their burdens of fat, and I have done it without drugs, without tearing the bodies of delicate women to pieces with strenuous and injurious exercises, without starving them.

"I suppose you know," she continued, "that I used to be a calendar model, posing for photographers. My pictures pleased so well that they were used by one big firm in Chicago on one entire issue of calendars one year, and won me my nickname of 'The Calendar Girl.'

"The posing brought me big returns, and it was lazy work. The result was that one day the photographer had a new model. My last sittings had been a failure—I was too fat. You can imagine how broken-hearted I was. My means of subsistence was vanishing, and I could see only a life of drudgery ahead. Then I rushed frantically to the files of a newspaper to look for a fat-reducing ad.

"I found it—I found dozens of them. I tried one, I tried ten; they none of them benefited me. The drug nostrums ruined my health and I grew sallow and ill. I couldn't eat, I couldn't digest what food I forced myself to take. Some fat left me, but it left me haggard and ugly, and the pretty lines of my figure sagged and seemed to lose their symmetry. Then I tried exercises. I was always fond of sports and outdoor games, but the dreary monotony of these exercises grew every day more trying, as I followed out the courses laid down by the physical torture experts until every bone in my poor little body ached, and I decided even fat was better. I tried starving myself, but the result, while it took pounds off fast enough, left me hollow-cheeked and dim-eyed, and I felt my vitality slipping away from me.

"I was desperate. A story appeared about that time telling of a domestic tragedy. The wife had killed herself because her husband had ceased to love her. Pictures of the unfortunate woman were printed. AND SHE WAS VERY STOUT.

"That was the moving factor in my life. The thought that I, too, some day might fall in love with some man whose heart would remain closed to me because my ungainly, ugly fat body robbed me of that attractiveness that all men desire in the women of their hearts, chilled me. I went to work to solve the problem of how to regain my slimness. I can't tell you all that I did—the experiments, the studying, the consultations with eminent experts, physicians, athletes, books on medicine, the theory of body building, and degeneration of the human system. It became a mania with me. I gave up my friends, my amusements, my diversions, my pursuits, and worked night and day, weighing and watching, analyzing and studying and trying to apply to what I learned the good plain horse sense with which nature and my ancestors had endowed me. When at last I saw what I thought was a way out, I decided to experiment on myself. I was my first patron. I think results speak for themselves!" and she stood up straight and slender as any nymph of the woodlands, a picture of incarnate health and beauty, the most glorious young creature I have gazed on in many long moons.

Teaches Others to Be Slim.

"And how did you happen to go into the business of exploiting your find?"

"Well, the fate of the unhappy wife led me to think a great deal, and I realized that she must not be the only wife whose happiness might be in danger from the same cause. That led me to thinking of the other people who suffer from a too solid flesh, as Shakespeare calls it. I had spent one summer of intense discomfort when I was fat. Slender people have no idea how fat people suffer in hot weather. It is torture to them. Then I knew of many men who are in business and who must be afflicted by the excess of fat they carry around. Lawyers, doctors, bankers, brokers, merchants—to all of whom the loss of fat would mean much in the way of comfort, as well as a more striking and attractive appearance. Women are not as fickle as men, but wives do not like to see their husbands grow coarse and gross from too much flesh. So I decided to let the world share my secret. I knew there were dozens of unsuccessful fat reducers on the market, so I thought to myself: If these people can make a living by selling an unsuccessful, harmful, drug, would-be, make-believe fat reducer remedy, why shouldn't I do well by selling one that is a genuine, drugless, delightful, home fat-reducer—one that really does the work? I began tentatively, in a small way, without capital or influence. I had no knowledge of how to merchandise my treatments. I wrote my first advertisement in fear and trembling, but I put into it all my sincere conviction of what I COULD do, and told what I had done for myself. That I had reduced myself at the rate of a pound a day after all other so-called cures had failed; that my treatment was drugless; that it did not entail a starvation diet and that it did not require back-breaking and body-racking exercises. When I had finished, I read it over, and said to myself: 'If that doesn't convince the most unbelieving, I'll give it up.'

Her Battle for Success.

"The funds for my first advertising were scraped together at such personal sacrifices of dearly beloved treasures as I never dreamed I should have the courage to make. Then I sat back and waited. I had no office, just desk room in some other office, and there I sat all day, watching the door for the coming of the postman. Day after day I waited, and then the answers began coming in, slowly and uncertainly at first, and then a little faster. They all wanted to know about my treatment. I sent particulars broadcast, free, and the rush was on, and it has never ceased. The public, which eventually winnows the chaff from the wheat of every proposition, was with me. I was able to increase my advertising appropriation and enlarge my office facilities, and I was soon equipped to take care of the growing tide of inquiries and demands for my treatment. Then the greatest influence for my success that I know of came to my assistance. There is between fat people a freemasonry without rites or ceremonial, even as there is between invalids afflicted in the same fashion.

Actresses Her Patrons.

"The results my treatments effected began to be discussed in the boudoirs of the women of fashion and in the green rooms of theaters, for I found then, as now, that society women and actresses were my best customers. This word of mouth, this whispered name from fat woman to fat woman, has been my best friend and my greatest advertiser.

"My patrons are not women alone. Thousands of men owe their regained health and a reasonable waist-line to me. You would be surprised if I were to show you the names on my books—names of men famous in business, in politics, in the church, and in the professions. It is not always vanity that prompts them to take my treatment, but more often the desire to be rid of an incubus of flesh that worries and annoys them."

As I sat, spellbound, beside Miss Hamilton, a mere slip of a girl, apparently just out of her teens, listening to her story that sounded like a dream, but which is absolutely verified by the facts in the case, I marveled at this achievement, this all-conquering faith in her ideals that made her rise to this opportunity. Without money, without influence, without special business knowledge, she has built herself, out of her own brain, a fortune and a place in the annals of fame. One phrase she used casually stuck in my brain. She said: "I would have quit a thousand times if my own personal interests alone were at stake, but I felt that I owed my sisters a duty. I felt as though this knowledge I had received had been given to me as a sacred trust for the benefit of humanity. My necessity has made it profitable to me, but I should like to be able to benefit all those who suffer from obesity, and my records will show that I have given my book, entitled 'Fat Reduction Without Drugs,' absolutely free to tens of thousands of people who have written to me asking for it."

Her Duty to Humanity.

Here was the thing that makes Miss Hamilton different from all others in the mail order business. She feels that she is performing a duty to humanity.

Denver is justly proud of Miss Hamilton and of her success. Her offices in the Bank Building are sumptuously fitted out, probably the handsomest offices in that great thriving city at the foot of the Rockies, where hundreds of women assist Miss Hamilton to send out each day tens of thousands of free copies of her great book, entitled "Fat Reduction Without Drugs," now in its 14th edition. As I stepped out of her offices into the glorious sunshine of this favored climate, I could not help feeling that the world would be much better for more women like Marjorie Hamilton, more women with capability, with true hearts, with the faith that conquers. And as a woman, I read a lesson of encouragement to all women in her achievements, and I hope this rapid impression of the most discussed business woman in the United States may be the spur to other women to greater efforts for the benefit of their sex and towards the attainment of that goal that is laid down as the right and privilege of every one who lives in this great land of ours, the free and untrammeled pursuit of health, wealth and happiness.

Marjorie Hamilton, Crowned with praise by the tens of thousands of those she has restored to happiness and health by her Drugless Treatment for making fat vanish

Red Norfolk Jackets

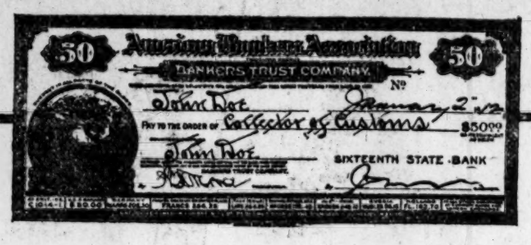

"Piquant" is the adjective that belongs to the red Norfolk Jacket. 'Tis true a Norfolk of any other color or decorative arrangement has an air all its own---BUT a Red Norfolk bespeaks anything that youth and out-of-doors may combine in a refreshing something to see.

For the "extra outside something" for cool afternoons or summer days when white frocks make up the resorts, the golf links and club terrace, there's nothing so jaunty as the red Norfolk jacket.

They are among the "arrived." They came to us on Saturday. Please see about yours at once. You'll want one while they're new.

BAUGHN'S WORK WILL BE PROBED

Police Commission Will Investigate Complaint That He Had No License.

A committee of the police commission this afternoon will investigate the reports that M. S. Baughn, who recently worked on the Frederick O. Beach case, is operating a secret service agency without police permission or the proper license.

Chief Beavers, Chairman Mason and four other members of the commission will give Mr. Baughn a hearing at 2:30 o'clock in Mr. Mason's offices in the Candler building. Baughn is anxious to prove to the police authorities that he is not a detective, and is not connected with the profession to any extent, and that his only business at present is traveling for a Chicago advertising concern.

The investigation is the outcome of Mr. Baughn's work on the F. O. Beach case in Aiken, S. C. His operations came to the notice of Chief Beavers, who also received several complaints from detective agencies because Baughn was alleged to have been working without the proper authority.

Mr. Baughn asked Chief Beavers for a hearing, and invited them to his office. He stated that he did not work upon the Beach case in the capacity of a detective, but merely in order to assist a friend, the chief of police of the Carolina city. At the time, he said, he was away from his duties with the Chicago advertising firm on a sick leave of absence, and that he was drawing pay from them during the time he was in Aiken.

In case Beach is convicted, Baughn will receive in the neighborhood of $2,500 as reward. Monday afternoon he stated to a reporter for The Constitution that if he was awarded this money he would donate every dollar of it to charitable institutions in Georgia and North Carolina.

"I would have done it anyway," he said. "I do not need the money. I did not do the work with the view in mind of receiving financial compensation. I did it to assist a friend."

FOUR HURT IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Rear Tire Blew Out and Machine Turned Turtle--Other Griffin News.

Griffin, Ga., April 15.—(Special.)—The bursting of a tire on the right rear wheel of an automobile in which five young boys were out joy riding late Sunday afternoon caused an accident in which two were seriously injured and two slightly hurt. Those in the car were Clinton Smith, son of J. G. Smith, of Williamson, a Southern railway official; Willie Wheaton, son of Clerk of the Superior Court W. H. Wheaton; David Jenkins, son of D. H. Jenkins, and Lake and Lysle Edwards, sons of a prominent merchant, owner of the car.

The car was gliding around a sharp curve in the country road about two miles west of Griffin at a rapid rate of speed. Lake Edwards, at the steering wheel, applied the brakes to check the speed and instantly the tire popped like a gun. The car turned over and then completely turned around in an opposite direction from which it was being driven and fell across a ditch to the side of the roadway, which fact probably saved the lives of four of the occupants. Wheaton, Smith and the Edwards boys were caught under the machine, Lake Edwards being dug out and it being necessary to lift the car in order to extricate Smith. The Jenkins boy was thrown twenty-five feet in the air and fell in a cotton patch unhurt. The machine was almost completely demolished in the accident and is a complete wreck.

The Smith boy received internal injuries and had several hemorrhages. It was thought for a time that he was fatally injured, but he was given prompt attention and is resting well today. Wheaton had his collar bone broken and left shoulder dislocated. The Edwards brothers were terribly bruised, but neither seriously injured.

Returns With Negro.

Griffin, Ga., April 15.—(Special.)—Chief of Police Phelps returned from Chattanooga with Walter Segraves, colored, who, a few weeks ago, forged the name of J. Walter Touchstone to a check drawn on the City National bank, and which was cashed by S. W. Goldstein, a local merchant. The Griffin officer located the negro in the Tennessee city several days ago under the name of Johnnie Dixon and was wired by Chief Hill that he would come back without requisition papers.

Patten Funeral Held.

Griffin, Ga., April 15.—(Special.)—Funeral services for Jim Patten, who killed himself in the woods near Griffin Saturday afternoon, were held Sunday morning at 10 o'clock and the remains were laid to rest in the cemetery at Mt. Zion church. The deceased left a note saying he wanted to get out of trouble and that he had lost all the friends he had. The services were attended by a large crowd.

Chandler Still Alive.

Griffin, Ga., April 15.—(Special.)—M. L. Chandler, the young white youth who was knocked in the head Saturday with a wrench in the hands of a young negro boy and received serious injuries from which it was thought he could not recover, is still living at the Griffin hospital and it is thought now that he has a chance of recovery.

BANKERS' GROUP 5 AT DUBLIN

Given a Big Barbecue After Business of Session Was Completed.

Dublin, Ga., April 15.—(Special.)—Bankers' Group 5 was in session here today, and was entertained at East Lake, a beautiful suburb of Dublin. The convention was one of the most successful in the history of the group, which is the largest of the five groups in the state.

Over one hundred delegates are in attendance, and elaborate preparations have been made for their entertainment.

The meeting was called to order by Chairman W. N. Parsons, president of the First National Bank of Harralsonville.

The address of welcome was made by R. M. Martin, director of the chamber of commerce, and was responded to by F. R. Nisbet, cashier of the Citizens' National Bank of Macon, Ga.

After hearing the report of the secretary, E. S. Scott, cashier of the American National Bank of Macon, Ga.; John N. King, president of the Bank of Rochelle, delivered a strong paper on "Single Name, Unsecured Papers—The Dangers."

J. A. Evans, of the United States department of agriculture, delivered a short talk on "The Boll Weevil Problem."

Captain A. W. Garrett, cashier of the First National Bank of Dublin, ably discussed "Should Country Banks Charge Their Customers Exchange on Outlof-Town Item?"

Following Captain Garrett, R. C. Dunlap, of the Fourth National bank, discussed the question, "If Country Banks Charge Their Customers Exchange on Out-of-Town Items, Would City Banks Offer Inducements for Their Accounts."

The bankers were given an elaborate barbecue at East Lake, which excelled any barbecue previously given in this section of the state. After the barbecue the bankers were driven over the city, and are leaving on the afternoon trains for their homes, all loud in their praise of the people of Dublin.

MRS. GRACE GOES ON TRIAL TODAY

She Is Confident of Acquittal in High Court of Charge Against Her.

Mrs. Daisy Grace comes up for trial today.

For the third time the date of a preliminary hearing has rolled around, and this time, it is said by her attorneys, they will insist that she be given a chance to clear herself. For that reason it is thought that her trial before Judge Ridley will surely take place at 10 o'clock, as both former postponements, it is said, have been at the request of the prosecution.

Mrs. Grace was uptown Monday morning, went to the offices of her lawyers in the Peters building and walked about the retail section for some time. Quietly dressed and heavily veiled, she was unrecognized by anyone. It was reported last night that she was still confident of her justification before the law.

Her husband, who she is accused of shooting, is in no immediate danger of death.

LOCAL POLICEMAN SAYS "QUAKER" IS REMARKABLE

Another Member of the "Finest" Has Occasion to Test Virtues of Quaker Remedies.

And still they come. Read this case: J. C. Swinney, who lives at 89 Pearl Street, has been on the police force of this city for over five years. For the past four of those five years he has had a severe stomach trouble, which has at times disabled him completely. When he ate a meal, no matter how light it was, he found that it would lie like a load of lead in the stomach. He would bloat, his heart would palpitate, belching spells were frequent and he sometimes had severe headaches. Some foods would not agree with him at all, and he had to be very careful what he ate at all times. He had a tired, languid, don't-care feeling nearly all the time. He was at a sanitarium for over four weeks, but left that institution in as bad a shape as before he went into it. He continued to suffer with all the distresses. He commenced a treatment of the Quaker Herb Extract. After a few weeks he saw that he was getting real, curative results, which caused him to continue the treatment, and after taking six bottles—about ten weeks' treatment—he is a well man. Ask him what has made him a different person physically, and he will cheerfully tell you at any time, for he, like the many hundreds of people who have been benefited here in Atlanta by the Quaker Remedies, is grateful for the work done in his case, and is willing to let other sufferers know the cause of his cure. And don't forget, if you suffer with any branch of stomach, liver, kidney, bladder and blood troubles, catarrh, rheumatism, indigestion, worms, etc. you certainly could not remain skeptical after seeing all this grand work done by a remedy right here in your own city.

Call today at Coursey & Munn's drug store, 29 Marietta Street, for the wonderful Quaker Herb Extract; 6 for $5, 3 for $2.50; $1 single bottle, because they always keep a fresh supply.

We prepay express charges on all orders of $3 or over.

WHAT I AM

I am the best friend you have, or ever had, or can have; best to you and for you, and best to those you love and who love you.

I do not die, I live even after you are gone, to try and take your place and care for those whom you have left behind.

I am strong and abiding when your strength shall have ended and your abiding place knows you no more.

I am there to help where help is needed most, when your last effort has been made, when your last day's work is done.

I bring good cheer to those you would have in happiness even without your presence with them.

I comfort them and sustain them with money and with the things of life, the necessities, the surroundings to which your abundance and support have accustomed them, without which they would be hopelessly inconvenienced; in fact, almost lost.

I protect you yourself against the shrinking of your conscience from the fact that you have not saved your money.

I am the only thing on earth that can atone for the dollars you have wasted away in the days when you might and should have saved them.

I am the only answer you have left to the question of "What did you do with your money?"

I do not insure your life against death—nothing can do that—but I do and can insure your loved ones against the penalties of your death, the effects of your decease, and the aftermath of your passing.

I am not alone in my work. I am not the only one of my kind.

I AM absolutely alone, in my class.

I have broken every business record in my line, and my line is the old line, the solid line, the good line, the straight line.

I am young in the sense of days, but I am as old as the oldest in point of those principles upon which I rest.

I am better than another, better than the others for you because I can and have avoided the wasteful and perchance extravagant, unwise and ill-considered mistakes of those that went before me;

I am a citizen of Georgia. I am Southern and Southern born and Southern bred, in heart, in soul, in motive and in purpose, in spirit and in action.

I am the best for you from your point of view regardless of your age or of your needs and means.

I am economical in your interest as well as mine, and my actuaries have figured my percentages and yours to the fraction of a decimal;

What you buy from me costs just as much as it has to cost to be as good as it is;

There is no profit without a reason, no loss except that which has been calculated to the last cent; I am officered and directed and represented by the best ability, the highest integrity, the most indefatigable and unswerving loyalty and devotion of any institution in Dixie, or on earth or anywhere else; I have what you want in my field of provision for you and yours. I have contracts which carry a total disability clause by which I myself will pay your premiums for you if you become hopelessly disabled or invalid, or if you do not want that I will settle the face value of my contract with you in twenty annual installments in case you become wholly and permanently and totally helpless or unfit for work, whether it be as the result of accident or through bodily disease, and furthermore, if you meet with an accident which results fatally while riding in a common carrier, I will pay your beneficiary $2,000 for each $1,000 that you pay me for.

I give you a period of grace in which to pay me what you owe, that is more than generous; thirty-one days, one month after the first.

I do more than this; at the end of the third year or any subsequent year while our contract with each other is in force, I will loan you on the sole security of our contract the full cash value of it at the lowest legal interest rate.

I will go further: If you fail to repay the loan you owe me I will keep your contract alive until what you owe against it equals or exceeds what you might owe if you took all you could borrow on it.

I have special options and choices which I give you which are unlike any other offers of similar kind you have ever had from a similar source, and I want you to write to me and let me tell you about these before you decide upon any.

I believe that I can do more for you to please you and satisfy you and hold you safe against the consequences of the inevitable than any other financial power in the world;

I believe you will believe this and that I can show you and convince you that I am right and just and fair and generous as I can be in fairness to us both;

I have the willingness to do these things for you, and I bring the offer of them and of my service to you now in the honest, earnest hope that you will take my hand and arm and make my strength your strength, my support your support, my fortitude your fortitude, my security your security;

I am here waiting to welcome you into the protecting fortress and bulwark of my guardianship against the clutch of want and the haunting fear of poverty in the uncertainty of the years to come. I am the one power that can do this thing.

I am the only safeguard you have against its opposite.

I am your friend. I am the friend that does not leave you, even in death.

I am the only living thing that can outlive you and take your place even in part. I am the only undying, unfailing, continuous representative of you yourself that you can have or of which the genius of man has ever conceived;

I am waiting to make this contract with you;

I want you, I know that you want me.

I am for you. I am for yourself and I will go with you unto the end and beyond it into the lives of those for whom your life is spent.

UNDERWOOD THE ONLY MAN WITH WHOM PARTY CAN WIN

Benjamin W. Tye, one of Atlanta's eminent young lawyers, who is an ardent supporter of Mr. Underwood, makes the following statement:

"As the time grows nearer for the nomination of the democratic nominee, why not let us all pull together and nominate the right man and elect him the next president of the United States? Why not nominate a man who is not only a son of our sister state, and who is best qualified for the office, but a man that has the best chance of all the candidates for the nomination?

"Oscar W. Underwood, of Alabama, is the only man with whom our party can expect to win, and the nomination of anyone save Underwood means that the democrats will again suffer defeat.

"Mr. Underwood's ability has been fully demonstrated not only in his native state, Alabama, but as congressman from Alabama, where, as chairman of the ways and means committee, he is recognized as leader. Mr. Underwood deserves much praise for what he has done for the south on the tariff question, and the people of the south should show their appreciation by voting for his nomination.

"Mr. Underwood's strongest opponent in Georgia is Wilson, whose chance for the nomination is slight.

"Let Georgia go down in the history of this election as voting for the right man for the nomination, and let's all of us nominate and elect as next president of the United States, Hon. Oscar W. Underwood of Alabama."

Woman Factory Inspector.

The Delaware legislature passed two bills of especial interest to women in industry. Onew as a sixty-houh a week bill for women workers and the other providing for the appointment of woman factory inspector. The bill in relation to the working hours of women in factories aroused great interest among club women and it was largely due to their efforts that any legislation was secured.

It was found that on account of the lax state laws many corporations had been overworking their women employees. There was strenuous opposition to the bills from a certain class of corporations and as finally passed they were very different from the measures originally introduced, but the club women feel that some progress has been made.

OFFICIALS HELD; BANK IS CLOSED

Serious Charges Made, But Teutonia Bank Losses Not Definitely Known.

New Orleans, April 15.—Following closely upon the arrest last night of two of its officers—Eugene F. Buhler, president of the institution, and Joseph H. Gomila, chairman of the finance committee, charged with swearing falsely as to the bank's condition—the Teutonia Bank and Trust Company was ordered closed by State Bank Examiner Young. Frank J. Braud, a former assistant cashier of the bank, was also arrested charged with the embezzlement of $60,000 of the institution's funds. Buhler and Gomila were released on a bond of $10,000 each, while Braud, failing to secure bond, is being held.

Owing to the disappearance of certain records and papers no definite statement as to the total loss to the bank has been obtained. Some estimates, however, place the amount between $300,000 and $400,000. Mr. Gomila admitted to the authorities today that his indebtedness to the bank is $180,000.

The Teutonia Bank and Trust Company had a capital of $200,000. According to its last statement on March 7 last, it had resources of $2,939,670.37, with deposits of $1,413,569.71.

The New Orleans Clearing House Association, of which the Teutonia bank was a member, held a special meeting last night to consider the question of extending assistance, and later issued a statement to the effect that it could not intervene.

Police have been stationed in front of the bank's building to keep back the crowds, composed principally of small depositors, who began to gather during the early hours of the morning after the suspension of the bank had become generally known.

GEORGE MEREDITH TELLS OF MISSISSIPPI FLOOD

George A. Meredith, of Louisville, traveling representative of one of the oldest distilleries in Kentucky, is among the guests at the Kimball and is being given a warm welcome by many old Atlanta friends. Mr. Meredith was at Cairo, Ill., when the big floods reached that point in the Mississippi and was later in Memphis and other points touched by the high waters.

"Since I have been on the road I have seen several floods along the Mississippi and other streams, but I have never seen anything to compare to the one now receding," he said. "From Cairo down, and even above that point, everything was in danger and the people living alongside the stream were in constant apprehension. Even where the levees were the strongest there was an almost constant feeling of unrest. Levees that had been considered as firm as rock itself were no barriers once a small stream began to trickle through at some point.

"Water spread out in every direction as far as one could see and floating on those waters were live stock of every description, houses, barns, bridges, wagons and carriages and other articles. Boats containing rescuing parties were to be seen on every hand and many thrilling rescues were made. Men, women and children were taken from the roof of the home in which they had lived until it was swept along with the current. There was no way to tell when a boat was in the old current of the river except that the waters there moved more rapidly than on either side.

"When I went from Memphis over into Arkansas I made the trip in a regular steamer and rode for ten miles before a skiff took me from the boat to dry land in Arkansas. The loss of life must have been fearful, while in some sections there is not enough live stock left to fit out a single farm."

CLEAN BILL OF HEALTH GIVEN STEEL COMBINE

New York, April 15.—A controversy between Chairman E. H. Gary, of the United States Steel Corporation, and Charles M. Cabot, of Boston, at the annual stockholders' meeting of the corporation today over a resolution providing for a three-shift system of labor at the mills instead of the present twelve-hour shifts, and for a new investigation of labor conditions, ended with the introduction of the resolution of Mr. Cabot. The resolution was introduced after Judge Gary had read the report of the committee of stockholders that investigated labor conditions at the mills, giving the corporation a clean bill of health.

The report stated that over 54 per cent of the stockholders to whom a circular, by Cabot, describing labor conditions at the mills, had been sent had given their approval of the management and that only 13 per cent, chiefly women and clergymen, had expressed disapproval.

Stuyvesant Fish, a member of the investigating committee, declared that conditions were not as represented in Mr. Cabot's circular.

After taking exceptions to the report, Cabot withdrew his resolution.

SMITH ATTACKS LIABILITY BILL

Georgia Senator Says Proposed Measure Is Unjust to the Employees.

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, April 15.—(Special.)—Senator Hoke Smith today made a strong speech in opposition to the employers' liability bill which is now pending in the senate.

He attacked the schedule of payments in the bill, particularly that which arbitrarily fixed the schedule of payments upon a maximum salary basis of $100 a month.

He said the bill would stop injured employees seeking other remedies; that it gave judicial powers to masters who were to inquire into the facts, and made no provision for trainmen to be represented by counsel, whereas the railroads could use their regularly retained lawyers.

In clashes with Senator Sutherland, Mr. Smith showed a thorough knowledge of the bill and a remarkable insight into its effect in practical working.

Senator Smith discussed its provisions in great detail, and pointed out its unfairness to the men whom it is supposed to relieve.

Characterizing the law as unjust, Senator Smith said that it arbitrarily cuts down the recovery of all employees making $50 a month or more to one-half of the former salary, with the further provision that in no case shall the salary be considered as over $100 per month. A man making $200 or $250 per month under this proposed bill would only be allowed to recover $50 per month for total permanent disability, cutting off both hands or both legs or a like injury. A man making $50 per month could only recover $25 per month. Recoveries for other injuries are reduced in the same proportion.

"The proposed bill takes away from an injured employee the right to sue in the state court, to have his trial before a jury, and to make a contract with his lawyer," said the senator. "It limits his recovery to about one-third of what he can now recover. It cuts off his wife and children from any considerable recovery. It pays what is finally allowed by the month instead of giving it to the employee or his personal representative in a lump sum. It does not stop litigation."

FIRE OF $100,000 IN BIG HOSIERY MILLS

Winston-Salem, N. C., April 15.—The hosiery plant and dye house of the American Hosiery Mills, at Kernersville, N. C., were destroyed by fire of unknown origin at noon today. The loss is estimated at $100,000. Two hundred operatives are thrown out of employment.

EXPERTS ON THE STAND IN THE NORRIS CASE

Fort Worth, Texas, April 15.—Three witnesses today compared the chirography of a sermon written by Rev. J. Frank Norris, pastor of the Fort Worth First Baptist church congregation, with that of anonymous letters received by Rev. Norris and G. H. McConnell, a banker of this city. The witnesses had qualified to the satisfaction of the court as handwriting experts and each gave it as his opinion that the writing on the manuscript and that in letters was not made by the same person.

Rev. Norris is on trial on the charge of perjury in connection with testimony before the grand jury relative to the authorship of the letters. In turn the defense alleges a conspiracy to send the pastor to the penitentiary.

UNITED STATES INTENDS TO STOP MEXIC ANARCHY

So Warning Sent to President Madero and Rebel Leader Orozco Is Interpreted.

RELATIONS STRAINED ALMOST TO BREAKING

Conditions in Mexico Growing Worse Hourly and American Lives and Property Are in Peril--President Taft Allows Arms Shipped to Mexico for American Citizens.

Washington, April 15.—Relations between Mexico and the United States, it is believed here today, have been brought to a critical point by the state department's forceful note to the contending factions in the southern republic, warning them against any mistreatment of Americans.

Just such a warning as this new one to Mexico preceded the Spanish-American war, culminating in McKinley's famous message referring to "intolerable conditions existing at our doorway."

Conditions in Mexico seem to be growing worse hourly. It is still hoped by administration officials, however, that Saturday's note will have a sobering effect upon the passions of the struggling factions. This hope led to reassurances from official quarters today that there will be no intervention.

Next Step by Mexicans.

The next step must be taken by Mexicans, either through the rebel leader, Orozco, or by President Madero, from whom some kind of an answer to the state department's representations surely will be forthcoming.

"Actions speak louder than words," was a state department comment today in reference to Orozco.

Meanwhile conditions throughout Mexico have undoubtedly become much worse within the past week. The state department's advices from its various agencies show that the area of turbulence and violence had grown to formidable proportions. Conditions in the states of Michoacan, Pueblo and Morelos, forming a semi-circle closely adjoining the state of Mexico, are daily becoming worse.

Similar reports come from the vast states of Sonora and Sinaloa, comprising most of the western boundary of Moscio, while the disturbance in the state of Vera Cruz threatens Atlantic communication with the Mexican capital.

PRESIDENT TAFT'S WARNING GIVEN PRESIDENT MADERO

Mexico City, April 15.—President Taft's warning to the Mexican government that the United States "expects and must demand that American lives and property within the republic of Mexico be justly and adequately protected" received at the United States embassy late last night, was transmitted to the Mexican foreign office this morning. The United States ambassador declined to make any comment upon the subject.

The warning is generally regarded by foreigners here as wise and timely, though it is recognized that the administration is disposed to respect American lives to its utmost capacity. It is believed that the warning will have the effect of causing sharp instructions to be issued to General Villa, whose irregulars constitute the danger point, if any, in the federal control.

The foreign minister was unwilling to make any comment.

ARMS SHIPPED TO MEXICO FOR AMERICAN CITIZENS

Washington, April 15.—In response to an appeal from the American consul at Guadalajara, Mexico, President Taft has authorized the exportation of 150 rifles and 50,000 rounds of ammunition for arming the citizens of the United States in that district.

This is the second step by this government to permit Americans in Mexico to receive munitions of war for self protection, Americans in Mexico City already having been similarly armed.

The president also gave his consent to the exportation of 400 rifles, 120,000 cartridges and a large mass of miscellaneous gun parts for the Mexican government.

EXPERTS ON STAND IN THE NORRIS CASE

Fort Worth, Texas, April 15.—Handwriting experts were called to the witness stand today by the defense in the trial of the Rev. Dr. J. Frank Norris, pastor of the First Baptist church here, for alleged perjury in denying the authorship of a threatening letter which he received from an anonymous writer. J. D. Watkins pointed out differences in the anonymous letters and Dr. Norris' penmanship.

Mr. Watkins was asked if the manuscript written by Rev. Norris and the handwriting in the anonymous letters bore any resemblance.

"They do not appear to be written by the same person," witness said. "I would almost say I believe the evidences of the difference are almost wonderful."

UNITED STATES LOSES IN SUPREME COURT

Washington, April 15.—The supreme court of the United States decided that the United States could not bring suit in the Oklahoma courts to set aside conveyances by full blood Choctaws and Chickasaws of land inherited by them, whether "homestead" or "surplus" lands. The decision confirms thousands of conveyances.

AXES WERE USED TO SMASH DOORS

Riotous Scenes at the Chicago Democratic Convention.

Doors of the Convention Hall Smashed With Axes to Admit Hearst-Harrison Delegates--Sullivan Faction Held Convention of Its Own.

Chicago, April 15.—Conflict of court orders and the battering of sledge-hammers and axes on barred doors preceded the Cook county democratic convention today which split, and chose two sets of delegates to the state convention in Peoria, April 19.

For more than three hours twenty-five militiamen, unarmed and under the command of a captain of the Seventh regiment, Illinois National Guard, had possession of the Seventh regiment armory while two rival forces, the Hearst-Harrison faction, and the followers of Roger C. Sullivan, national democratic committeeman, disputed the right of each other to enter the armory. The Sullivan men insisted that the county judge had no right to order an election commissioner to open the convention. The Hearst-Harrison men declared that his order alone would insure fairness.

Battalions of Police.

Battalions of police, reinforced by more than a hundred deputy sheriffs, acting under the orders of County Judge John E. Owens, controlled the crowd outside the armory. Coroner Hoffman, with twenty-five deputies, was busy through the morning serving police officials and the sheriff's men with an injunction issued in the county superior court restraining them from interfering. The injunction was waived aside and the coroner himself was summoned before County Judge Owens to answer a charge of contempt of court for conflicting with the orders of Judge Owens. The sheriff and police and Election Commissioner Czarnecki also are under contempt charges.

Repeated demands were made by Election Commissioner Czarnecki, republican, delegated by Judge Owens to open the convention, that the door be unbarred. The militia defiantly refused, and Judge Owens, in person, went to the armory and demanded admittance. He, too, was refused. Then the police were ordered by Judge Owens to break in the doors.

No Shots From Guardsmen.

No shots came from the guardsmen. The outer door fell and when an inner door, barricaded with trunks and furniture gave way, County Judge Owens and Commissioner Czarnecki entered. Captain Ostigan, who commanded the guardsmen, was arrested, but was released under habeas corpus proceedings.

The Hearst-Harrison precinct committeemen who had been standing in line wearing badges inscribed "Harmony," entered the building.

Commissioner Czarnecki called the roll and the machinery of the convention was turned over to the delegates. Not a man of the Sullivan forces was present. Instead they and those known as Dunne men remained outside and, after a long delay, left the vicinity of the armory and held a convention at another hall.

As a result the state convention will be called on to decide between the two sets of delegates.

BABY'S HEAD SORE ITCHED AND BURNED

Hair Most All Came Out. Could Not Get Anything to Heal. Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. Hair Began to Come Back. Now Well.

Alum Ridge, Va. — "My baby was about two months old when his head got sore. It first came as hard white lumps, and they seemed to itch and burn. His head was awfully sore, and his hair most all came out. The child was very cross and I did not get a night's rest while it was so bad. The hard lumps seemed to get sore and would run. I could not get anything to heal them until I got a sample of Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment. I used them and his head began to get better, so I bought some Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I washed his head every night with Cuticura Soap before retiring and after letting it dry I applied the Cuticura Ointment. The running sores began to scab over and peel off, and the baby's hair began to come back and now his head is sound and well. The child has real pretty hair. I feel that I cannot praise Cuticura Soap and Ointment enough." (Signed) Mrs. E. M. Reed, Nov. 27, 1911.

HAIR CAME OUT IN HANDFULS

Itching Scalp and Dandruff. Cured Entirely.

51 Willow Ter., Hoboken, N. J. — "I was troubled with a very itching scalp and dandruff, and my hair came out in handfuls. There were scales on the scalp and it itched very, very badly. I was troubled like that about four months, when I began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment. In a few months they had cured me entirely. My hair is now real thick and glossy." (Signed) Mrs. A. Vogel, Nov. 1911.

Cuticura Soap and Ointment sold everywhere. Sample of each free. Address, "Cuticura," Dept. T, Boston. Tender-faced men should use Cuticura Soap Shaving Stick.

OPERA HAT AND GUST OF WIND CAUSED THE LADSON ACCIDENT

A silk opera hat and a mischievous gust of wind which carried it away was the cause of the auto smash-up on Peachtree and Currier streets on the night of Wednesday, April 10, according to Jackson T. Dick, the young society man who steered the machine which almost dashed himself and Miss Leone Ladson to death. Dick admitted in the police court yesterday that he exceeded the speed limit, but denied that he was racing 60 miles an hour. He was fined $25 and costs.

Dick told the court that his silk hat blew off at Sixteenth street, and the delay in picking it up caused him to fall far behind the party escorting Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Dana to the Terminal station, where they were to take a train to New York and begin their honeymoon.

"I don't think that I was going more than 15 or 16 miles an hour," Dick declared in refutation of the testimony of Motorcycle Officer McHugh and Dr. W. A. Wise. "The street was wet and my car skidded."

The name of Miss Ladson was not mentioned during the trial. Dick was represented by Attorney Reuben Arnold and relied on his own statement and the statement of J. A. Walker to clear him of the accusation.

The police side of the story was corroborated by Dr. Wise, a pharmacist, and Conductor Hammond, of the Piedmont line. Officer McHugh told the court that he was talking to Dr. Wise about reckless driving when the car in which Dick and Miss Ladson were riding dashed into sight. He mounted his cycle and started in pursuit.

"I know that they were going 60 miles just as soon as I started because I knew that I could not catch them," said Officer McHugh. "I just wanted to get close enough to get the number of the car. The sprinkling cart was on the right side of the street and the driver yelled to me that the auto had smashed against a post, and he said they were killed."

The testimony of Walker was for the defense. He said that he saw the car a short time before the accident and that it was swerving in and out of the car track. He estimated the speed at between 16 and 18 miles an hour. He explained that the car was going down hill, and that fact coupled with the slippery street caused the skidding.

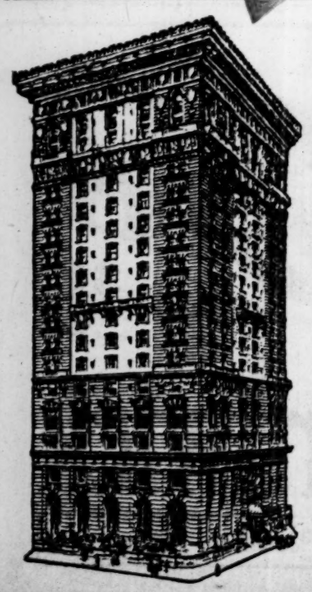

Attorney Arnold appealed to the court for a light sentence, explaining that the circumstances were in favor of Dick. He said that the hour was late and the streets deserted.

HEAVY TREE FALLS ON WEALTHY TIMBER MAN

Savannah, Ga., April 15.—(Special.)—While superintending the felling of a tree on the White Bluff road, 7 miels from Savannah, today J. J. Tobert, a wealthy timber man of Denmark, S. C., was fatally injured.

The tree fell on Mr. Tobert, crushing his skull. He was rushed to Park View sanitarium in an automobile ambulance and an operation was performed with the hope of saving his life. His chances for recovery, however, are exceedingly slim.

Mr. Tobert came to Savannah to look over some timber property with a view to purchasing it, and was watching the woodmen fell a tree in the tract when it fell upon him before he could jump out of the way. He has not regained consciousness since being struck.

TEACHERS' EXAMS BEGIN MAY THIRD

List of Salaries Paid Teachers in the Atlanta Public Schools.

Supt. William M. Slaton will conduct an examination of applicants for teachers' places in the public schools, May 3 and 4. The examinations will begin at 8:30 o'clock, Friday, May 3, and at the same hour Saturday, May 4. Applicants are required to be present both days.

All who wish places in the public schools, white or colored, are invited to be on hand promptly on those days to take the examination. All teachers in the system whose examinations have not been satisfactory and all new applicants will be required to stand the examination.

Superintendent Slaton will be assisted by Assistant Superintendent Landrum and a committee of white principals.

The lowest salary paid to the new grade teacher is $57.75 a month; the highest $77.54, in the grammar schools. The lowest salary paid to a teacher in the Technological High School and the Boys' High School is $147. The highest salary paid in these two schools to the class teacher is $189 a month. The lowest salary paid to a class teacher in the English-Commercial and the Girls' High School is $77.02 a month. The highest salary paid to a class teacher in these schools $115.50. Salaries are paid for ten months during the scholastic year.

Teachers with experience elsewhere, if their work proves satisfactory with us, are given credit for a number of years, according to that experience.

The board of education and the superintendent desire the best teaching talent to be found inside or outside of Georgia.

Every year many of our teachers are persuaded by their devoted admirers to enter into matrimony. This one cause usually produces many vacancies. Other causes will increase the necessities for additional teachers.

Teachers now in our system who have not already done so must stand a satisfactory examination to retain their positions.

All who have friends desiring places in our schools are requested to inform them of the dates of the examinations. Superintendent Slaton cordially invites correspondence on the subject of the examination.

AMERICUS PLANTATION IS SOLD FOR $50,000

Americus, Ga., April 15.—(Special.) Fifty thousand dollars was the consideration announced this afternoon in the sale by Easterlin brothers of one of their Sumter county plantations near Andersonville. St. Louis investors are the buyers.

Considerable mystery surrounds the transaction, as for several weeks representatives of the St. Louis syndicate have been carefully inspecting the fields and hillsides of the Easterlin plantation, and residents thereabout believe they have found valuable minerals of some description along the streams and ravines. Kaoline in quantities inexhaustible are found there and throughout that locality, and the purchasers may intend establishing kaoline plans here.

The land is of orinary quality, and for agricultural purposes the price paid is probably high. The sale is the largest effected here in two years, and is attended with considerable interest in view of the secrecy attachd thereto.

ATLANTA WILL ENTERTAIN ELECTRIC RAILWAY OFFICERS

An epoch-making trip is soon to be taken by officials of the American Electric Railway Association and of the American Electric Manufacturers' Association, both of New York, who will "take a swing" through the principal cities of the country, leaving New York tomorrow.

On April 22 they will reach Atlanta, where extensive preparations are being made to entertain them. A reception at the Capital City Club, given by the officers and directors of the Georgia Railway and Electric Company, will close a delightful day which will include an automobile tour through the city, luncheon at the Piedmont Driving Club, and other social features.

"Eleven thousand miles will be covered by officers of the American Electric Railway Association and of the American Electric Railway Manufacturers' Association in their journey from New York to the Pacific Coast and return," said Thomas N. McCarter, president of the former body, in an interview yesterday. "The journey outward, beginning April 17, will extend as far south as Galveston, as far west as Los Angeles and San Francisco, and as far north as Vancouver, B. C. On the return journey cities in the northwest and middle west will be visited. The object of the tour is three-fold:

"(1) To confer, not only with electric railway managements, but also with representatives of public utility companies in all lines, and with public officials and civic bodies, and citizens generally, on the subject of the relations between public service corporations and the communities they serve. It is believed that by a liberal exchange of information and views on this subject a better understanding will be established between the corporations and the public, and a spirit of co-operation fostered, in the absence of which the companies cannot prosper nor the public receive the quality and extent of service which it rightfully expects.

"(2) To cultivate closer relations with the remote members of both associations.

"(3) To enlarge the membership of both associations.

"In the United States today there are 1,300 electric railway companies owning and operating 42,000 miles of track, 90,000 cars, carrying between 10 and 11 billion passengers yearly, and employing more than 250,000 persons.

"The companies already holding membership in the American Electric Railway Association own and operate 30,000 miles of track, 73,000 cars, carrying 7½ billions of passengers in a year, and have 200,000 employees. Besides the companies, the membership of the association comprises electric railway officers, heads of departments and employees, and many other men associated with the great industry of electric traction.

"The American Electric Railway Manufacturers' Association is also an important body. Each association, in its respective field, is constantly studying and developing by constructive work along the lines of standardization and efficiency, the best interests of transportation by electricity, a public service so largely dependent upon popular good will."

Eczema
Cured by MILAM
FOR GOOD BLOOD

98% Satisfactory Results in all cases reported in last two years

For over five years I suffered severly with Eczema. I was treated by many physicians with no result. A friend advised me to try Milam, and I am glad to say it has entirely cured me. A. E. Strickler, Roanoke, Va., salesman for Bradford Shoe Co., Columbus, Ohio.

My face was raw as a piece of beef when I commenced taking Milam. I shaved last Sunday for the first time in seven months. W. K. Driskell, Lynchburg, Va.

Up until last April, for the past 26 years, I suffered with Eczema in its worst form; tried everything until disgusted with doctors and medicines. After taking four bottles was entirely well—took four more bottles to be sure. Have had no return since then (nine months.) C. H. Williams, traveling salesman, Cluett, Peabody & Co., Troy, N. Y.

Milam has done me more good for Eczema than all the medicines I have ever taken before. It has cleared and softened my skin and given me a great appetite. H. W. Layden, Spray, N. C.

I have been suffering very much with Eczema in my head, causing severe itching of the scalp for several years. After taking four bottles of Milam I was entirely relieved. Every spring I would break out with that awful eruption, until this spring I saw Milam advertised. I cannot praise Milam enough as this is the first spring and summer I have enjoyed in three years. MACON GIRL PARDONED BY GOVERNOR BROWN

Macon, Ga., April 15.—(Special.)—Nellie Yarbrough, aged 13 years, who was sent from Jackson county to the state reformatory at Milledgeville, where she remained two years until paroled by the prison commission to the Tabernacle Rrescue home, in this city, has been guaranteed a full pardon by Governor Joseph M. Brown. The girl will leave Friday morning for Panama to join her uncle, who has a position with the government in Panama.

The girl was supremely happy today when she received word of her pardon by the governor.

Her conduct since being brought to the Tabernacle home has been so exemplary that the president, T. W. Callaway, applied to the governor for the full pardon so that she might go to her uncle.

Will Postpone Meeting.

Macon, Ga., April 15.—(Special.)—The annual meeting of the Knights of Columbus that was to have been held here May 7 will probably be postponed until a later date, owing to the conflict with the confederate reunion dates. E. A. Sheridan, grand knight of the Macon council, has written Richard McGill, of Atlanta, state deputy of the order, requesting the postponement.

AMERICAN LIFE and Annuity Co.

We are Battling for the Protection of Southern Homes

If he should come tonight—Death!

Death comes prepared—prepared to take your life. He is prepared for you—is your family's support and comfort prepared?

The American Life & Annuity Company has prepared protection for each member of the family:

FATHER—To protect his wife and children and to provide a safe investment for his savings. Should he live to old age, comfort is assured in his declining years.

MOTHER—To assure her support and comfort should death remove the head of the family. No want or worry with an American Life & Annuity policy.

SON—To guarantee his education and start in business. No young man is equipped to fight life's battle without a good education. An American Life & Annuity Co. policy will assure this.

DAUGHTER—To equip her through education to take up the woman's work as Home Maker. An American Life & Annuity policy will provide the means, and prevent the girl having to go out and work for her daily bread.

The cost of an American Life & Annuity Co. life insurance policy is not large. Have you a policy?

CRACKERS OFF FOR NASHVILLE TONIGHT

Edited by DICK JEMISON

Gilly, the Gopher ("Matty" Has No Cause for Worry) By L. Gregg

Whiffs

Quits Active Work.

FRANK CHANCE, the peerless leader of the Chicago Cubs, has decided to quit the game permanently. He tried to play the initial cushion in the first games of the season but he collapsed. Hereafter, he will direct the team from the bench. Heinie Zimmerman has been named as the initial cushion guardian for the remainder of the season.

Another Deal.

AL KLAWITTER, the big Pelican hurler, does not go to the Cleveland Naps after all. When the announcement of his sale was made, it was taken with a grain of salt, as big Al, while a first-class Class A hurler, is not good enough for the big leagues. It now develops that he is to be sent to Portland by the Naps and that the Pels will get some other player in exchange. Just another one of Charley Frank's wise moves. That's all.

To Coach Catchers.

RUSSELL FORD, ex-Cracker, is out with a unique idea. He says that when he gets through pitching, he is going to take a job at coaching young catchers. "I'd be as much of a success at it as these veteran catchers are at coaching young pitchers, which practice makes me laugh," says Russell. "Any bush pitcher knows more about pitching than any catcher can tell him."

Their Hoodoo.

FIRST BASEMEN have been the jinx of the Pittsburg Pirates during the past seven years. In that time Fred Clarke has tried out eleven men at an expenditure of $30,500 and to date none of them have proved acceptable. He is now developing a second baseman into a first baseman. The Pirates are willing to pay $25,000 for a good first sacker. They have never had one since Kitty Bransfield left the team.

Will Be Regular.

DERRILL PRATT is going to be the regular second baseman of the St. Louis Browns, just as soon as Frank LaPorte mends and gets back into harness. At present the former Billiken is playing right field for the Browns. His work at second in practice, though, has impressed Manager Wallace so favorably that he is thinking of using him at the keystone througout the entire season.

The Three "Reds."

"RED" SMITH, former Nashville third baseman and Atlanta boy, and "Red" Downs, former Tiger, broke up the final Giant-Dodger battle on Saturday, driving in the five runs the Dodgers counted. Which made the New York World arise and ask if they had anything against "Red" Ames, who was pitching for the Giants in this battle. Smith is batting in third position for the Dodgers and is hitting like a fiend. He got three clean singles Saturday.

Jinx List Grows.

THE PHILLIES are the original hardluck club. They were done out of a pennant last season by a continual run of accidents and injuries. Their hard luck has started again this season, even this early. Five men are now on the shelf with injuries. They are Chalmers, torn ligament; Magee, broken wrist; Lobert, strained back; Killifer, injured hand, and Walsh, injured ankle. The players who are unhurt are beginning to wonder if they'll be next.

Another Woman.

MRS. HAVENOR is the second woman baseball mogul. Upon the death of her husband recently the majority stock which he owned in the Milwaukee American Association team reverted to her. She was immediately elected president of the club and will assume the active work in running the business end of the club this season. She believes that women have a place in baseball and she is going to try to prove it.

May Catch All.

JOHN KERR, the big catcher backstop, who is now rounding into his true form, is out to catch every game for the Crackers this season. And if the big fellow shows the form that he has been showing, Manager Hemphill may give him the permission to do so. Kerr is confident that he can catch every inning of every game of ball the Crackers play. If he continues his great form of the Chattanooga series, we are in favor of letting him do so.

SOUTHEASTERN LEAGUE STOPPED BY WEATHER

Montgomery, Ala., April 15.—This was scheduled as opening day in the Southeastern Baseball League, but rain prevented any games, and the three contests due for the day—Huntsville at Bessemer, Rome at Anniston and Gadsden at Selma—were all postponed on that account. Double-headers will probably be played tomorrow at Bessemer, Anniston and Selma.

Receivers for Oil Company.

Muskogee, Okla., April 15.—Receivers were appointed for the Central Fuel Oil Company in the federal court here today upon the application of the Yonkers' Trust Company, of New York, holder of a $6,000,000 mortgage against the Central company.

CRACKERS MAY GET FISHER AS TEAM'S SECOND CATCHER

Gus Fisher, Cleveland's first string catcher in 1911, may become a member of the Atlanta team before very long.

This report comes following the announcement of his purchase by the New York Americans. With two such grand catchers as Gabby Street and Bob Williams, it cannot be seen where the Yankees have any use for Fisher, though Gus was rated as one of the best in the league last season.

In view of these facts, it looks like Fisher is the catcher that Manager Hemphill has been angling for and that New York made the purchase for Atlanta. However, there is another catcher that the local mogul is known to be after and if he lands him, he may turn down Fisher. Who this new man is, is being kept quiet for the present.

Fisher caught seventy games for Cleveland in 1911 and batted .261. He also fielded well, and is said to be possessed of one of the grandest whips of any catcher in baseball.

The Coleman deal is where it has been for the past week. The local manager is very much up in the air on it now. Whether he will ever get Coleman or not is entirely problematical.

One other good twirler will also be landed in the near future. The deal for Ed Lafitte fell through because of the exorbitant price Detroit wanted for him and the salary that Lafitte demanded. He wanted more money to play with Atlanta than any player in the Southern League is getting.

ATHLETIC CLUB'S ANNUAL MEETING

Will Be Held Tonight—To Nominate Officers and Hear Reports.

The annual meeting of the Atlanta Athletic club will be held at the town club house on Auburn avenue tonight at 8 o'clock. There will be several interesting matters discussed, including the nomination of officers and directors for the ensuing year and the reports of officers for the past year.

Plans are under way for improvements at the down town and East Lake club houses and these improvements will be discussed at the meeting. Hence the wish that every member be present to take part in the discussion.

The annual report of Secretary B. E. Thrasher, Jr., will be one of the interesting features. Mr. Thrasher has labored diligently and selm-sacrificingly for the betterment of everythint conected with the club and has proven just the man for the place. He has several plans in mind for the coming year, too, that will bear attention. Mr. Thrasher is one of the officers subject to nomination for re-election. No club in the south boasts of a more efficient or more devoted secretary than he.

The present officers of the club are, P. [illegible], Vice President; J. H. Porter, Secretary and Treasurer; B. E. Thrasher, Jr. The directors whose terms expire are A. A. Doonan, R. P. Jones, T. A. Hammond, S. C. Williams and L. D. Scott.

The election of officers nominated tonight will be held one week later.

GORDON CADETS DOWN MACCN SALLY TEAM

Barnesville, Ga., April 15.—(Special.) Norman's superb pitching and the splendid team work of Gordon defeated Macon's South Atlantic team today before a record crowd, the score being 5 to 2. Norman not only pitched excellent ball, but by a three-bagger in the seventh brought in three men, cinching the game. The visitors played good ball, but could not get results in runs. The victory elated Gordon and her friends, and they are celebrating it.

Mobile, Ala., April 15.—Jacobsen's long drive over the center field fence in the first inning, scoring Walsh ahead of him, virtually beat Birmingham in the opening game of the season on local grounds today, although Mobile kept on hammering Birmingham's pitchers and won 6 to 0. The game was played in a drizzling rain and was called at the end of the sixth inning. Bad weather kept down the attendance to about 3,500. Demaree was invincible, only one man reaching second base, while he struck out nine.

SENATORS BEAT YANKS; EVERYBODY'S DOING IT

New York, April 15.—Walter Johnson bested Jack Quinn in a pitcher's battle here today, the Washingtons winning by a score of 1 to 0. With two men down in the ninth, Quinn issued his only pass of the game to McBride, Ainsworth drove a long single to center and Daniels fumbled. McBride continued around the bases and made a dash for the plate. Wolter, right fielder, retrieved the ball that Daniels fumbled and made a great throw to Street, who, however, dropped the ball as he was tagging McBride.

Locals Leave For Nashville Tuesday Night

The Crackers leave for Nashville tonight. Arriving at Sulphur Dell Wednesday morning, they open up a three-game series with Bill Schwartz's Volunteers, a double-header being on tap for Wednesday.

This double-header is made necessary for the postponing of the games scheduled for Monday and today, the other postponed game to be played later in the season, when the Crackers visit Nashville again.

Two hard practices were held at Ponce de Leon park Monday and two more will be held today. Although they have no game on tap for either day, Manager Hemphill has not let them remain idle, putting them through strenuous workouts.

In addition to Manager Hemphill and Secretary Lovvorn, fifteen men will make the trip. They are: Outfielders Bailey and O'Dell; Infielders Alperman, O'Brien, Howard and Sykes; Catchers Kerr and Wells and Pitchers Miller, Johns, Atkins, Paige, Dessau, Sitton and Hogue.

From Nashville the team goes to Memphis, playing there on Friday, Saturday, Sunday and Monday, returning to Ponce de Leon for games with Nashville and Memphis, then following these series, hitting the road on a long jaunt, playing in Chattanooga, Mobile, New Orleans, Montgomery and Birmingham, before seeing the home lot again.

Two Good Boxers at the Gate City in the Main Bout

When Tony Caponi and Barney Williams hook up in the main event at the Gate City Athletic club tonight, the boxing fans of the city are in for some real action. These two light heavyweights should mix it in lively fashion from the tap of the first gong until the last.

Both of these boys have good records as sluggers and have met some of the best men in their class in the world. This should stack up as just as lively a bout as the Perry-English affair last week.

George Ball and Mike Saul will put on the other ten-round bout of the evening and here is another bout that stacks up as a good mixing affair.

A battle royal will open the card at 8:30 o'clock with two preliminaries following.

Jesup Loses.

Jesup, Ga., April 15.—(Special.)—Bunn Bell defeated Jesup here this afternoon in a game which lasted two hours with a score of 6 to 0. This is a pretty good recommendation for the winning team as Jesup is generally conceded to be one of the strongest school teams in this section.

Boston, April 15.—New York, with Mathewson pitching his first game, fell before the Bostons today, 3 to 0. Perdue pitched a steady game. Boston scored its first run in the sixth, when Sweeney, who had been passed, went to second on Campbell's infield hit and to third on Myers' wild throw, scoring on Miller's single. Kling's home run added another tally in the seventh, and in the eighth Campbell, who had doubled, scored on Miller's single, after reaching third on a passed ball.

Dahlonega Takes Two.

Dahlonega, Ga., April 15.—(Special.) Dahlonega's schedule opened up Saturday with two games with the Ninth District Agricultural School, of Clarkesville. The first game went in favor of Dahlonega, score 7 to 4. The feature of the game was the fielding of Cannon, of N. D. A. S., and the pinch hitting of W. E. and W. M. Huie, of Dahlonega.

The second game was also copped by Dahlonega, score 7 to 1. Moore, of Dahlonega, did some swell pitching, giving up only three hits, while Dahlonega rapped on N. D. A. S. for nine.

TODAY IN BASEBALL.

By Moreland Baseball Bureau.

April 16.

1887—The Cleveland club played its first game in the American association, being beaten by Cincinnati, 16 to 6.

1895—The Philadelphia Nationals, then managed by Arthur Irwin, stopped off in Hagerstown, Md., and pasted the home pitchers for 46 safeties for a total of 92 bases. The Phillies made 14 home runs, Lave Cross being credited with four.

1895—Joe Kelley, now manager of the Toronto club, then a member of the Baltimore team, made two singles, two doubles, a triple and a home run in an exhibition game with Yale.

1898—The grandstand at Sportsman's park, St. Louis, was destroyed by fire. The fire broke out in the second inning of the game with Chicago and almost 40 spectators were seriously hurt in the stampede that followed.

1906—George Moriarty, of the Detroit Tigers, played his first game in the American League. He was then a member of the New York club.

1906—Pitcher Lush, of the Phillies, passed 10 of the Giants and fanned the same number of men, winning his game, 4 to 2.

1909—Pitcher Koestner, of the Los Angeles Pacific Coast League club, retired the San Francisco team without a hit.

1910—Tom Loftus, once manager of the Washington American League club, died in Dubuque, Iowa.

CLASH OF THE L. & N. WITH WESTERN UNION

Louisville, Ky., April 15.—Condemnation proceedings for a right-of-way along the tracks of the Louisville and Nashville railroad, which the Western Union Telegraph Company has been conducting in various state courts throughout the south, will be transferred to the federal courts in Kentucky.

Counsel for the telegraph company gave this explanation when their suit in the Jefferson county court was withdrawn today.

The contract between the Louisville and Nashville and the Western Union expires August 12 next. The telegraph company now seeks to secure a right-of-way of its own along the railroad's tracks.

ROCKEFELLER MONEY FEARED BY THE HOUSE

Washington, April 15.—Upon protests of a number of members that the creation of a great corporation of $100,000,000 might compete with private interests and end in controlling the government, the house today refused to pass a bill incorporating the Rockefeller foundation, and struck it from the calendar. The bill has been before congress two years.

SATISFIED IN CINCINNATI DECLARES MISS LOVELESS

Miss Edith Loveless, an inmate of St. Mary's convent, Cincinnati, has written friends in Atlanta telling them that she is satisfied with her environment. She denies that she is not properly treated, and makes the statement that the nuns at the convent have been very good to her.

The girl says that she is in the convent of her own free will, and not because her mother forced her there. She defends her mother by saying that she has lived only for her three daughters.

Miss Loveless closes her letter with a statement that she has written to other friends in Atlanta informing them that she is satisfied and happy.

THEATERS

Keith Vaudeville.

(At the Forsyth.)

The man who finds a flaw in the bill of Keith vaudeville offered at the ever-crowded Forsyth this week will have to be supplied with powerful opera glasses. Here and there are features which might be criticised, but each act as a whole offers entertainment of a most enjoyable character.

So practically all that remains is for each individual to pick his or her favorite and keep in good humor when some one else picks another act, and doesn't hesitate to tell you why.

Genaro and Bailey, billed as one of the three headline features, make most folks in the audience believe that the average press agent is a truth teller, for their work is up to the mark prophesied in the advance dope.

Their versatility is clearly shown by several kinds of stage work most excellently done. They open as Italians, come back dressed in plain American clothes—this applies only to Genaro for Ray Bailey would feel hurt if a critic used the word plain about anything she wore—and make a whirlwind finish in a dance. Genaro is a wonderful dancer, while Bailey sings well, dances gracefully and wears a number of good looking gowns.

There have been many ventriloquists on the Atlanta stage, but never such a one as Reynard. The majority of this profession space out and bow, or dance out whistling, every man with his manikin under his arm, and a book full of old jokes learned by heart and thrown into the mouth of the helpless manikin.

Not so with Reynard. He has a whole production. It includes about seventeen different characters, the little playlet portraying the experiences of an autoist who is arrested for speeding. The scenic effect is particularly fine, the fountain and the auto coming down the hill making a pretty picture.

The audience—that is the majority of it—seemed to be waiting for Miss Bessie Wynne, whose many visits to this city at the Forsyth and the Orpheum have made her a local favorite, and when she did come out from the wings—attired in a dainty Paris frock, that was a perfect fit—both men and women showed her they were glad "she was at home again." The little singer said the feeling was mutual in the afternoon, when several curtain calls elicited a few remarks. Just to show how happy she was and how much she adored Atlanta she gave an old favorite, one of the best, by the way, of the Wynne stock.

The songs she has this year, while not so catchy as some of seasons past, were all well received. The men were busy looking at Miss Wynne, the women were gazing at the dresses, for the little lady made a number of changes.

The Five Musikal Girls, a quintet of instrumentalists have a very pleasing act; DeLeste is clever at juggling, and Frank and True Rice interest with a number of difficult acrobatic feats.

Edwards, Ryan and Tierney must not be forgotten. Their act is fighting it out for the lead this week. Atlanta has ever been partial to singers, and these boys have good voices. In addition the piano player is about the fastest boy on the keys in the musical ring. And don't overlook the song (and the background especially), "Everybody Is Doing It Now."

"The Virginian."

(At the Lyric.)

A well-filled house greeted Frank Conway and an exceptional cast in "The Virginian," at the opening performance of their week engagement at the Lyric theater last night. The size of the audience was no mean compliment to the ability of the players, for the hour preceding the rise of the curtain was one of heavy rain, which gave promise to continue unabated throughout the night.

As the Virginian, Frank Conway has caught the peculiar tricks necessary to make the presentation a success. His rich southern drawl and masterful handling of his lines submerged the actor and made the character real. Sharing the applause of the Virginian was Molly Wood, played by Miss Mary Elizabeth Forbes.

H. C. Russell and Charles M. Hilton, as Trampas and Steve, ran the leading characters a close race for first honors. Trampas did not overdo. He was a typical bad man. His swinging cowboy song carried in it a tone of menace, and as he darted across the stage in the last scene set on the treacherous murder of the Virginian, he took the audience with him.

The story is an absorbing one. Beautifully staged and with magnificent electrical effects, it offers an evening of entertainment hard to equal and more than difficult to surpass.

All-S[illegible] "Pinafore."

(At the Grand.)

Within the memory of man there is no other comic opera that has enjoyed the popularity of "Pinafore." Although it is 30 years since that charming nautical satire first saw light, today it is being successfully received with an all-star cast, made up of DeWolf Hopper, Viola Gillette, Eugene Cowles, George MacFarlane, and Arthur Aldridge. Josephine Dunfee, and Elda Furry. This was the case always, however, as "Pinafore" was always fruitful of public esteem. It is a fact that during its first year of American production no less than five companies were playing its fascinating music in New York city alone, while Philadelphia, Chicago, Baltimore, Boston, San Francisco and other cities had their "church choirs" and juvenile organizations presenting "Pinafore." This charming opera will be presented at the Grand, starting tonight, for an engagement of two nights and a matinee, by the New York Casino all-star cast.

NEW FIGHT IS BEGUN TO FREE HARRY THAW

New York, April 15.—On application of Clarence J. Shearn, a writ of habeas corpus was signed this afternoon by Supreme Court Justice Stapleton, in Brooklyn, directing Dr. John W. Russell, superintendent of Matteawan Insane asylum, to produce Harry K. Thaw in the supreme court in Brooklyn next Friday at noon for a judicial inquiry into his present mental condition. Thaw was acquitted of the murder of Stanford White, the noted architect, four years ago, "by reason of insanity."

The application was made on behalf of Thaw's mother. It says that for several months she has caused her son to be carefully examined by eminent physicians, who have advised her that Thaw now is sane.

MORTUARY

Mrs. Crittenden, Royston.

Royston, Ga., April 15.—(Special.)—The death of Mrs. E. M. Crittenden occurred at her home here last night. She is survived by her husband and two daughters, Mrs. J. W. McGarity of this place, and Mrs. E. J. Rice, of Elberton, Ga.

Marshall H. Brown.

Marshall H. Brown, aged 81 years, died yesterday afternoon at 1 o'clock at the residence, 135 Fraser street. The body was removed to the Greenberg & Bond chapel, and the funeral arrangements will be announced later.

Harry Marshall Hardin.

Harry Marshall, the 1-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Hardin, died yesterday morning at 11:30 o'clock at the residence in East Point. The funeral arrangements will be announced later.

Mrs. T. S. Pain, Waycross.

Waycross, Ga., April 15.—(Special.)—After an illness of several weeks, Mrs. Paine, wife of Dr. T. S. Pain, died today. Before her marriage she was Miss Lena Selxas, daughter of Dr. Selxas, of Thomasville. Her next wedding anniversary would have been the fifteenth.

Besides her husband, she is survived by two daughters, Mrs. F. M. Jelks, of Macon, and Mrs. E. Z. Mann, of Waycross, and two sons, E. S. Paine, of Asheville, N. C., and Charles J. Paine, of Waycross. The interment will be at Thomasville Wednesday.

H. C. Wood, Rome.

Rome, Ga., April 15.—(Special.)—H. C. Wood, a Confederate veteran, died tonight at his home, at First and Ninth avenues, after an illness of several months. He is survived by one son, R. E. Wood, now in the Philippine islands, and one daughter, Mrs. M. S. Lanier of Rome. The funeral and interment will take place at Myrtle Hill cemetery Tuesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

Rebecca Tilley, Cuthbert.

Cuthbert, Ga., April 15.—(Special.)—Rebecca, the 8-year-old child of Rev. and Mrs. G. V. Tilley, of the Baptist church, died yesterday afternoon. While she had been in feeble health for several weeks, her death was sudden and unexpected. Her death was a sad and sudden blow to her parents, who have the deepest sympathy of their own congregation, as well as the people of Cuthbert. The remains of the little one were carried to North Carolina, the former home of Mr. Tilley, last night for interment.

Zayas Is Nominated.

Havana, April 16.—Alfredo Zayas was nominated for the presidency by the national liberal convention which did not adjourn until nearly 1 o'clock this morning. Zayas is now vice president. It is practically assured that Rafael Mandauly, governor of Oriente province, will be nominated for the vice presidency.

Bryan Invades Ohio.

Columbus, O., April 15.—W. J. Bryan invaded a dozen Ohio counties today carrying out his purpose of taking his fight against the presidential nomination of Governor Harmon almost to the doorway of the state executive. He ended the day's campaigning with an address here at a banquet given by the Jefferson Club of Columbus.

A PRINCELY LINE OF MEN'S SHOES

MEN are now "easing" into their LOW SHOES—and—when MEN think of SHOES, their BEST thought is comfort, even if their FIRST thought is STYLE.

They seek this combination; and they involuntarily link the name CARLTON with this programme—a perfectly natural sequence of shoe thoughts.

Then along with these two essentials troop the other necessary qualifications they'll find here—QUALITY—REAL SHOE VALUES—FINE FITTING FEATURES, and the seasoned experience of Shoe Men, whose many years daily study of "shoe fitting" has made them orthopaedic anatomists.

Add to this their superb support of a splendidly complete stock, and you have the finest analysis of SHOE SATISFACTION.

Is the range of REASONABLE PRICES FOR RELIABLE SHOES at

"CARLTON'S, OF COURSE."

ONYX HOSIERY for Men, Women and Children is the line WE THINK IS THE BEST—that's the reason we handle it.

Randolph Rose Addresses His Friends in the South

"Quality"
R. M. ROSE COMPANY
RANDOLPH ROSE, PRESIDENT
C. MANASSE, SECY. & TREAS.
Distillers
CHATTANOOGA, TENN.
JACKSONVILLE, FLA.

To my friends throughout the South:

I have two hobbies--Quality--Prompt Shipments.

That's why I've just closed out all my branch stores and interests in other stores--just have two places now--

CHATTANOOGA ---------- JACKSONVILLE.

I can give my close personal attention to these two places--know my patrons will get what has built up my big business--Quality--Service.

This is done for you--so you'll get what you expect.

Therefore I ask my friends and customers to send their orders direct to me--the nearest point--

CHATTANOOGA or JACKSONVILLE.

Assuring you of my appreciation of the liberal patronage that has enabled me to build up the Largest Mail Order Whiskey Business in the South, and with my kindest regards, I remain,

Yours sincerely,
Randolph Rose
President.

R/M

P. S. I want to call your special attention to my famous Black Armor Brand of Bourbon Whiskey, made in Old Kentucky. Price $4.00, four full quarts, express prepaid.

40 PRIZES FOR WOMEN OF ATLANTA AND VICINITY

Every Contestant Should Work Hard This Week to Secure as Many New Subscribers as Possible.

Mitchell Cars on Display Each Day in Front of the Constitution Office—Your Car if You Work Hard Enough.

THE STANDING OF THE CONTESTANTS AS THEY APPEAR IN THIS ISSUE ONLY INCLUDES THOSE VOTES THAT WERE RECEIVED AND COUNTED AT THIS OFFICE BEFORE 6 P. M. SATURDAY.

The standing of the candidates as printed below shows a great many changes in the position of the contestants who are now working in earnest. In all sections of the territory covered by the campaign people are becoming more interested in this gigantic undertaking of The Constitution. Local pride is being shown and the candidates are relying upon the united efforts of the whole people in the city or community in which they reside.

Second Payments.

Contestants may have secured a small subscription from a subscriber and that subscriber now wishes to pay the balance of the year or longer. In this case the stub sent to this department by the contestant should be marked "Second Payment" and we will give, in votes, the difference between the number that was obtained on the first payment and wh... the full year or longer payment calls for. In order to secure the additional votes on the Second Payment the payment must be for six months or longer. This offer applies to old and new subscribers alike. Under no circumstances or conditions will an individual be allowed to subscribe for The Constitution for a longer period than two years.

Subscriptions First.

There are a great many contestants entered in this campaign who have up to the present time been devoting practically all their time to collecting coupons. While these coupons benefit you to a great extent, still the same amount of effort expended in soliciting subscription payments will reward you many-fold. Every contestant should make a strenuous effort to secure as many new subscriptions this week as possible.

Have you enlisted Uncle Sam and the Telephone Company in your fight for the Automobiles, Pianos, Grafonolas and Watches? You need them no matter how efficient your corps of friends and relatives; no matter how hard you are working; no matter how fast the votes are rolling in. With their aid it is quite possible for you to win without the aid of any organization, friends or relatives, and what is more vital to many, without taking any time from your regular daily routine. Uncle Sam and the Telephone will enable you to be in scores of different places at the same time. Uncle Sam and the Telephone will make it possible for you to garner an entire crop of votes on distant fields which otherwise you would not even touch. Postal cards are not expensive and should be used liberally to advise your friends that you are in this campaign and want to win. Some of the contestants are having their likeness reproduced on the cards and sending them to their friends, giving them full information pertaining to the campaign.

Rural Route Rates.

The price of the Daily only to Rural Route subscribers is $3.00 per year, and if a new subscriber, entitles a candidate to 9,000 votes. The price of the Daily and Sunday to Rural Route subscribers is $5.00 per year, and if they are new subscribers it will entitle the candidate to 20,000 votes. However, in order that a subscriber may take advantage of this low rate it is necessary that they pay one year or longer.

Future Subscriptions.

Candidates may accept subscriptions to start at any future date that the subscriber may designate. When sending in such subscriptions kindly mark across the top of the stub the date the paper is to be started.

Open Evenings.

For the benefit of those contestants who are unable to call at this office during the daytime, the Campaign Department will remain open each and every evening until 9 o'clock.

Real Estate, Renting and Loans. 11 Edgewood Ave., Atlanta, Ga.

FOR SALE.

A LOT on Whitehall street, just south of Trinity avenue, adjoining the Chamberlin home; 50x115 feet deep. We offer this lot for $50,000, and can arrange attractive terms. In view of the prices recently paid for lots on Whitehall, between Mitchell and Trinity avenue, namely: $1,600 a front foot in one instance, and $1,100 a front foot in another, we consider this a good "buy" at the above price. See Mr. Hook or Mr. Eve.

AN IDEAL home on Elizabeth street, on lot 200x240 feet; pretty shade, grass, nice garden, east front, 10-room, slate roof house, well built; hardwood floors and trim on first floor; two stairways; large porches; furnace heat. Price, $12,-800. Terms, $3,000 cash; balance 1, 2 and 3 years at 7 per cent. See Mr. Dews.

ON ONE of the best cherted roads out of Atlanta, cornering on another good road and not far from car service, a lot containing two acres. On this lot is a good 6-room house, with good barn and brick store, 30x68. We believe this proposition to be a splendid purchase for $4,500. Attractive terms can be arranged. See Mr. Hook.

ONE of the most attractive lots on Moreland avenue, 50 by over 200 feet, with easterly frontage, not far from the Druid Hills property, $2,100. Terms can be arranged. See Mr. White.

FOR RENT.

BEAUTIFULLY FURNISHED 93 GREENWICH AVE. (W. E.)

OUT IN West End at the above number on Greenwich, corner of Dargan, we have a new 6-room bungalow, situated on a corner lot, elevated, 50x150 feet. This is a right new bungalow with cabinet mantels, electric lights, gas, large porcelain bath tub, porcelain sink in the kitchen, stationary washstand, back porch latticed; has a nice, large front porch; in a good neighborhood, convenient to schools and churches, and just a block from Lucile avenue car line. Now occupied, but will be vacated when rented. Price $35.

WHITEHALL STREET CLOSE-IN LOT.
WE ARE offering this lot, near TRINITY AVE., at a reasonable price. If you want something within two blocks of the center of Atlanta, buy this. It will bring $1,500 per foot in one year. There has been over $200,000 worth of property changed hands in two blocks of this lot in the last ten days. Did you read what some of the leading real estate men said about Whitehall St. in last Sunday's and Monday's papers? If not, read it. It's true. $10,000 cash and balance 1, 2 and 3 years will handle this.

MARIETTA STREET PROPERTY.
NOW IS the time; don't wait and pay more; you are losing money, as you know this street is being repaved and widened, then prices will jump; let us show you several pieces that can be bought at old prices; ask about one piece running back to railroad; this kind of property is hard to get. No loan to assume; price reasonable.

ANOTHER GOOD PIECE—$26,500 FRONTING on Marietta St. and running through to Walton street; no increase in price on this. Adjoining property sold per foot one year ago for what you can buy this at. Five minutes' walk of the center of city. One-fourth cash, balance 1, 2 and 3 years.

SUMTER COUNTY.
269 ACRES, 210 acres in cultivation, 5-room residence, four tenant houses, barns and stables at each house, all houses recently built and in good condition; red pebble clay lands, 2 miles from DeSota on public road. Price $40 per acre. Will exchange for city property.

AUCTION SALE

35 Big Shaded Lots 4 Manufacturing Sites And One 3-Room House

ON FOREST PARK road, other wide streets, and on the Southern railway, on the premises, Saturday, April 20, at 3 p. m.

HIGH AND HEALTHFUL NEIGHBORHOOD.

THIS property is on a high plateau between the Southern railway and the McDonough road (it adjoins the Federal prison property), lying mainly level, but well drained, making this a healthful section.

THE McDONOUGH ROAD

Is the extension of Capitol avenue, and is beautifully paved from the Capitol building out to the county line, a short distance beyond the point where the Forest Park road intersects.

THE FOREST PARK ROAD

Extends from the McDonough road to Forest Park, a residence park and station on the Central railroad below Hapeville.

IT IS logical that this road will be regraded and paved, because it, together with South Moreland avenue, makes a continuous driveway from Druid Hills to Forrest Park, making a splendid automobile drive through some of the prettiest country in this section of the state.

THIS PROPERTY OFFERS A FOUR-FOLD OPPORTUNITY

FIRST—As home sites for those who appreciate elbow room, big trees and delightful shade.

SECOND—As fine place to build small houses, either for sale or for rent.

THIRD—As the only place where manufacturing sites can be bought on terms as these, and you have the privilege of making the price.

FOURTH—To buy a manufacturing site or some lots on these terms and hold them for advance, which is sure to come,

BECAUSE IT IS AN ESTABLISHED FACT THAT DIVERSIFIED OWNERSHIP ENHANCES THE VALUE OF REAL ESTATE.

THIS IS IN A MANUFACTURING DISTRICT

ALONG the Southern railway, only a short distance from Sawtell's plant, Schoen Brothers' establishment and the property of the Southern Iron Car Line Company.

TERMS OF SALE

THE HOUSE has three rooms and is on good size corner lot. It will be sold on terms of $50 cash and the balance $10 per month.

THE manufacturing sites will be sold on terms of one-fourth cash and the balance on or before one, two and three years.

ALL the other lots will be sold on terms of $25.00 cash and the balance $5.00 monthly, and all deferred payments will bear 7 per cent simple interest.

HOW TO GET THERE

TAKE SOUTH PRYOR STREET TO FEDERAL PRISON CARS, get off at the end of the line. From there we will carry you, free, in automobiles to the sale.

LADIES ARE EXPECTED

THE LADIES are especially invited to come. A bright, spring day, young green foliage and wild flowers and an automobile ride make a combination you should not miss, so arrange to come. We'll be glad to have you.

THE AUTOMOBILES will meet every car, beginning with the car that reaches the end of the line at 2 p. m. Go out early and select your lot.

DIRECTIONS

SHOULD you go out before the sale or by private conveyance, go out McDonough road to Costley's store, at the intersection of the Forest Park road, then go to the right several hundred feet to the property.

REMEMBER THE PLACE, REMEMBER THE TIME, REMEMBER THE WAY.

REAL ESTATE LOANS

ATLANTA'S STRIDES, DAY BY DAY

ALL THE NEWS OF REAL ESTATE AND BUILDING

Several transactions of interest were announced on Monday. Dr. J. Cheston King has bought, through the agency of Carl H. Fischer from J. Drury Powers, a large vacant lot on West Peachtree street, at the head of Twelfth street, for a consideration of $11,000, or at the rate of $110 per front foot.

This lot lies on the west side of the street opposite the end of Twelfth street. It has a frontage of 100 feet on West Peachtree street and runs through a depth of about 350 feet to Spring street, where it has a similar frontage.

Making Room for Apartment.

J. H. Whitten, of M. L. Thrower's agency, has sold for Mrs. Charles P. King to E. V. Connerat a vacant lot on the south side of Peachtree place, between West Peachtree and Spring streets, for a consideration of $3,000 cash.

The lot has a frontage of 50 feet, with a depth of 100 feet. It adjoins the lot upon which Mr. Connerat is preparing to erect a $35,000 apartment house, the plans of which have been announced, and the residence which now occupies the site of the proposed apartments is being moved to the vacant lot, preparatory to digging foundations.

Sale for Building Site.

William S. Ansley and J. B. Hightower have sold for Eugene Mitchell, Oscar Ray, Charles Rice and others to the Atlantic Compress Company about two acres of ground and twenty houses on Irwin street, adjoining the company's building at Irwin street and the Southern Railway, for a consideration of $25,000. The Compress Company will increase its warehouse and plant on the newly-purchased site.

Other Realty Sales.

T. J. Sheppard, of the Robert A. Ryder Company, has exchanged for a client the southwest corner of Spring and Simpson streets, a vacant lot, valued at $15,000, with W. T. Perkerson, for No. 23 East Fourth street, a residence valued at $6,500, Mr. Perkerson paying the difference.

W. E. Worley has sold for Mrs. Mary C. Osborne to H. W. Nichols the northeast corner of Ponce de Leon avenue and Ponce de Leon place, a vacant lot fronting 128 feet on the avenue, with a depth of 206 feet, for $6,100, or at the rate of nearly $48 a front foot.

Jack H. Salmon, of J. T. Kimbrough's agency, has sold for C. H. Andrews to Miss Leola Jones, No. 25 Queen street, a nine-room, two-story house on a lot 60x150, for $6,500 cash, Mr. Andrews taking as part payment No. 243 East Georgia avenue, a seven-room house on a lot 50x150, for $3,500.

Mr. Salmon also sold for J. Coftner to Joseph C. Brown, a lot on Eggleston street for $1,000 cash.

The Crowley-Brownlee Company has sold for Mrs. L. M. Nichols to Mrs. Fannie B J. Quillian, 765 West Peachtree street, for $9,500. This is a two-story, eight-room concrete residence on a regulation sized residence lot.

B. H. Treadwell, of the W. E. Treadwell agency, has sold for J. L. Campbell to Mrs. Betty Boyd, 14 negro houses at Crumley and Frazier streets, on a lot 90x154, for $6,500 cash.

Mr. Treadwell also sold for Mrs. S. C. Stevens to Mrs. Alice S. Alden, 297-9 Grant street, on a lot 50x150, for $5,750.

The J. B. Jackson real estate agency has sold for S. J. Brown to Mrs. Sallie Ward, two vacant lots on Ormond street, near Capitol avenue, for $1,450.

Also a three-room house for Phillip Barnett to Mrs. Sallie Ward, for $600.

Also a vacant lot on Ormond street near Fraser street, for Mrs. Stokes to Mrs. Giel, for $675.

A house and lot on Ethel street for Mrs. Brooks to Mrs. J. R. Phillips, consideration $1,050.

For J. J. Kilgore, 15 West End avenue, to Mrs. Sallie Ward, consideration $2,700.

A lot on Bass street, near Martin street, for Mrs. Ward to a client, for $700.

For Mrs. F. C. Witherspoon to G. W. Billen, a house and lot on Tumlin street, consideration $500.

Mr. Jackson says that on April 27 he is going to sell at auction 70 lots just off Marietta street at Inman Yard Heights.

Court Approves Transfer.

The superior court has ordered the transfer of the Abbott property at No. 190 Peachtree street, now occupied by the University Club, from E. V. Carter, guardian of the Carter heirs, to the Coca-Cola Company, according to the application formerly announced.

The property fronts 59 feet, with a depth of 275 feet. The consideration was named as $155,000, of which amount $55,000 was cash and the rest in one, two and three years.

Instructive Real Estate Booklet.

Edwin P. Ansley has begun the monthly publication of a booklet on real estate under the caption of "Georgia." The first issue appeared this month and deals with the subject of Georgia farms. The issue contains instructive articles on gardening, poultry raising, suggestions for the improvement of farm homes and other useful matter.

The visible supply of wheat in Canada last Saturday was 29,797,000 bushels, an increase of 420,000.

PENNSYLVANIA IS FOR HIGH TARIFF

Wilson Took Keystone State For That Reason.

Republicans and Democrats Explain That Voters, in Love With Protection, Picked Wilson as Less Likely to Disturb It.

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, April 15.—(Special.)—Pennsylvania went for Woodrow Wilson in the democratic presidential primary because the voters of that state, with whom high protection for its iron and steel industries is almost a religion, wanted to indorse a candidate in the farthest degree possible removed from tariff revision. They found such a man in Wilson. They couldn't have found him in Underwood. Wilson carried the state, as the genuine tariff revisionists knew all along he would do. That explanation was put forward here today by a prominent protectionist. It is ratified by every democrat who has given the least study to the situation in the Keystone State.

Iron and steel are the leading industries of Pennsylvania. Sentiment in the commonwealth is as sharp an antithesis to tariff revision, especially as to iron and steel, as it is possible to imagine. So rock-ribbed is the protectionist creed that even the democrats are tarred with the same stick. The issue with the Pennsylvanians is hardly democratic or republican. It is the non-partisan issue of protection, and as much as they can get. So pronounced is the tendency that the few strong democrats who have broken into congress from the state have been protectionists by force of political necessities, as some of the congressmen from Louisiana are protectionists on sugar.

Wilson Not Tariff Candidate.

Now while Dr. Wilson has admitted that the tariff and its revision is to compromise the "central issue" in the campaign, the public mind in Pennsylvania, as elsewhere, identifies him not with tariff revision, but with the numerous governmental innovations he has stressed from one end of the country to the other. So persistently has he given precedence to these "ism" doctrines that voters everywhere have become convinced that with him they take right-of-way of the tariff or any other issue. They believed in Pennsylvania that tariff revision would be an extremely secondary consideration with the former Princeton president, were he nominated and elected.

Champ Clark, Judson Harmon and Oscar Underwood all embody the revision idea in the uppermost degree. "The Pennsylvania democrats believe the election of any of the three would insure a slashing of the schedule on iron and steel, as Underwood has already slashed it, even though the chief industry of his home section. They cast about for a candidate with whom their sacred protection gospel would be safest. They found him in Wilson. The result speaks for itself.

Couldn't Carry State.

All of which means that while Woodrow Wilson could carry the state in a presidential primary, he could not carry it in a presidential election against any republican.

For the republican party is the party of high protection, and the Pennsylvania voters could no more be persuaded it would forsake protection, at least of some measure, than that the Turks would abandon Mahommedanism. So, whoever the republicans put up, they will sweep the state. If the democrats put up Wilson—and his own managers know now the jig is up—he would lose the state by one of the biggest republican majorities ever rolled up.

Roosevelt Strengthens Argument.

The fact that former President Roosevelt also swept Pennsylvania, further strengthens the point raised by both republicans and democrats. Whatever his shiftings, President Taft stands, nominally, at least, for that tariff revision which the Pennsylvania folk, regardless of party, dread as they do the plague.

But the colonel, during his entire seven years of phenomenal power and popularity, never got within speaking distance of the tariff. He also, like Wilson, is more conspicuously identified with radical and new-fangled innovations. Hence, the protectionists flocked to his standard as to that of the tariff-weak Wilson.

As between Roosevelt and Wilson, the former will carry the state two to one, for at least his party is committed to protection. Wilson's chances are written in a row of ciphers as long as the vote itself.

STATE OF GEORGIA, FULTON COUNTY—To the Honorable Philip Cook, Secretary of State of Georgia.

The undersigned petitioners, whose names and residences are stated below, in behalf of themselves, their associates, successors and assigns hereby make application for a certificate of incorporation under the general laws of the State of Georgia for the term of one hundred one years, with the usual privileges of amendment and renewal, under the name and style of ATLANTA AND MACON RAILWAY COMPANY.

It is proposed to construct, equip, maintain and operate an interurban railway line to be operated by electricity.

The length of said railroad, as nearly as can be estimated, will be ninety-five miles, not including branches, spurs and sidetracks.

The general direction of the road will be southeast from the City of Atlanta via Griffin to the City of Macon, Georgia; the names of the principal places (other than said terminl) through which it will be constructed are Forest, Jonesboro, Lovejoy, Hampton, Sunnyside, Griffin, Forsyth and Macon, and the counties through which the road will probably run are Fulton, Clayton, Henry, Spalding, Pike, Monroe and Bibb.

The amount of the proposed capital stock is One Hundred Thousand Dollars in common stock, but it is desired from time to time to increase said capital stock to the extent and in the manner provided by law.

Petitioners desire authority to issue preferred stock in any amount not in excess of fifty per cent of the common capital stock then outstanding; such preferred stock to be preferred, both as to principal and to dividend or interest over the common capital stock, and to be with or without voting power as the corporation may determine. The preferred stock will bear such a rate of dividend or interest as may from time to time be prescribed to be paid out of earnings and to be cumulative; and such preferred stock may be issued in such series or classes as the corporation may determine and declare.

The principal office of the corporation will be in the City of Atlanta, Fulton County, Georgia.

Petitioners intend in good faith to go forward without delay to secure subscriptions to the capital stock and to construct, maintain and operate said railroad.

It is desired that the road may use and operate such streets, lanes, alleys, viaducts and public places in the several cities and towns into and through which it may extend as may be found expedient and as such cities and towns may severally permit.

Petitioners designate hereinafter the streets in Atlanta, Macon, Griffin, Jonesboro, Forest, Hampton, Lovejoy, Forsyth and Sunnyside, along which it is proposed to construct said railroad, but they desire the right and privilege of using and occupying any other streets in the towns named parallel to or crossing those designated, should it be found expedient and necessary in the practical and economical construction and operation of said railroad, and such as may be agreed upon between said railroad company and the authorities of the cities and towns named. And they further desire the right to use and occupy the streets, lanes, alleys, viaducts and public places of the towns and cities between Atlanta and Macon, other than those above named, should it be found necessary and expedient in the construction and operation of said railroad.

In the city of Atlanta it is proposed to use and occupy the following streets, application for the right, privilege and franchise having been or will be made to the Mayor and General Council, to wit: Petitioners desire that said line enter the City of Atlanta on Capitol Avenue at or near the City Limits, proceeding thence with a double track along Capitol Avenue to Little Street; thence east along Little Street with a single track to Fraser Street; thence along Fraser Street to Rawson Street; thence along Rawson Street to Crew Street; also starting with a single track at the intersection of Little Street and Capitol Avenue; thence proceeding west along Little Street to Crew Street; thence along Crew Street to Trinity Avenue, joining the first named line at Rawson Street; thence along Trinity Avenue with a double track to Washington Street; thence along Washington Street with a double track to the head of the Washington Street Viaduct; thence across Washington Street Viaduct to Gilmer Street; thence along Gilmer Street to Ivy Street; thence along Ivy Street to Exchange Place; thence along Exchange Place to Pryor Street.

In the City of Macon it is proposed to use and occupy the following streets, application for the right, privilege and franchise having been or will be made to the municipal authorities of the City of Macon, to wit: It is desired to enter the City of Macon on the Columbus Road, down the Columbus Road to Boundary Street, down Boundary Street to Ashe, down Ashe to College, College to Hazle; thence down Hazle to Second; thence along Second to Ocmulgee; thence down Ocmulgee to Fifth; thence along Fifth to Mulberry, around the old court house square; thence from Mulberry along Fifth and down Fifth to Poplar; thence along Poplar to Second to a junction with the incoming line, with such necessary sidings and spur tracks and switch tracks as may be necessary.

In the other cities and towns through which the road will run, it is proposed to use and occupy the following streets: In the City of Griffin, Experiment Road, Twelfth or Thirteenth Street, Taylor Street, Hill Street and Solomon Street; in the Town of Jonesboro, Main Street; in the town of Forest, Main Street; in the town of Hampton, Main Street; in the town of Lovejoy, Main Street; in the town of Forsyth, Railroad Avenue, White Street and Main Street; in the town of Sunnyside, Main Street.

WHEREFORE, petitioners pray that they may be granted a certificate of incorporation in accordance with the laws of this State.

Athirst for Knowledge.

(From Judge.)

My lesson book about the birds
Is full of lovely, grown up words;
And all the things it tells do seem
Most int'restin' in the extreme.
But, though it 'scribes 'most every sort,
Some of the 'scriptions are so short!
It doesn't tell why things are so —
And that I always want to know.
Now, 'bout the dodo. You can see
His picture nice as nice can be;
But jes' a teeny line, to say,
"The dodo is extinct today."
That means he isn't any more.
He sort of used to be—of yore.
Somehow it 'fects me awful sad,
And must make dodos feel real bad
To think they're obsoleted birds
And only get a few short words.
I sit and ponder as I look
At dodo in my lesson book,
And think, with fastly flowing tears,
Of his long, sad extincted years,
And wonder why it is the fate
Of dodos to be out of date.
But, though I've thinked and thinked and thinked
What makes the dodo be extinct,
I don't know why it is—do you?—
And teacher says he doesn't, too!

COTTON IS OFF UNDER REALIZING

Lower Liverpool Cables Also Factor in the Decline. Spot Lower.

New York, April 15.—The cotton market was quiet today, under realizing by recent buyers and local selling, inspired by lower Liverpool cables and expectation of a reaction following the new high records established on Saturday. The close was barely steady and from 9 to 17 points net lower.

The market opened easy at a decline of 13 to 18 points, owing to the relatively weak cables. Over-Sunday buying caused some irregularity right after the call and a rally of 7 to 8 points occurred during the first few minutes, but the market eased off again as soon as these orders had been executed, and late in the afternoon sold about 15 to 19 points net lower. This decline reflected a good deal of scattered realizing, as well as considerable selling by uptown and Waldorf interests, while there also appeared to be a good deal of local pressure, which may have been encouraged by rather better weather than expected over Sunday and more favorable early reports from the flood situation in the Mississippi valley. The market met a good deal of support from trade interests on a scale down, and during the early afternoon rallied several points on the demand from this source and covering of early sellers, who seemed to be influenced by unfavorable weather reports from the Mississippi valley and private wires from Vicksburg, claiming that heavy rains had caused additional overflows. The bulge from the early low point carried prices up to within 6 or 10 points of Saturday's closing figures, but the close was 3 or 4 points off from the best under continued scattering liquidation, particularly of the near months. Liverpool attributed the decline there to heavy continental selling and freer offerings of actual from the south.

Cotton spot closed quiet, 10 points lower; middling uplands, 11.55; do. gulf, 11.80; sales, 200 bales.

New Orleans Cotton.

New Orleans, April 15.—Spot cotton quiet, unchanged; sales on the spot, 360 bales; to arrive, 100; middling, 11 9-16; low ordinary, 8¼, nominal; ordinary, 8 15-16, nominal; good ordinary, 10⅛; strict good ordinary, 10⅝; low middling, 11 1-16; strict low middling, 11 5-6; middling, 11 9-16; strict middling, 11¾; good middling, 12¼; strict good middling, 12 5-16; middling, 12⅛; strict middling fair, 12⅝, nominal; middling fair to fair, 13, nominal; fair, 13⅝, nominal; receipts, 3,198; stock, 117,206.

Cotton futures opened steady at a decline of 8 to 12 points, on poor cables and somewhat better weather in the cotton belt than looked for. The map noted scattered rains in the eastern half of the cotton region, but the western half was dry and the forecast promised continued dry weather in that portion. Short selling was moderate in volume, however, because of the floods in the middle belt. This was the sustaining influence of the morning. At the end of the first half hour of business prices were 8 to 9 points down.

The market was dull and rather featureless throughout the morning session. Longs took profits at every opportunity and more than supplied the demand, except the middle of the morning, when the buying of covers by scalping shorts run prices of the most active months up to within 2 to 3 points of Saturday's close. Later the market fell off again and probably would have displayed decided weakness but for river news. Liverpool messages were bearish and claimed that the English market was beginning to act tired. At noon prices were 8 to 10 points under Saturday's final quotations.

In the afternoon session, the market was quiet but steady. At 2 o'clock prices were unchanged to 1 point up, compared with the close of Saturday.

The market closed steady at a net decline of 1 to 3 points.

Cotton Seed Oil.

New York, April 15.—Cotton seed oil was higher early on covering of shorts and speculative buying, inspired by the strength of crude markets and lard, but during the late session, prices had a sharp break under heavy profit-taking, selling by refiners and liquidation by weak longs. Sales totalled 28,900 barrels. Futures closed 1 point higher for May and 1@7 lower for later months.

Hubbard Bros. & Co.

New York, April 15.—The temper of the market was reversed today and liquidation became general with an absence of buyers that was somewhat ominous. Cables were poor, foreign selling large and Liverpool apparently overbought. The smaller local longs seemed anxious to sell and with the halting of the advance room traders, were inclined to be aggressive. Rumors were extant that the large interests had been well closed and prices showed little rallying power. The weather map was good and flood news less alarming. Spot markets were strong as a rule, but are expected to weaken with continued good weather. The trade is inclined to view the present level of prices more cautiously than

ANOTHER ADVANCE MOVE IN STOCKS

American Can Most Prominent, Making Heavy Gains.

New York, April 15.—Regardless of a variety of developments, some of them distinctly unfavorable, the stock market today made another very decided move in the direction of high prices. In the initial dealings it followed London's lead by registering many declines of 1 to 2 points and in a few isolated cases the fall was greater. Marked weakness was shown by the preferred shares and the bonds of the International Mercantile Marine Company, one of whose leading subsidiaries is owner of the steamship Titanic.

The selling movement met with prompt support in the shape of buying orders which soon effaced a great majority of losses and in some cases brought the level well above Saturday's close. By midday the movement gathered greater impetus, with higher records for American Can, common and preferred. In fact dealings in these shares constituted one of the conspicuous features of the day, both by reason of their activity and gains. The preferred stocks closed with a net advance of 5⅛ points, while the common was up 4⅞. There was a disposition in conservative quarters to view the movement in Cans with some concern, but that feeling evidently was not shared by the professional element, which had the market well in hand and impelled further short covering.

The strength of United States Steel issues was another prominent feature, the common stock leading the entire list in its customary manner and scoring a net rise of 1½ points. The resiliency of this security was something of a surprise to some of the room traders, in belief that their earnings for the quarter just ended would probably fall short of dividend requirements. The annual meeting of the shareholders was held today, but aside from the report of the special committee appointed to inquire into the corporation's treatment of its laborers the proceedings were of a perfunctory character.

Copper shares, more particularly Amalgamated Copper, also took a leading place in the day's operations. Directors of the company are scheduled to meet some day this week and the financial district of the opinion that an increase in the present rate of dividend will be declared.

Harriman and Hill stocks, as well as other standard issues, participated in the all-round advance, as did also many specialties, some of the latter rising from 2 to 5 points. In the late afternoon business slackened materially, but without impairment of quoted values. Some of the day's highest prices were quoted in that period, the list showed no inability to absorb the day's heavy offerings. The closing was active, with prices at or within fractions of the very top, a late spurt in New York Central and Union Pacific being the especial feature.

London was a seller here at the opening, but later bought moderate amounts of steel, Amalgamated Copper, the Harrimans and Eries.

Time money worked lower here and call money was easier. Some encouragement was found in last Saturday's bank statement, which resulted in a very considerable strengthening of local reserves.

Another small shipment of gold to South America, probably for London account, and subtreasury withdrawals to New Orleans, were among the incidents of the day in the money market.

Railroad officials reported improvements in traffic conditions in the west, but in southern and southwestern territories the floods continue to work hardship. Unfavorable crop advices were received from Indiana and Ohio.

Bonds were irregular, but later hardened with the rise in stocks. Total sales, par value, $2,381,000. United States government bonds unchanged on call.

London Stock Market.

London, April 15.—American securities opened weak today. Realizing depressed prices during the first hour. At noon the tone was weak and values ranged from unchanged to 1¼ points lower than Saturday's New York closing. Canadian Pacific was strong at an advance of 3 points. In the afternoon, the market rallied smartly under the lead of Amalgamated Copper, United States Steel and Union Pacific. The close was firm.

LATEST REPORTS FROM ALL THE MARKETS

DRAWN BATTLE IN WHEAT MARKET

Wheat Opened Higher, Then Fell Again—Closed at Advance.

Chicago, April 15.—It was a drawn battle today in wheat. Sales were far into the millions, and the market, time and time again, dashed up and down as much as from ⅞ below to 1¼ cents above the latest figures of forty-eight hours before. It was said the largest owner of wheat in Chicago had unloaded the great bulk of his holdings. Corn finished further apart even than wheat, varying from 1¾ cents off to 1⅝ cents advance as compared with Saturday night. Oats showed a net decline of ⅞@1 to 1¼@1⅜, and provisions a rise of 5 cents to 12½ cents.

The wheat market opened today at the highest prices of the year, surpassed these before noon, saw a smash of two cents in the last hour and yet remained on an average well above the record-breaking prices of last week, especially for May, the delivery nearest related to the biggest store of soft winter wheat in the world. It is this sort of grain that is most plentiful in Chicago elevators and that has suffered worst in the damage represented as having been inflicted on the crop planted last fall. Notwithstanding the evidence of wheat in unlimited amounts being thrown on the market, speculators of all kinds bought with undaunted confidence. The damage reports were just as calamitous and much more specific than on previous days since the scare began. Furthermore, many of the details had been verified by board members who had made personal investigation over Sunday. All else in the minds of traders who took the bull side was subordinate to crop damage summed up in Ohio, Indiana and Illinois dispatches that told of barren fields. Between the opening and the close, May wheat fluctuated from $1.07½ to $1.11¾, with final sales 1¼ cent net higher, but flat at $1.11. Other options were left at a dwindling scale from ⅛ cent above to ⅞ cent beneath the wind-up of the preceding week.

Corn closed at the bottom figures of the session. The largest cash offerings that have been seen for some time came from the country and counted against the market. Prospects of many wheat fields being planted with corn had also a decided influence in favor of the bears. Besides, the southwest, which has been leading the advance, showed the first important reaction. July ranged from 77¼ to 79 cents, closing weak 1⅝@1¾ cents down at 77¼ cents. Cash grades were depressed. No. 2 yellow was quoted at 79½@80.

The frequently recurring reports from wheat territory that fields were being or would be seeded to oats had a weakening effect on prices of the fodder cereal. Numerous large owners sold out. Commission houses, nevertheless, absorbed the entire floating supply. Outside limits reached for July were 55¼ and 54¼ with the close at the last named figures, a decline of ⅞@1 cent net.

Provisions ascended, as a result of higher prices for hogs. Shorts covered, and in particular a leading packer. The greatest advance was in lard.

LUMBER TALKS

No. 168

By CY PRESS.

These periodical "talks" about E. G. WILLINGHAM'S SONS' LUMBER Business, do not "hawk" prices, or "cry" bargains.

The buying, manufacturing and selling of LUMBER does not enjoy the latitude and licenses of the department store bargain counter.

LUMBER is LUMBER—just as much so as "wheat is wheat" or "cotton is cotton" and "steel is steel." There are immutable standards governing the prices of LUMBER.

E. G. WILLINGHAM'S SONS can not announce in big, bold, black figures that they will sell "heart sound" LUMBER worth $2.50 per hundred (just as an instance) for $1.98. Department stores can advertise ladies' Waists worth $2.50 for $1.98 and "get away with it"—but no such excitement exists in the LUMBER business. The only "bargain" E. G. WILLINGHAM'S SONS can offer is the ECONOMY they produce in the systematic daily management of a great big thoroughly organized and departmentized manufactory; and splendidly facilitated arrangement in their yards for receiving and shipping LUMBER. These features, together with an unlimited buying power, that also produces sharp economies in big purchases, gives them a "grip" on the LUMBER situation that constantly favors their customers in getting the HIGHEST QUALITY STOCK AT THE LOWEST CONSISTENT PRICES.

UNTOLD RICHES ON THE TITANIC

he is also president. His fortune is estimated at $95,000,000. His wife, whose name does not appear on the passenger list, is a daughter of James Seligman, the New York banker.

George D. Widener is the son of P. A. B. Widener, the Philadelphia "traction king," whose fortune is estimated at $50,000,000.

Isador Straus on Board.

Isador Straus, one of New York's most prominent dry goods merchants, and notable for his philanthropies, has a fortune estimated to be worth $50,000,000. He is a director in various banks, trust companies and charitable institutions.

J. Bruce Ismay, president and one of the founders of the International Mercantile Marine, who has always made it a custom to be a passenger on the maiden trip of every new ship built by the company, is said to be worth $40,000,000. It was Mr. Ismay who, with J. P. Morgan, consolidated American and British steamship lines under the International Mercantile control.

Brooklyn Bridge Roebling.

Colonel Washington Roebling, builder of the Brooklyn bridge, president and director of John A. Roebling's Sons Company, is credited with a fortune of $25,000,000.

Among others of reputed wealth who were on board are J. P. Thayer, vice president of the Pennsylvania railroad; Clarence Moore, a well-known sportsman, whose wife was Mabel Swift, daughter of E. C. Swift, the Chicago meat packer, and Charles M. Hays, president of the Grand Trunk Pacific and vice president and general manager of the Grand Trunk railroad of Canada.

W. T. Stead and Jacques Futrelle.

Other persons of note on the first cabin list are W. T. Stead, writer, journalist and war correspondent; Jacques Futrelle, the short-story writer; Frederick M. Hoyt, a well-known New York yachtsman; Henry Sleeper Harper, grandson of John Wesley Harper, one of the founders of Harper Brothers' publishing house; William E. Carter, of Philadelphia and Newport, and Thomas Pears, a Pittsburg steel manufacturer.

In addition to a valuable shipment of diamonds aboard the Titanic, it is said that, among almost priceless jewels carried by the passengers, are pearls belonging to an American woman valued at $600,000.

T. W. Cavindish, of England, with his American wife, who is the daughter of Henry Siegel, the New York merchant, were first cabin passengers.

St. Louis People Aboard.

Christopher Head is a London barrister and son of the senior member of the firm of Lloyds Underwriters. Mrs. Edward S. Robert is from St. Louis, as also are Miss E. W. Allen and Theophile Papin, Jr. Mr. Papin is noted as an art connoisseur.

Paul Chevre, the well-known French sculptor, who made the Champlain monument, was in the first cabin on his way to Canada to complete the Mercier memorial.

James Clinch Smith, a brother-in-law of the late Stanford White, is well known in New York society circles. He married Miss Bertha Barnes, of Chicago.

Bridal Couple Aboard.

Morgantown, W. Va., April 15.—Mr. and Mrs. Lucian Smith, of this city, were passengers on the Titanic. They were completing a honeymoon trip around the world. Mrs. Smith is a daughter of Congressman Huges, of West Virginia.

EVEN SURVIVORS OF TITANIC HAVE GONE THRO' HARDSHIPS

New York, April 15.—Even the survivors of the Titanic disaster have gone through hardships of exposure and peril which may have left many of them in a serious condition. A despatch given out at the White Star offices late tonight said that those rescued by the Carpathia were picked up from a "small fleet" of life boats at 10:30 o'clock Monday morning. It was eight hours before that that the Titanic is reported to have gone to the bottom.

In the opinion of Vice President Franklin the Carpathia will hasten with all possible speed to make this port, that those survivors suffering worse from exposure may obtain medical attention. The despatch accounted for 675 survivors on the Carpathia.

"AVERAGE ATLANTA HOME HAREM WITH ONE INMATE"

---Mrs. Charlie Blackland

"Nearly every married man in Atlanta get married because he wanted to have someone he could boss around. Atlanta men don't marry for love; they marry in order that they may have a slave. Slavery is said to be unlawful in America, but there are 20,000 slaves in Atlanta today," said Mrs. Charlie Blackland Monday afternoon while attending a session of the divorce court in the old city hall building. Mrs. Blackland obtained a divorce two years ago, but her views on matrimony have not changed, and the advice she gave her friend who was obtaining a last decree was earnest.

"It seems to me that there's something in the atmosphere of this city that makes men brutes," she asserted vigorously. "They're all honey and sugar before marriage, and all brutes and terrors from the bridal day on. A woman doesn't have a chance. All men are alike, too, under the skin. A natural woman likes to have a man strong and masterful, but she does not want him to be overbearing and absolutely unthoughtful.

"If the women of Atlanta would assert their independence there would not be so many divorce suits filed in Fulton county. Every day the records show that four or five suits are filed, and most of them are by women. That proves my statement. I'm not a suffragette, and never will be. I don't think women should vote, but I do think they should be allowed more freedom than they have now.

"The average Atlanta home is a harem with but one inmate. There the wife is forced to spend her best years, practically alone and unfriended, while outside her husband is allowed all the freedom and privilege he desires. That's one reason married life in this city is so hard. The men are too gay. Club life and like attractions are much more pleasant to the Atlanta married man than are his home, children and wife.

"Married life in Atlanta is the same thing as Sherman's idea of war!"

MAN KILLED BY LIGHTNING; WIFE AND CHILD SHOCKED

Henry Chadwick, an engineer with the Hapeville cotton mills, was killed instantly by a bolt of lightning yesterday, and his wife and 4-year-old child, standing beside him, were rendered unconscious for several hours.

Chadwick died within a few seconds after he was struck. Mrs. Chadwick and her child were resuscitated after being carried to their home in Hapeville. They will suffer no serious injuries.

Chadwick was standing with his wife and child in the doorway to the engine room at the cotton mills. All three were watching the severe rain which fell about 5:30 o'clock in the afternoon, when suddenly a streak of flame enveloped man, woman and child, and they fell to the floor. Several employees of the mills, who witnessed the accident, rushed to their aid, but Chadwick died immediately.

Mrs. Chadwick and daughter were removed to their home. The body of the dead man was carried to Poole's undertaking establishment, and the funeral arrangements will be announced later.

Chadwick was 44 years old. He is survived by his wife and four children. He was a member of Fulton County Lodge of Odd Fellows, which will have charge of his funeral and burial services.

DEATH BED OF THE TITANIC AT LEAST 2 MILES UNDER WATER

Halifax, N. S., April 15.—The death bed of the $10,000,000 steamer Titanic and of probably many persons who must have been dragged with her is two miles at least below the surface of the sea.

The calculation was made by an official of the government marine department who finds that depth on the marine chart at a point about 500 miles from Halifax and about 70 miles south of the Grand Banks where he believes the Titanic went down.

This location is midway between Sable Island and Cape Race and in line with those dangerous sands which, however, might have proved a place of safety had there been time to run the Titanic there and beach her.

The Canadian warship Niobe which has one of the most powerful wireless equipments of any vessel in this vicinity was unable to get in touch with any of the ships in the vicinity of the Titanic disaster and the government station at Camperdown heard only fragmentary parts of messages.

Lloyds' agents here had not received late tonight any official notification of the loss of the Titanic.

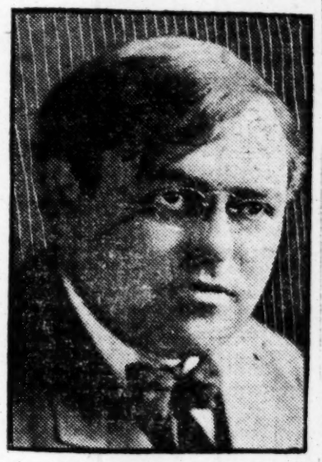

GEORGIANS ARE PASSENGERS ON THE ILL-FATED TITANIC

When the monster ship Titanic went to the bottom Monday morning, three prominent former Georgians were on board, while the mother of an Atlanta man was also occupying a suite from Southampton to New York. Mr. and Mrs. Jacques Futrelle, Major Archie Butt and Mrs. William Bucknell were all passengers.

Major Archie Butt, whose old home is in Augusta, is best known of the party. His position as military attache at the white house and his exceptionally brilliant accomplishments have made of him a national figure almost as well known as any man living in the United States today. He is a native Georgian, and, though he has lived in Washington a number of years, he has visited his native state a number of times. When he visited Atlanta several years ago he was extensively entertained, and his departure was viewed with regret by all. He is an all-round athlete, a popular figure in society, and withal a good soldier. The announcement of his engagement was to follow his return to Washington, it was whispered.

Futrelles Are Well Known.

Both Jacques Futrelle and his wife, formerly Miss May Peel, of Atlanta, are best known in Atlanta, where they made their home for a number of years.

JACQUES FUTRELLE.

As a writer, Jacques Futrelle has made a distinct reputation during the past few years, and his long story appearing in The Saturday Evening Post, "The High Hand," was widely read. One of his best-known works is "Elusive Isabel." Mrs. Futrelle is also an author, her "Simple Case of Susan" attracting much attention.

Mrs. Futrelle was a native Atlantan, and her brother, J. T. Peel, is lieutenant in No. 11 engine house. John Futrelle, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacques Futrelle, is in Atlanta now, living with his grandmother, at 54 West Fourth street. The other child, a girl, is in school at Notre Dame, and does not know that her parents are in danger.

The Futrelles had been in a number of European cities, going there immediately upon their departure from Atlanta shortly after the Christmas holidays. They had intended returning to Atlanta on the same ship upon which they went over, the Adriatic, but the novelty of sailing upon a record-size liner making its first voyage proved too strong for them, and they cut short their stay in England eight days in order to sail on the ill-fated vessel. They had intended going to their summer home at Scituate, Mass., immediately upon arriving in America.

Was Returning From Italy.

Mrs. William Bucknell is the mother of Howard Bucknell, of 671 Piedmont avenue, Atlanta. She was the wife of one of the leading capitalists of Philadelphia, and was prominent in society there. She is the mother of the Countess Pecorini, of Rome, Italy, whom she had been visiting; of Mrs. S. B. Wetherall, Jr., of Philadelphia, and Mrs. Dr. C. H. Judd, of Detroit.

She is known for her literary attainments, and is also an enthusiastic collector of pictures and other works of art, her collection being one of the best in Philadelphia. She herself is the author of a number of stories. Her husband, who died some twenty years ago, was a power in Philadelphia financial circles.

Mrs. Bucknell is widely and pleasantly known in Atlanta, where she has visited her son a number of times. Her return from Italy was because she wished to attend the next graduating exercises of the Atlanta College of Physicians and Surgeons, when her son will receive his diploma. Howard Bucknell has been a resident of Atlanta for four years, and both he and his wife have many friends in the city. He endowed Bucknell university at Louisburg, Pa., and that college was named for him. Atlanta is his winter home, as he spends his summers with his mother in the Adirondacks.

Colossal New Steamer for North German Lloyd

A new $10,000,000 steamship, larger and more luxurious even than the monster, "George Washington," has just been contracted for by the North German Lloyd, according to a cable received by the general agents of the company, Messrs. Oelrichs & Co.

The contract for the gigantic new ship was let to the Schichau Shipbuilding Co., of Danzig, Germany, and calls for the completion of the vessel not later than August, 1914.

The new steamer is for the London-Paris-Bremen service, and will have sufficient speed to make the trip with the scheduled certainty of an express train. It is planned to have the new vessel the speediest of the new type of ocean steamships.

A feature of the new steamer will be that every room will be equipped with bedsteads instead of berths.

The name of the new steamer has not yet been announced, but following the precedent set by the company in its latest ship, the "George Washington," it will probably be chosen from some of the illustrious men who have made American history.
